

Nebraska Boasts 'Spirited' Eleven

By LOU PRATO, Collegian Sports Editor

Can team spirit beat experience?

Penn State's veteran football team will find that out tomorrow afternoon when they open the 1958 campaign against a "very green" Nebraska outfit at Lincoln.

The Cornhuskers, according to newspaper reports out of the Midwest, are reeking with spirit and determination. But no wonder, with a team laden with rookies.

There are so many new faces in the Nebraska lineup this fall that Coach Bill Jennings will probably need that fabled scorecard to identify all the players. For of a 42-man varsity, 27 weren't around last fall when the Huskies posted their worst grid record in history—1 and 9. And of the 15 men that return, only 3 were regulars.

However, one of the "newcomers" is Dennis Emanuel, who isn't really a rookie. In fact, Emanuel is a letterman—but it was back in the 1951-52 heyday of Coach Bill Glassford that Emanuel earned his monogram.

Ironically, Emanuel—who at 25-years old is the elder statesman of the Huskies—played against Penn State the last time the two teams met. That was in 1952 when the Lions blanked the Nebraskans 10-0.

Emanuel was an end under Glassford, but Jennings—who is only in his second year at Nebraska—switched the 6-0, 205-pound Army veteran to a guard.

All of the starters who return are backfield men but one of them—Captain Dick McCashland—was a center and guard for the past two years. He is the first team fullback this season—a position he played in high school.

Junior quarterback Harry Tolly and two-year veteran halfback Larry Naviaux are the other regulars from 1957. Tolly didn't help the Huskie offense last fall, completing only 7 of 30 passes for 68 yards and gaining 33 yards on the ground in 34 carries. However, he had the best punting average—39.7 yards in 25 kicks.

Naviaux should be Nebraska's top offensive threat. He finished second in total offense in 1957 with 343 yards gained in 94 plays. Two-hundred and seventeen of his yards were by rushing, while he compiled 18 of 21 aeriels for 126 yards and one touchdown—the only one Nebraska scored via the air route last year. He's a lefthand thrower.

A couple more 1957 regulars were expected to return this fall, but neither are with the team at the present time. One of the men, Mike Lee—the co-captain—was dropped from the team by Jennings at the beginning of fall drills. No reason was given by Jennings.

Seven other lettermen return for the Huskies, including two other quarterbacks—Roy Stinnett and George Harshman. Both are two year vets. Stinnett, who quarterbacked in the high school All-American game five years ago, was the scoring leader last season with 18. He gained 140 yards with his passing arm on 8 completions in 22 throws, but he had 10 aeriels intercepted.

Harshman, one of two Pennsylvania boys on the squad (he hails from Dickerson Run), did not play last year, but lettered in 1955 and 1956.

and juniors Roger Brede, end, Max Martz, halfback, Duane Mongerson, tackle, and LeRoy Zentic are other lettermen. Mongerson and Zentic are expected to start against the Lions, although Zentic is just recovering from a virus infection.

Jennings has indicated he will go along with five sophomores in his starting lineup: ends, Roland McDole and Mike Eger, tackle Joe Gacusana (who wasn't even on Nebraska's three-deep lineup following last spring's drills), center Don Fricke, and halfback Pat Fischer. Another sophomore, Dick Kosier, will be added if Zentic is lifted.

The man to watch in this array is Fischer, who was preceded at Nebraska by three brothers. Fischer, according to the Lincoln sportswriters, should give the Huskies the breakaway runner they have lacked for the last few years. (That sounds familiar.) In game-type scrimmages this fall, Fischer has ripped off touchdown runs of 84, 77, 65 and less. He's very adept, so the papers say, at throwing the running pass.

White Sox, A's Win

LATMAN WHIPS ORIOLES

CHICAGO (P) — Brilliant relief pitching by Barry Latman, 22-year-old right hander, gave the Chicago White Sox a 6-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Thursday.

Latman relieved veteran Ray Moore with two runs in, one out and two on base in the first inning. Relying chiefly on a blazing fast ball he gave up only three hits until he walked the first man in the ninth. Turk Lown relieved him then and retired three in a row.

Jack Harshman was the loser. He was unable to go the route against his former teammates for the sixth time in eight starts.

ion Red Sox behind the five-hit pitching of Bud Daley Thursday. Bob Cerv also came through with a single homer for the A's in the eighth, his 37th of the season. The Sox scored their lone tally on a home run by catcher Pete Daley in the second.

Pete Runnels, the American League's leading batter, went hitless in four trips and his average dropped from .322 to .319, a percentage point ahead of teammate Ted Williams.

Ted got one hit in three times at bat to remain at .318 in the chase for batting honors.

Cerv's home run, his only hit in three times up, kept him at .315.

Because It's There—Climb It Sunday

Frosh, how would you like to get away from it all—and by all we mean those upperclass tormenters who are making life so uncertain on campus right now. You can escape, you know. Outing Club offers you the perfect opportunity this Sunday in the guise of its annual climb to the top of Mt. Nittany. Since no dinks or namecards are required for an outing like this, you will all be in perfect disguise. You will see upperclassmen as you have never seen them before; relaxed, smiling, friendly, etc. It should be a rare opportunity, so don't miss it.

The hike will also give you an opportunity to meet some of your 500 or more fellow members of Outing Club. Lots of coeds join, believe it or not. Some of these girls will probably be among the first to reach the top of Nittany, if last year's climb is any indication.

As for last year's climb, it turned out to be a tremendous success even though the hikers were nearly washed right off the mountain in a drenching rain. They all sang at the top of their lungs to drown out the thunder and then enjoyed a picnic supper featuring good old sloppy joe's, the perfect meal for a rainstorm. They had a rather annoying tendency to wash between your fingers if they weren't eaten as fast as possible—but everyone was back for seconds anyway. A large group of very soggy students arrived back on campus in high spirits, and talked of nothing but the day they conquered Mt. Nittany for the next week.

We can't guarantee the rain this year, Frosh, but we can guarantee you a good time—for everyone.
