

AAUP Recommends Raises for Faculty

The executive committee of the University chapter of the American Association of University Professors has recommended a full salary raise that would make a professor's median salary double that of an instructor's.

The committee requested the salary schedule be adopted for the 1959-61 biennium budget.

LA Council Donates $100 To WUS

The Liberal Arts Student Council has voted to donate $100 to the World University Service. The money was to be used for a council banquet this spring.

Jacob Dentu, co-chairman of the WUS drive, spoke to council members on the work that WUS has done to help college students throughout the world since its origin in 1919. He pointed out that since the cost of tuition in an African college is approximately $900 a year, a donation of a dollar or two from every Penn State student, as well as from the various organizations, would enable several students to receive a college education.

National organizations of all denominations and creeds are taking part in this drive, such as the Newman Club, Hillel Foundation and several Protestant organizations, Dentu said.

The council's constitution was read at the meeting by President Louis Phillips. This is done after every election so as to acquaint the newly-elected members with the by-laws.

Leonard Julius proposed tentative plans for an orientation week program. This program will include freshman counseling by the council members, talks by faculty members on the various curricula offered by the college and a mixer for all new liberal arts students as well as council members and faculty.

Traffic Court Fines Violators

Twenty-nine students have been fined $158 by Traffic Court for illegal parking, registration sticker not being displayed, and failure to report to the campus patrol office.

Eight of the fines were automatic because of failure to appear before the court. Fines totaling $82 were placed in suspension and 12 cases were dismissed.

One student was found guilty of his fifth violation and will have his vehicle sent home for 16 weeks. Two students were found guilty of their fourth violation and will lose their campus driving privileges for 60 days.

Student Admits Driving Charge

A University junior has pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of alcohol in a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Guy G. Mills.

William Kern Jr., junior in chemical engineering from Slatington, was arrested April 20 by State College police. Kern was bound over to the Centre County Court after he paid a $200 bond for bail.

Kern apparently had fallen asleep while driving to State College from Bellefonte and had ripped the oil pan loose. He was noticed by police when they saw sparks flying from the oil pan, Mills said.

Black Moshannon, Whipples Approved for Fraternities

The dean of men's office has approved the use of Black Moshannon and Whipples State Parks for parties over weekends, providing the groups promise that no alcoholic beverages will be consumed.

All fraternities planning parties outside their fraternities must have the functions registered and approved by the dean of men's office, O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men, said.

Pollock said University-owned facilities and cabins are approved for use by groups and that all other sites outside of the fraternity houses must receive approval from his office. Fraternities are required to fill out special event notices at all times, Pollock said. Pollock said he is reluctant to approve the use of Poe Paddy State Park as a site because of inaccessibility of the area. It is 10 miles from a paved highway and it would be difficult to enter in case of an emergency, he said.

The social event notices are to be filled out in triplicate. One copy goes to the dean of women's office, one to the dean of men's office, and the third to the fraternity member filing.

Dr. E. Willard Miller, AAUP president and professor of geography, said the new salary setup would "keep the University in line with other universities in the country."

Miller said the recommending of a new salary schedule is usual policy of the AAUP as a service to the University trustees for the budget request to the legislature.

The recommended schedule is as follows:

Instructors: 10 months, $4,800 minimum, $6,199 maximum; 12 months, $5,600 minimum, $7,229 maximum.

Assistant professors: 10 months, $6,200 minimum, $7,799 maximum; 12 months, $7,230 minimum, $9,099 maximum.

Associate professor: 10 months, $7,800 minimum, $9,599 maximum; 12 months, $9,100 minimum, $11,199 maximum.

Professors: 10 months, $9,600 minimum, no maximum; 12 months, $11,200 minimum, no maximum.

Russian Bloc Educational TV Seen Possible

Dr. Clarence R. Carpenter, professor of psychology and director for instructional research, has said it would be technically possible for Russia to blanket one-third to one-half of the Communist bloc nations with educational television programs, according to the Associated Press.

Carpenter told a Senate Commerce subcommittee that he studied the economics of Russia for a year as an Air Force reserve officer.

The subcommittee concluded two days of hearings on proposed legislation to provide each state with $1 million in grants for educational TV facilities.

"Our nation is singularly fortunate: precisely at this time when we are confronted with an imperative need to educate large and increasing numbers of students, to teach more and more information and to train millions of students to higher levels of special proficiency, we find that the communication fields can supply the means and considerable background of knowledge for accomplishing these tasks," Carpenter said.
