

UCA Helps 125 Grads Find Rooms

By CAROLE BLAKESLEE

About 125 graduate international students, turned out of campus housing, have been able to find accommodations in town with the help of a survey conducted last spring by the University Christian Association and the State College Ministerium.

However, many of the students have questioned the validity of the survey, since, many times, upon applying in person for a room, they were turned down, reportedly because of color or national origin.

These students stated they had been given an optimistic reply on the telephone but were stalled or refused when appearing personally to secure the rooms.

In the survey, interviewers contacted a total of 450 homeowners in the State College area. Of these, 75 said they would rent to students irrespective of race or national origin; 225 did not rent to students at all; and 150 were not at home during the time of the survey.

The names of those willing to rent were placed at the disposal of the international students.

The number of international students who must seek rooms off-campus has increased this year because of the closing of Pollock Circle and a University decision to allow only undergraduates to live in the residence halls. Mrs. Doerner, of the Office of International Student Affairs, said,

Pollock 5 had been used to house approximately 30 male international students, and many graduate women students lived with undergraduate women in the residence halls. Since these facilities could no longer be used, town housing became imperative, and harder to obtain.

International students were allotted 13 spaces in Graduate Hall and seven fraternities have invited international students to live with them as guests, Mrs. Doerner said. This has helped somewhat to alleviate the housing shortage, she said. But, Mrs. Doerner said, while no students are without rooms at the present time, the situation is expected to grow worse.

She said that because of these difficulties, the University will not be able to increase the number of international students admitted beyond the present 205 quota until at least 1960.

Boalsburg Group Will Hold Rodeo

The Black Hawk Riding Club of Boalsburg will hold its fall rodeo at 1 p.m. Oct. 5 at the rodeo grounds on Rt. 322 across from the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Potters Mills.

The program will include hide, key, tire and costume races, steer decorating, calf roping, apple race, clover leaf class, trail class and pole bending.

In event of rain the show will be postponed until Oct. 12 at the same time and place.

Admission will be 50 cents a person.

Out On a Limb

By BOB THOMPSON

So far, with one week under their belt, our sports predictors aren't exactly setting the world afire.

Leading the pack with .466 percent are the coaches, led last week by Rip Engle. Tied for second place are the two aces of the Collegian sports department, Mad Matt Mathews and Lucky Lou Prato. Both garnered a .333. Trailing far in the dust last week was Genial George French. He ended up with a roaring .200.

If there is safety at all in numbers, our boys should be right this week. All agree that Army will win over South Carolina. (They all thought Maryland would trounce Wake Forest too!) They also agree on Ohio State's beating Southern Methodist. (They picked Oregon State over USC too.)

This week, the coaches will be represented by backfield coach Jim O'Hara.

THINKLISH

—the funniest, easiest way yet to make money!

PUT IN A GOOD WORD AND MAKE $25!

Speak English all your life and what does it get you? Nothing! But start speaking Thinklish and you may make $25! Just put two words together to form a new (and much funnier) one. Example: precision flight of bumblebees: Swarmation. (Note: the two original words form the new one: swarm+formation.) We'll pay $25 each for the hundreds and hundreds of new Thinklish words judged best—and we'll feature many of them in our college ads. Send your Thinklish words (with English translations) to Lucky Strike, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Enclose name, address, college or university, and class. And while you're at it, light up a Lucky. Get the full, rich taste of fine tobacco—the honest taste of a Lucky Strike.
