

Cutler Will Direct General Education

Dr. Howard A. Cutler, professor and head of the Department of Economics, has been named assistant to the vice president for academic affairs and director of general education, effective July 1.

Cutler, who served during the past year as coordinator of the general education program, has resigned as head of the economics department. He will continue as professor of economics.

The Board of Trustees Executive Committee has approved the appointment of Dr. Monroe Newman, associate professor of economics, to succeed Cutler as head of the department.

Lawrence E. Dennis, vice president for academic affairs, explained that Cutler will assist in planning educational policy with specific responsibility for coordinating general education courses, the Army, Air Force and Navy ROTC programs, undergraduate area studies, honors programs and other inter-college instructional projects.

Cutler will be responsible for implementing policies approved by the Senate and the Administrative Committee on Procedures, Dennis said.

Cutler became a faculty member in 1951 and has been head of the economics department since it became part of the College of Business Administration in 1953.

Cutler is a graduate of Iowa State University, where he also received his master of arts degree in economics and commerce.

He received a doctor of philosophy degree from Columbia University and has completed further

Dr. Howard A. Cutler, new special assistant to the President for academic affairs graduate work at Harvard University and the University of Minnesota.

Cutler was assistant to the dean of the College of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of Illinois before coming to the University.

Walker To Back Series Of Lectures

By Bonnie Jones
President Eric A. Walker told members of an All-University Cabinet committee he would attempt to find University financial backing for a Lecture Series, it was reported to Cabinet last night.

The series would bring prominent speakers of the caliber of Charles Laughton and Eleanor Roosevelt to campus next year.

Walker said, "I'll find the money somewhere," according to Riley Johnson, Lecture Series committee chairman.

The Lecture Series moved toward becoming a reality when Cabinet unanimously approved the committee's recommendation that such a series be established.

Johnson asked that a Cabinet-appointed committee of six students and six faculty members be set up to organize the Series as soon as possible so that speakers may be selected in the fall.

The committee would draw up a first-year list of four speakers and alternate and the cost of each speaker which would be approved by Cabinet and then sent to the president's office for financial support.

Johnson said results of an opinion poll of 250 students selected at random from five colleges showed a willingness to give up time to hear a public figure such as Laughton.

The committee recommended that admission should be free to students.

Student Pastor to Speak

The Rev. Arthur L. Ruths, Lutheran student pastor, will speak at the Vesper Service at 4 p.m. today in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

IFC Will Sponsor 1-Day Encampment

The Interfraternity Council will sponsor a 1-day encampment during Orientation Week to discuss mutual problems concerning the 56 fraternities on campus.

Edward Hintz, IFC president, has appointed Robert Jubelirer, Beta Sigma Rho, as chairman. Tuesday, Sept. 9, has been set as the tentative date.

The encampment will be held at one of the University-owned cabins, probably the Forestry Cabin, Jubelirer said.

Approximately 80 people, including fraternity presidents, members of the IFC Board of Control, IFC committee chairmen and members of the fraternity affairs office will take part in the encampment.

Tentative topics to be discussed include deferred rushing, fraternity evaluation, Greek Week, the Interfraternity Council Purchasing Association and the proposed rushing code.

The encampment will be similar to the Student Encampment and the planned Independent Retreat. Final plans for the encampment will be made sometime next week when Jubelirer meets with O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs.

Hintz said he is quite optimistic about success of the encampment and said he felt much good can be gotten out of the 1-day session. It will also pinpoint some of the major topic of discussion that will be brought before the IFC at its meetings, Hintz said.

The proposed IFC encampment will have no connection with the Student Encampment, which will be held Sept. 4, 5 and 6 at the Mount Alto Forestry School.

Senior Class Gift

McComb Urges $10,000 Be Donated to Library

By DIANE DIECK
Fourth of a Series

Speaking of the Pattee Library's need for the $10,000 senior class gift, Ralph W. McComb, University librarian, said, "Compared to other colleges and universities of comparable size, our library has many weaknesses."

In contrast to the University of Pennsylvania, University of Illinois, Harvard and Yale, which boast extensive library collections, Penn State's "is lacking in overall depth." "None of our collections are adequate," McComb added.

"We can be proud of our collections in specific fields. Liberal arts, mathematics and the chemical-physical collections are excellent," McComb judged. "Our greatest need is in the research field," he said.

"A lasting contribution to the library could best be provided by a purchase of rare books, manuscripts, special collections or a graphic arts collection," McComb said when questioned as to what could be done with the $10,000 gift.

Last year's class voted the $10,000 gift to the library to purchase general reading materials to supplement courses.

"In view of last year's gift, it would be very appropriate to set further gifts apart for special collections in specialized areas to increase the scholarly resources of the library," McComb said.

In regard to the proposed student-operated photostat machines, as part of the library suggestion, McComb said, "These machines are not as simple to operate as their advocates think."

"The operation of the machine is not completely automatic. Chemical solutions and a paper supply are necessary. An operator would have to instruct students in the use of the machines," McComb explained.

Because of maintenance costs, the service would not be furnished gratis to students. Each page would cost 11 to 15 cents.

In summary, McComb stated, "I think the machines could be provided for in another way. I wouldn't like them in the library."

Mason Wins Seat On BusAd Council

Wayne Mason, sophomore in business administration from McKeesport, has been chosen at a special election to fill a junior seat on the Business Administration Student Council.

The special election broke a tie between Mason and William O'Neill which occurred in the regular council elections.

The council also has listed six possible speakers for Career Day next fall. They are Walter Reuther, George Meany, Robert Kennedy, Richard Nixon, Douglas MacArthur and Harlow Curtice.

POWER FOR PEACE

Have clubs

ever prevented war?

HISTORY SAYS: There's No Safety in Armaments

Admiral Radford states
"We must realize that the best way to win a future war is to prevent it.
We must realize that the threat of instant atomic retaliation will not prevent it, and may even invite it."

POWER FOR PEACE comes from

1. Food for the starving.
2. Technical assistance.
3. A strong U.N.
4. Disarmament
5. Faith, Humility, Love — not distrust, pride, hate.

"If we dedicate ourselves to a program of shared abundance, we may never again be called upon to dedicate our lives and our wealth to a program of shared disaster."
Rev. James L. Vizzard,
S. J. for Catholic Rural Life Conference
