"I don't know what to expect of Penn," the Lion master said yesterday at Beaver Field. "They are supposed to have a real good team—and a fast one, too. We want to make up for last week's loss but I don't know how we'll do. If I did know, I could have slept for the past three nights."

Two changes have been made in the lineup which started against Nebraska—both because of injuries. Junior tackle Chuck Janerette, a native of Philadelphia, replaces Joe Bohart at right tackle and sophomore Stu Barber moves into the right end slot for Maury Schleicher.

Bohart is suffering a severe sprained ankle which may keep him out of action for two more weeks. Schleicher, on the other hand, will dress tomorrow, but will probably see only limited duty because of a bad charley horse in his thigh.

With the promotion of Janerette and Barber, Engle will have to fill two vacancies on his so-called alternate unit. Sophomore end Jim Schwab and junior tackle John Sava are the most likely replacements.

Schwab, whose father was an All-American at Lafayette about 25 years ago, has come a long way since last spring, but according to Engle "he still needs plenty of experience." Sava has been hampered by injuries for the past two seasons, but is highly-regarded by Engle and his staff.

"Sava has as much desire as anyone on the team," Engle said of the 5-11, 205-pound junior. "I think he'll help us a lot."

Botula's performance against Nebraska last week was the only bright spot in that game. He looked like an All-American offensively, rushing for 122 yards in 27 carries. (That was one yard less than the all-time Penn State record set by Paul Anders against Boston University in 1951.)

Engle's alternate unit will receive a boost with the return of veteran Andy Moconyi at fullback. Moconyi, a starter at right half last fall, missed the Nebraska fiasco because of a badly twisted knee. But his showing in practice the past week indicates he'll operate at full capacity tomorrow.

Moconyi will undoubtedly help the Lions' passing attack, which was grounded against Nebraska. The supposedly strong air arm—with Jacks, Lucas and Bob Scrabis chucking—completed only six of 15 passes for 49 yards. This is a far cry from the 1957 season when the same trio of aerialists averaged 131.9 yards per game.

Moconyi was the Lions' third best receiver last fall behind graduated ends Les Walters and Jack Furl, catching nine tosses for 92 yards and two touchdowns. Moconyi was also a rushing leader with 115 yards gained in 51 carries for a 3.04 average per trip.

Running with Moconyi in the alternate unit backfield will be veteran Bruce Gilmore at left half and sophomore Don Jonas at right half. Either Lucas or Jacks will be the play-caller. That second team forward wall will find Norm Neff and Schwab at the ends, Tom Mulraney and Sava at the tackles, Bud Kohlhas and Frank Korbini at the guards and Sam Stellatella at center.

Football Season Moves Into High Gear Today

By JACK CLARY, Associated Press Sports Writer

The so-called patriarchs of football—the Ivy League and Big Ten—join their modern counterparts today as the college football season swings into high gear.

Notre Dame, Army and Navy join the season's late-comers in beginning the 1958 fall campaign, which provided enough surprises last week to last a while.

In addition, these newcomers will have their first competitive joust with the new rules on extra points, blocking, substitution and downfield blocking.

The Big Ten's Wisconsin kicked off the weekend activity last night in the Orange Bowl against Miami of Florida. The Badgers are rated No. 14 in this week's Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters, the Hurricanes No. 15.

Other Friday night games featured Texas (1-0) at Tulane (0-1), Florida State (2-0) vs. Georgia Tech (1-0), Detroit (1-0) at the Air Force Academy and Denver (0-1) at Utah State (0-1).

There is no competition between the Big Ten schools as all play some interesting intersectional foes.

Defending champion Ohio State, the Rose Bowl king, and No. 1 this week, plays pass-happy Southern Methodist, No. 20, at Columbus.

Michigan State, ranked fourth, plays California, a 24-20 upset loser to College of the Pacific last week, while unranked Iowa is at home to Texas Christian, who walloped Kansas, 42-0, a week ago and gained a No. 6 ranking.

Notre Dame hosts Indiana and puts its No. 5 ranking against the Hoosiers, a four touchdown underdog.

Tenth-ranked Washington State travels to Northwestern where the PCC's top passer, Bob Newman, hopes to add to his team's 40-6 triumph over Stanford last Saturday.

Oklahoma, No. 2, meets West Virginia, 13th ranked, a 66-22 victor over Richmond last week, in the Southwest's top battle, while defending national champion Auburn, No. 3, meets Tennessee at Birmingham, Ala.
