

Panhel Governs 24 Sororities

The 24 national sororities on campus are represented in the Panhellenic Council, which is the governing group for sorority activities.

The council serves as the representative body with each sorority having two delegates and one vote. Alpha Delta Pi, which is a colony, not having been officially installed, sits on council without a vote.

Nine Resign For Other Work, Posts

Nine faculty and staff members have resigned from the University.

Dr. George J. Young, associate professor of fuel technology, to accept a position as associate director of the graduate program in surface chemistry and catalysis at Alfred University.

Dr. Edward S. Herman, associate professor of economics, to accept a position at the University of Pennsylvania.

Howard A. Scheetz, research associate in engineering mechanics, to enroll for graduate work.

Herbert D. Norviel, research associate in engineering research, Ordance Research Laboratory, to accept a position with AVCO Manufacturing Corp., Boston, Mass.

Robert W. Farwell, research associate in engineering research, Ordance Research Laboratory, to continue graduate work.

Sigmund Urnes, visiting research associate in ceramic technology, to return to Norway.

Mitsue Koizumi, research associate in geochemistry, project completed.

Robert Diamond, temporary research associate in fuel technology, to return to England.

Erma L. Sambrook, dean of women at Ogontz Center.

Canaday Given New Position

Helen Canaday, instructor in home-community relationships at the University, having completed resident requirements for a doctor's degree in family relationships, has been named associate professor of child development and family relationships at Womens College of the University of North Carolina.

Miss Canaday received her master of science degree in child development and home management from Louisiana State University after which she organized a school lunch program in the Malvern school district.

She came to the University in 1953, as a graduate assistant in child development and family relationships to begin study for her doctorate in the College of Home Economics.

She returned to Arkansas State Teachers College as Dean of Women, then taught at Louisiana State University as associate professor of family relationships.

APhiO Fraternity Performs Services

Freshmen will first meet Alpha Phi Omega, men's national service fraternity, when they stop for information at the fraternity's booth at the top of the Mall.

From then on—whether it's for getting blood donors for the Red Cross or picking the University's ugliest man—APhiO will seem in the background of every service-type event on campus.

The campus chapter, organized in 1932, is open to all interested students.

Initiation into the 180-man group comes after a semester's pledging, including 25 hours of service. Required All-University average for brotherization is 2.0.

Yearly events include the "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest, a week-long event where fraternities and independent groups parade and display in skirts their ugliest uglies.

Winners (or, if you prefer, losers) are chosen by penny voting on the Mall, with all proceeds going to charity.

APhiO also ushers at registration, the IFC-Panhel Sing and the annual High School Science Fair and conducts campus tours.

A little-known service is carried out nightly by pledges who take refreshments to students sick in the University hospital.

When members of Delta Theta Sigma fraternity had many items of clothing destroyed in a fire last year, an APhiO clothing drive supplied victims with clothes to tide them over. A surplus collected in the drive was turned over to the Friends Society.

Virtually tons of clothing were gathered by the organization two years ago to aid Hungarian refugees.

The council is affiliated with the National Panhellenic Council and in accordance with national policy uses the rotation system for the election of officers. That is, the sororities holding offices rotate from year to year.

The rushing code, through which the sororities and rushees become acquainted, is formulated by the council. It also issues rushing booklets to acquaint the rushees with rushing and the sorority system. These are distributed at the beginning of rushing.

The Junior Panhellenic Council is composed of two pledges from each sorority and is conducted on a basis similar to the senior group. The purpose of the group is to better acquaint pledges with the activities of Panhellenic Council.

Junior council representatives are the president of the pledge class and another member of the pledge class from each sorority.

The Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council co-sponsor the annual IFC-Panhellenic Ball, the IFC-Panhellenic Sing and other Greek Week activities.

The council president, Phyllis Muscat, Sigma Sigma Sigma, represents sorority women on the All-University Cabinet. The council vice president, Rachael Newman, Chi Omega, is an ex-officio member of the Women's Student Government Associate Senate.

Other officers are:

Carol Dominick, Chi Omega, second vice president; Barbara Martino, Gamma Phi Beta, corresponding secretary; Wendy Morgan, Alpha Omicron Pi, recording secretary; Kay Klepper, Pi Beta Phi, treasurer; Frances Griffen, Delta Gamma, rush chairman.

Wherry Honored By BusAd Society

Ralph H. Wherry, professor of insurance and head of the Department of Commerce, has been chosen for the 1958 Alumni Award of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional fraternity in business administration.

Morley Townsend, grand president of Alpha Kappa Psi, who announced the award, explained that the Award is made on the basis of the candidate's contribution to his academic area of specialization and service to the University. It is the first Alumni Award for the active chapter on campus.
