

Nine Hosts Fearsome Lafayette

Baseballers Regain Form In Routing Quakers, 11-1

By LOU PRATO
Collegian Sports Editor

A victory over Lafayette today is a must if Penn State's baseball team wants to haul in that NCAA District 2 playoff berth.

The Lions, who regained their old form yesterday afternoon at Philadelphia with a 11-1 rout over Penn, tangle with the always-fearsome Leopards at 2:30 on Beaver Field.

Although the playoff committee won't meet until May 26 (its original May 19th conference was postponed), a win by either team today would do much to influence its final decision.

In the past few years, the winner of the State-Lafayette tilt has usually gone on to the playoffs and this year will probably be no different since both outfits rank among the best in the East.

The Leopards, who are favored to cop another Middle Atlantic conference title, will enter the tilt with a 14-5 mark. All five losses, however, have been by close scores.

Coach Joe Bedenk's gas-housers are 10-3 for the year after their slaughter over the Quakers. The Lions played like a completely different team yesterday than the one which dropped a 5-2 upset decision to Temple Wednesday.

extra-base blows—but even more important, was their ability to hit with men on base—something they didn't do in the Temple contest.

Chuck Caldwell, Gary Miller, Jack McMullen and Bob Hoover led the Lion stickwork. Caldwell and Miller had three hits apiece and McMullen and Hoover, two each. One of Caldwell's hits was a leadoff homer in the ninth. Miller, who had been in a three-game slump, batted in three runs with three singles, and McMullen tripled four men with a two-run par (68) when the bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Ron Riese went the distance for his fourth win of the year without a defeat. He had a shutout going until the ninth (Continued on page seven)

Undefeated Golfers Rock Colgate, 5-2

By LARRY JACOBSON

Colgate's upset-minded golf team had its dreams smashed yesterday when Penn State's red-hot undefeated squad racked up a 5-2 win on the Red Raider course.

The win was number eight for Coach Joe Boyle's linksmen, and the third loss in 15 matches for Colgate. The Lions travel to Ithaca, N.Y., today for a match with powerful Cornell.

Boyle revamped his line-up for the first time this season, based on performances during the recent Easter Intercollegiate journey, but the switch was only partially successful, as EIGA champion Bill Davidson and Charlie Decker lost to some sparkling below-par Colgate rounds.

But excellent golf was standard operating procedure for the entire Nittany squad.

Johnny Felus, in the number two slot, reached deep into his bag of tricks and came up with a 1 up, 20-hole comeback win. Felus was losing 3 down after 11 holes to Colgate's Steve Frantz, before he started his uphill climb. The win was Felus' fifth in eight matches.

Third and fourth men, captain Pat Reilly and Bob Bainbridge, were shooting par (68) when their matches ended. Reilly upended Red Raider Tony Earle, 4 and 3 for his fourth win against four losses, while Bainbridge was wallowing Paul Kessel, 6 and 4, for his seventh victory in eight starts.

Undefeated Scott Stultz, and Roy Altman played close to par as Stultz, in the sixth post, bested Terry Van Houten, 4 and 2, while Altman thumped Peter Liebschutz, 4 and 3. Stultz was credited with his eighth win; Altman racked up number seven against a single loss.

Both Lion losers played well. Decker shot a par 68 only to see Colgate's Lloyd Monroe bust par

Lion Cindermen Face Panthers In Final Home Meet Today

By MACK MacGAUGHAN

The Pittsburgh track team rolled into University Park this morning and will meet the Lions at 1 p.m. on the Beaver Field cinders.

According to Penn State's Coach Chick Werner, it should be a close meet right down to the wire.

Werner said: "We have it (the score) blocked out so that—barring any mishaps—we should win 66-65."

"If a man that we're counting on for a third place doesn't place, however, things could change," he added.

Lion 440 stars Dick Hambright and Jim Norton will find top notch competition in the form of the Panthers' Mel Barnwell.

Hambright set a new Penn State record in the 440—48.1—in his last outing. Norton finished second in the same race in 48.2. Barnwell's best time of the season is 48.2.

Werner said one of the men to watch in today's clash would be sophomore middle distance ace Bill Schwab. Schwab ran second to the Lions' Ed Moran in the half-mile run against Michigan. Werner pointed with pride to Schwab's time in the event—1:51.2. Moran snapped the tape at the 1:50.2 mark.

Schwab ran the third leg of the mile relay against the Wolverines. His time was 48.2—this is his best of the season. Norton will be running the first leg of the mile relay today. Moran will carry the baton in the second leg, Schwab will take over for the third quarter-mile, and Hambright will run the anchor leg.

If Norton can better his last time—50.0—the Penn State record in this event—3:14.9—may fall today. Norton, a senior, will be competing in his last home meet.

Moran, Fred Kerr and Chick King will be running the mile for the Nittanians. Ron Bush, Dale Fauser and John Christoff will be competing for the Panthers.

Dick Engelbrink will join Kerr in the 2-mile run. Vince Timon, Christoff and Fauser will run for Pitt.

The Lion high jumpers—Dick Campbell, John Fareira and Buster Thomas—should sweep their event for the Nittanians. All three have cleared the 6'2½" mark earlier in the season. Pitt's top high jumper, Regie Goggin, hit the 6'2" mark last week.

Bob Szezyler, the Nittanians' number one 220-yard low hurdler will face Pitt's speedy team captain Paul Thrash. Szezyler's best time for the distance is 24.0 against Michigan Thrash's best time is 24.4.

Lion co-captain Ogie Norris looks like a shoo-in for top honors in the pole vault. His top mark of the season is 14'. The battle in the event will be for the second and third place slots. Pitt's top vaulter, Max Kumer, cleared 12'6" last week.

Dick Gross, second man on the Lion vaulting roster, cleared the 13' mark for the first time in his career last week. Bob Waldo, the Nittanians third vaulter, hit the 12'6" mark against Navy.

Lion Cubs Play Host To Pittsburgh, Bucknell

The freshman track team plays host to Pitt and Sherm Fogg's tennis cubs host Bucknell today at Beaver Field.

All eyes will be on the frosh's top sprinter Bob Brown. Brown usually runs the 100 in 10 flat but his top speed has been 9.5. Running a close second in the 100 is Brown's teammate George Metzgar. Brown is undefeated in dual meets.

Another man to watch is Dennie Johnson, cub miler. Johnson broke the frosh cross-country record as did two-miler Herm Weber.

In the field events, the frosh have another standout in Jon Musser. Musser is undefeated in the javelin throw and the discus.

Sherm Fogg said that today's freshman tennis matches are going to be outstanding. He is expecting a lot from his top three players—Dick Ludwig, Gary Moore and Don McCari-ney. Fogg says that his first three players are exceptional and the last three are "just" good. The doubles action will see Ludwig teaming up with McCartney in the first doubles. The second doubles will be composed of Moore and John Blanch.
