Lions Clout Gettysburg In 7-3 Win

By LOU PRATO
Collegian Sports Editor

Five Major League scouts were at Beaver Field yesterday afternoon to scrutinize the pitching wares of Gettysburg's highly-rated Jack McCracken. They should have stayed home.

For instead of a fine pitching performance by McCracken (as a movie script would have called for) the scouts saw Penn State's baseball team stop Gettysburg's hot winning streak with a 7-3 victory.

But the Lions aren't ones to rest on their laurels, and will be playing again this afternoon when West Virginia visits Beaver Field. Game time is 2:30 o'clock.

McCracken looked like a pretty fancy hurler for about 1 1/2 innings, retiring five of the first six men he faced. But then the trouble began. First, he issued a couple of walks; and then the Lion batters began to find the hitting range. And finally, after 5 1/2 frames had gone by, McCracken was lifted after giving up seven runs and seven hits—three of them for extra bases.

While McCracken was finding the going rough, his mound foe, Ron Riese, was having a relatively easy time. Riese, who was making only his second start of the year after a term as the Lions' relief ace, went the distance and was in serious trouble only once. That was in the third stanza when the Greyhounds erupted for all of their tallies with four straight hits.

Actually, the Gettysburg gang should have never scored. Two men were down when the Greyhounds rapped three successive singles to load the sacks. Then Larry Bream, Gettysburg's cleanup batter, smashed a fly ball to right center which fell in for a three-run double when the Lion outfielders got their signals crossed.

Riese fanned seven men on his way to his second victory and passed only two. Both of those walks (Riese's second and third of the year) came with two outs in the ninth.

Slugging Ron Rainey was the batting star for the Lions with a double and two singles in five trips to the plate, driving in three runs to raise his team-leading total to 16. He would have had a couple more RBI's and another hit if he hadn't been "robbed" by Gettysburg shortstop Gerry Long on a sizzling low-hanging line drive.

The Greyhounds scored first with their three-run outburst in the top of the third. But the Lions came back in their half of that inning with two tallies on walks to Bob Hoover and Chuck Caldwell. Rainey's two-bagger (which should have been a triple except that Rainey had to go back and touch first base), and a double steal by Rainey and Caldwell.

Two more runs followed in the fourth. With one down, the

Fogg Adjusts Net Lineup For Match With Lehigh

By BEN BRONSTEIN

Tennis Coach Sherm Fogg is throwing a juggled lineup at visiting Lehigh at 1:30 p.m. today on the Beaver Field courts in an effort to find a winning combination.

The Lions have lost two straight, the last one being Wednesday to Penn for the 16th consecutive time (contrary to the erroneous statement printed Thursday that the Lions had lost to the Quakers for the first time in 16 years)

The Lions are now 2-3 for the season while the Engineers were 4-2 with two more matches to play at last report.

The Engineers, led by two men whom Fogg calls the two best in Pennsylvania—Captain Bill Scarlett and sophomore sensation Lowell Latshaw—lost their first two matches by 5-4 scores. They recovered to win the next three by 9-0 shutouts and the fourth by a 6-3 score over Gettysburg.

Lion Captain Fred Trust will stay in his usual top spot to battle Scarlett, defending Middle Atlantic singles champion. Trust fell to the same foe last year, 2-6, 8-10, in the Lions' 8-1 loss.

The first of the juggling will occur on court number two where Chuck Questa will exchange with Charlie Bibleheimer and meet the spectacular Latshaw. Questa, State's stead-iest competitor to date, will meet a youngster with a very impressive amateur background.

Latshaw, according to Lehigh University publicity releases, has captured more than 30 junior men's championships in Eastern amateur play.

Bibleheimer will meet Jack Wright, who conquered Questa last year, 10-8, 8-6.

In a second position exchange Dick Jacobs moves up to the fourth spot while Gene Flick, the Lions' only winner at Penn, drops to number five. Mel Royer, the Lion rookie, will play in his usual number six spot after being idle at Penn in singles action.

Fogg will play his usual duos of Trust and Questa, Bibleheimer and Flick, and Royer and Jacobs unless the team match is lost in singles play. He probably will experiment with other combinations. (Continued on page eight)

Would you call this fair play?

Umpire gives "Visitors" a special advantage by tagging out a "Home" team runner at the plate. "Home" team has to play by the regular rules. Would you call this fair play?

Hardly—yet you and most Americans face that same kind of unfairness all the time with some of your taxes.

About 23 cents out of every dollar you pay for electricity goes for taxes. But because of present tax laws, several million families and businesses escape paying most of the taxes in their electric bills that you pay in yours. They are people whose electricity comes from federal government systems.

And you have to help make up the taxes they escape.

Most Americans think everyone should pay his fair share of taxes. Don't you agree?

Unbeaten Lion Golfers Face Strong Pitt Squad; Seek 7th

By LARRY JACOBSON

The unbeaten Nittany Lion golf team roared into Pittsburgh today determined to make the Pitt Panthers victim number 7.

But winning may not be that easy. The Panthers are rated among the best in the East with a 4-1 log, losing only to a powerful Navy squad, 5-2. And if comparative matches are any gauge, the Lion linksmen have their work cut out for them.

Coach Joe Boyle's squad barely eked out a 4-3 win over Georgetown Wednesday, a team that Pitt toppled, 5-2. In addition, three Lion golfers lost to Hoya players that were in turn beaten by Pitt.

Pitt Coach Bud Gaskill will start Ron Schwarzel against Lion Captain Pat Reilly (3-3). Schwarzel, a junior, is considered by many as good pro material when he graduates. He's won 12 of his last 13 matches in dual competition.

Reilly's brother, Bill (captain of the Pitt squad), will tee off second against Bill Davidson who will be looking for his sixth win in seven starts. Five-foot-two Johnny Felus will start for the Lions in the third slot against Panther Bob White. Felus, playing better golf as the season progresses, will go after his fifth win in seven starts.

Wade Hersperger and Bob Hixson, rated as two of Pitt's better linksmen, will tee off in the fourth and fifth spots. Hersperger will face Lion Bob Bainbridge (5-1), while Hixson will meet Charlie Decker, one of the hottest Lion aspirin pounders of late. Decker has a 5-1 season log.

Boyle will start his only undefeated players in the last two posts: Roy Altman and Scott Stultz. The duo will be after their seventh wins against Dave Brown and Tom Treese respectively.

PUTTING AROUND: Boyle speculated that the Pitt match would be one of the toughest this season. A solid win would cement the Lions as one of the East's top teams.

Bill Davidson has the strategy set for Bill Reilly. Reilly is known for his hot temper. Said Davidson: "I'm going to give him the 'silent treatment'. I just won't talk to him. He'll hate me, but he's not going to drive me nuts. I'll drive him batty. Bill's brother, Pat, has said the only way to play with Bill is just ignore his outbursts."
