

Lions' Forward Wall Should Be Scrappy—Engle

"From all indications, we're going to have a real tough and scrappy line this fall," grid coach Rip Engle opined yesterday when questioned about his 1958 forward wall.

"Of course we're basing our judgment on what we've seen in scoring practice," he added, "but that is usually a good measuring stick. Those boys have been giving it all they have in practice. Their morale is tremendous."

The Lion master was a little hesitant in talking about specific players but he had a good reason. "If we don't mention a boy's name, Engle explained, "he thinks we're not paying attention to him. Then he gets discouraged and quits. We've lost a couple of fine prospects before on account of that."

However, Engle did mention some of the players that have been particularly impressive this spring. And one of the men he named was mammoth Maury Schleicher, the ex-fullback who is being converted to an end. "Schleicher is working real hard in his new position and looks pretty good. Of course he still needs a lot of work offensively, but we feel that he's coming around."

As for the end corps in general, Engle had this to say: "We've been encouraged with them so far, but we're far from being satisfied. We lost five good boys, remember, and they'll be hard to replace."

(John) Bozick, (Norm) Neff and (Stu) Barber have been the most impressive at the ends. Neff will be missing from Saturday's game, though, because of illness. He's in the hospital and the doctors think he might have appendicitis."

In the tackle department, Engle praised the performances of veterans Joe Bohart and Andy Stynchula and Chuck Jannerette, a non-lettered returnee. "They've been doing a real fine job," he said.

Bohart, a senior, was the regular right tackle last season and Stynchula saw time with the second alignment. But with last year's regular left tackle, Bill Whemer switched to guard, Stynchula has moved into the number one left tackle spot.

Veterans Chuck Ruslavage (last year's first team center), Bud Kohlhas, Sam Stellatella and Willard Smith and juniors Danny Maddigan and Frank Korbini were the most prominent guards mentioned.

"At center," Engle continued, "(Steve) Garban (the Lion captain) has been outstanding, and (Dick) Wilson (the transfer from the Citadel) hasn't been far behind." Engle also mentioned the progress of Ed Romigh and Charlie Vogel song at the pivot post. Romigh is a converted tackle while Vogel song was the frosh anchorman last fall.

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels — a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No" answers mean you better get on to Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco gives you the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!
