Shovel--

Harold W. Perkins, associate dean of men, said yesterday that his office is investigating the case but will withhold any action against the students until they have been tried in order not to prejudice the court. They will be tried May 19.

Police said the four commandeered the back hoe about 4:30 a.m. Sunday. Clarence Jackson, superintendent of the State College Borough Authority, which is installing a water main in the area, said the damage to the shovel was done when two levers were pulled in an attempt to make the machine operate in two directions at once. The result was that the boom and shovel were left sticking straight up into the

Other opponents of the bill called it an insult to the president's integrity, and said it would leave the president in an inflexible position on Cabinet, unable to change his vote if new material or facts were brought into the open on any particular question.

Eng Council to Meet Tonight

The Engineering and Architecture Student Council will meet at 7 tonight in 212 Hetzel Union building.

Independents to Hold First Encampment

The Independent Retreat, the first independent encampment, has been set for September 13 at the Forestry Cabin in Stone Valley.

The one-day meeting will consist of six workshops.

Finance, student government, student welfare, Association of Independent Men-Leonides coordination, public relations and social and recreational problems will be discussed at the workshops.

Seventy people will attend the one-day encampment. Among them will be 22 faculty members, 30 to 35 students by appointment, because of position and 15 to 20 students by interview.

Three problems definitely scheduled for discussion by the group are: a seat for the Town Independent Men on All-University Cabinet, the possibility of an independent newsletter, and better social and recreational facilities for independent students. Special emphasis will be given to freshmen recreational facilities because of the new Interfraternity Council regulations for deferred rushing.

David Deizer, William Wamhold and the six workshop chairmen will conduct the interviews to fill the open positions. Independent students interested in attending the encampment may obtain applications at the Hetzel Union desk until Thursday.

Reports and recommendations of the retreat will be sent to AIM and Leonides for discussion. Any applicable recommendation also will be sent to All-University Cabinet.

The Independent Retreat has no connection with the Student Encampment scheduled for the Mount Alto Center September 4 through 6.

Coeds Violate Bermuda Laws

Many coeds have been reported violating the Women's Student Government Association ruling on bermuda shorts, especially in the residence hall dining rooms, according to Audrey Jersun, WS-GA judicial chairman.

Miss Jersun said bermudas may be worn in the dining rooms only during finals when they may be worn at all meals except the Sunday noon meal.

Bermudas may not be worn in residence hall lounges, but may be worn while passing through the lobby and in the recreation room. They are not permitted in administrative offices.
