

Scholastic Blues Go During Spring Week

Spring week—fun, frolic and frivolity for the University's 14,000-odd students—comes but once a year, but in that one week, the campus comes alive with activity.

Fraternalities, sororities and independent groups start in weeks ahead nailing together floats, practicing skits and lining up He-Men to participate in such events as float parade, Carnival and He-Man contest.

Spring Week began almost a decade ago—in 1949—when Froth, campus humor magazine, suggested it as Penn State's answer to Dartmouth's Winter Carnival.

Last year's Spring Week was held from April 28 to May 1 and included four major events.

The week began with an hour-long float parade down College Avenue which was televised over the Lancaster and Altoona stations.

After the float parade, the He-Man contest—designed to choose the most outstanding all-around athlete—was held on the intramural field. Coeds tested their skill in a Queen of Hearts tournament by quickly getting in and out of bulky clothes in a "suitcase race."

The Carnival, the major event, attracted a crowd of more than 17,000 persons who dotted a mid-way of sideshows, rides and concessions. The typical booth used dancing girls on the outside to draw attention to inside movies or "live" skits.

Floats and carnival booths were built around the theme of "T.V. Jubilee," with three categories—western, panel and quiz and police and detective.

Trophies were presented to winners of each category and each event, and Ginger Ottinger was crowned Miss Penn State, all at the Awards Night program.

The Axidentals, ABC-Paramount recording vocalists, after a concert, presented the coveted major Spring Week trophy to Phi Kappa and Sigma Alpha Mu.

The rites of Spring came to a climax with the Senior Ball, featuring the music of Count Basie; weekend costume parties; and formal dances at fraternities.

OSU Holds 1st In Football Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio State apparently has discovered a sure-fire way to retain its No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press football poll—don't play any games. Oklahoma, also untested to date, retained the No. 2 spot.

Auburn, fifth a week ago, moved up to third place, swapping places with Notre Dame although the two teams have yet to play a game. Michigan State held to its fourth position.

Behind Notre Dame, in order, are TCU, Pittsburgh, Army, Mississippi and Washington State.

There are two new teams in the select 10 this week, one dropping out because it was defeated, and the other moving downward to make room for a team that turned in an impressive victory.

North Carolina, No. 10 last week, dropped out of sight in losing to North Carolina State, and Navy, still an uncertain quantity and ranked seventh last week, fell to 11th as Pitt took over the No. 7 position by virtue of its victory over UCLA.

The Sportseer---

did we beat Syracuse, West Virginia and Holy Cross last year or Ohio State in 1956; or Illinois in 1954?

A coach can only do so much. He can't block and tackle Saturday afternoon—and Penn State sure needed a lot of blocking and tackling against Nebraska. (If you don't believe that, watch the game movies tonight in 10 Sparks Building. One assistant coach who saw the movies called the game the worst he has ever seen Penn State play.)

So there my friends (and I hope I still have some) is the answer to Penn State's "humiliating, embarrassing, surprising, shocking and discouraging" defeat to Nebraska. Let's forget about "what happened" against Nebraska and think about the Quakers—they're probably thinking about us.

HOW GREEN WAS MY CAMPUS

Don't tell me: I know how busy you've been! I know all the things you've had to do in the opening days of the school year—registering, paying fees, finding lodgings, entering a drag race, getting married, building a cage for your raccoon. But now, with all these essentials out of the way, let us pause and join hands and take, for the first time, a long, leisurely look at our campus.

Ready? Let's go!

We begin our tour over here on this lovely stretch of green-sward called The Mall. The Mall, as we all know, was named in honor of our distinguished alumnus Fred Mall, inventor of the opposing thumb. Before Mr. Mall's invention, the thumb could not be pressed or clicked against the other fingers. As a result, millions of castanet makers were out of work. Today however, thanks to Mr. Mall, one out of every three Americans is gainfully employed making castanets. (The other two make croquet wickets.) Mr. Mall is now 106 years old and living in seclusion on a sea cliff in Wellington, Kansas, but the old gentleman is far from idle. He still works twelve hours a day in his laboratory, and in the last year has invented the tuna, the cuticle, and lint.

But I digress. Let us resume our tour. At the end of The Mall we see a handsome edifice called The Library. Here books are kept. By "kept" I mean "kept." There is no way in the world for you to get a book out of the library... No, I'm wrong. If you have a stack permit you can take out a book, but stack permits are issued only to widows of Presidents of the United States. (That lady you see coming out of the library with a copy of Girl of the Limberlost is Mrs. Millard Fillmore.)

Next to The Library we see the Administration Building. Here one finds the president of the university, the deans, and the registrar. According to ancient academic usage, the president is always called "Prexy." Similarly, the deans are called "Dixie" and the registrar is called "Roxy." Professors are called "Proxy" and housemothers are called "Hoxy-Moxy." Students are called "Algae."

Diagonally across The Mall we see the Students Union. It is a gay mad place, frankly dedicated to the fun and relaxation of we undergraduates. Here we undergraduates may enjoy ourselves in one of two ways—with filter or without. We undergraduates who prefer filters, prefer Marlboro, of course. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! The filter filters, the taste is smooth but not skimpy, mild but not meagre.

We undergraduates who prefer non-filters, prefer Philip Morris, of course. It is a natural smoke, a clean smoke, a flavorful, zestful, pure and peaceful smoke... Now hear this: Philip Morris and Marlboro each come in a choice of two packs—crushproof Flip-Top Box or the familiar Soft Pack.

So now, as the setting sun casts a fiery aura over the spires and battlements of our beloved campus, let us hie ourselves to our tobacconist's and lay in a night's supply of Marlboro or Philip Morris, and then let us, lowing, wind slowly o'er the lea to our dormitories and sit upon our army surplus cots, spent but content, and smoke and dream and hark the curfew toll the knell of parting day. Aloha, fair campus, aloha!

For a complete tour of smoking pleasure try filtered Marlboro and non-filtered Philip Morris, whose makers take pleasure in bringing you this column throughout the school year.
