STATE COLLEGE, PA., SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1958

FIVE CENTS

3475 New Students To Arrive in Fall, Including 2850 Frosh

A total of about 3475 new students—2850 freshmen among them—are expected to arrive in the fall, bringing the total campus enrollment to approximately 14,131.

The present enrollment is 13,611

Approximately 2000 freshmen men and 850 freshmen women are expected; and 500 transfer men and 125 transfer women are expected, according to Dean of Admissions C. O. Williams.

This is approximately the same number admitted last year except that 1100 freshman women were admitted because of the new residence halls.

Many more than the expected 2850 freshmen have been admitted because of the many that "cancel out" by going to other colleges, Williams said.

Approximately three freshmen are admitted to every one expected to come to campus. This will assure that the residence halls will be filled.

It usually works out that way, Williams said. Many students file multiple applications and do not come to the University.

"There are always two uncertainties," Williams said, concerning the expected enrollment. "The returning students," and the uncertainty of the freshmen.

The overflow of last year is not expected this fall since the women's residence halls are completed.

2 Prisoners Flee From Rockview

Two prisoners escaped from Rockview Penitentiary yesterday afternoon and were still at large last night, according to a penitentiary official.

The pair made off from the prison nursery at about 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

The penitentiary official said that as far as he knew, it is not known if the escapees are still in the general vicinity or not, nor is it known whether the pair are driving or traveling on foot.

The official did not know which direction the prisoners took when they made their escape.

The convicts are Max Shadden, 29, and Lynn Howard, 26.

Shadden is serving 2 to 10 years for forgery. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds.

Howard, serving 2 to 4 years for sodomy, is 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds.

Monday Deadline Given For Fraternity Reports

Fraternity membership reports must be turned in by Monday to the dean of men's office, said Edward Pollock, assistant dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs.

Fraternities will not be included in the spring semester scholarship listing if reports are not submitted.

By NEAL FRIEDMAN

Robert C. Proffitt, director of the Department of Food Service, said yesterday he is "99 per cent sure" pizza pie will be served in the Lion's Den next fall.

Proffitt said his department is investigating the idea and there are still several small details to be worked out.

Lebanon Charges UAR Arms Move

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Foreign Minister Charles Malik charged yesterday that President Nasser's United Arab Republic is moving men and arms into Lebanon "this very minute."

Malik appeared at a news conference here to stress Lebanese accusations against the UAR at the United Nations.

Lebanon has asked the UN Security Council to deal with its charges that UAR terrorism aims at overthrowing the government of pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Lebanon has also appealed to the Arab League Council to weigh its accusations.

Malik said "we will withdraw both of these complaints any time

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Arab Republic accused the United States and Britain yesterday of encouraging Lebanon to bring charges against the UAR before the Security Council.

Indications were that the 11-nation council will meet early next week—probably Tuesday—to consider charges by Lebanon that UAR nationals sought to overturn President Camille Chamoun's regime in Beirut with acts of terrorism and rebellion.

external pressure and intervention in Lebanon ends."

He said the Security Council complaint will be withdrawn if the Arab League acts within two or three days.

"Lebanon would prefer the Arab League to do whatever it can to solve this problem but we cannot wait indefinitely," Malik added.

He said Lebanon has no intention of harming UAR interests. Even though the UAR now is trying to harm Lebanon, he said, his country would join hands with the UAR to ward off any hint of harm to the UAR in the Security Council.

A UAR spokesman in New York accused the United States and Britain of encouraging Lebanon to bring the anti-UAR charges to the UN.

THERE, HOW'S THAT? Jane Carson (center), senior class secretary-treasurer, adjusts the cap for Robert Steele, former All-University president. Thomas Hollander, senior class president, who has just fitted on his gown, looks on. The 1950 other graduating seniors will be doing the same as these three in a couple of weeks when they are fitted for caps and gowns.

300 Graduating Seniors Join Alumni Association

A present total of 300 of the 1950 graduating seniors have pledged to join the Alumni Association, according to Ross B. Lehman, assistant executive secretary of the organization.

Lehman termed the 300 a "very, very good number" for such an early date in the enrollment period.

This is the first year an attempt has been made to set up a class alumni organization prior to graduation.

Special membership rates will be offered to June graduates up to and including the day of graduation. Life memberships are available at $70, $5 less than the usual fee. The $70 may be paid in full or in installments, with a down payment of $10 to be followed by four annual installments of $15 each.

One-year memberships are being offered for $2. Fees for the ensuing four years would be $3 annually. Five years after graduation, the annual rate becomes $4; after ten years, $15.

An Alumni Office spokesman said one of the advantages of active alumni association membership relates to the admission of alumni's children. Ridge Riley, executive secretary-treasurer of the Alumni Association, gives personal attention to these students' applications.

Thus the alumni is assured that his child's application will not be rejected without deliberation.

The Association also offers many scholarships and loans to students. Alumni Fund contributions are instrumental in the construction of the Stone Valley Recreational Association.

Applications for membership in the Alumni Association and pledges for the Alumni Fund will be available in the Alumni Association Office, 104 Old Main, through commencement day.
