

Nittany, WH Councils Elect Eight Officers

Eight men were elected to officers in the West Halls and the Nittany Councils Elections meetings this week.

Elected to West Halls positions were Duane Johnson, vice president; Stephen Gregg, secretary; and James Kridel, treasurer.

As Robert Gorniak will be unable to retain his position as West Halls Council president, elections will be held for that position at the next meeting.

Already elected to Nittany Council positions are William Schrimpf, president, and Robert Lovanduski, treasurer. Elected to Nittany Council positions last night were Kenneth Comly vice president; Richard Kellinan, secretary; Barry Rein, parliamentarian; and Michael Carlson and John H. Witmer Jr., delegates-at-large.

Schrimpf, in his president's report, urged the members of the Nittany area to take more interest in the affairs of the area. A mixed dinner to be held sometime in the future was discussed.

The West Halls Council and the Nittany Council Elections meetings were held Monday night and last night respectively.

Young Republicans Will Open Office

The Young Republicans of Centre County will open its official campaign headquarters at 7 p.m. Monday in the Whitehill Building on College Avenue.

David West, chairman of the group, announced the opening at a meeting Tuesday and said everyone is welcome to come.

New officers were also elected at the meeting Tuesday. They are Neal Roads, vice chairman; Howard Kreps, treasurer; Sue Whittington, campaign manager; and Deborah Croft, membership chairman.

Drop-Outs--

(Continued from page one) week of school, 46 students—23 men and 23 women—had withdrawn from the University. Last week, 11 men and 2 women withdrew but already this week, 28 men and 9 women students have withdrawn, the registrar's office reported.

Thirty-four students listed "personal" reasons for withdrawing from the University in the first count and nine students last week gave that reason.

Twenty-two students had withdrawn by Oct. 3 from the off-campus centers.
