

Wolves All Whistle As GIs Collect Pay

Four students on this campus get wolf whistles whenever they sign up for their G.I. checks.

That's 'cause they're girls! Jan Davis, Lulu Reed, Betty Jane Lorditch and Katherine Sale belong to a small group of girls who attend the University each year under the G.I. Bill.

Mrs. Davis was in the Air Force for 13 months in 1945-1955. It was during this time that she met her husband. She has two boys, two-and-one-half and one-and-one-half. The Davis family lives with Mrs. Davis' mother, who watches the children while mama is off to classes or to sign for that G.I. check.

Mr. Davis, who was also in the Air Force, is planning to attend the University. "He's not a resident of Pennsylvania yet, but if I keep him around for six more months, he will be," Mrs. Davis said.

Mrs. Davis, who is majoring in home economics education, says her Air Force experience was well worth the time. As to running a family while going to school, she says it gets hectic sometimes but it's worth the time too.

Mrs. Lulu Reed is one half of a team going to school on the G.I. Bill. Her husband, Kenneth, is also here on the bill. They met while both were in the Air Force in 1954-56. They now have two boys, 2 and 6 months. Mrs. Reed is a part time student majoring in English composition while Mr. Reed is an aeronautical engineering student, third semester.

Betty Jane Lorditch was in the Navy from 1953 to 1957. She is a sophomore, majoring in public relations and minor-ing in theater arts.

All four girls have one thing in common. They joined the service to gain the educational advantages of the G.I. Bill. And every one of them says the same thing about her years in service. "I don't regret a moment of it."

In 1922, several makes of cars introduced gasoline gauges on their instrument panels. Last year, gasoline and oil advertisers invested over $30 million in newspaper advertising.

Players Production Portrays College Life Entanglements

The entangled lives of students, Lloyd-Ellis and Megan are students and Tom Maddox is a professor of history at the university.

A letter written from Tom, Ellis to Megan and the situation it brings on nearly causes the young couple's romance to end in tragedy.

The comedy spots in the play are mostly supplied by Miss Dagnall, who teaches geography but is more interested in "biology."

"The Druid Circle" will be directed by Kelly Yeaton, associate professor of theatre arts. The show will be presented at Center Stage in the Extension Conference Center and will run Friday and Saturday nights until its closing performance on Nov. 8.
