WSGA to Evaluate May Day Program

The Women's Student Government Association will try to find out whether or not parents and students have enjoyed previous May Day programs and whether the program should be continued, improved or expanded.

The evaluation, which was approved by the WSGA Senate

Wednesday, will be conducted by Jessie Janjigian, vice president of WSGA and chairman for this year's May Day.

A committee, consisting of members of the 1957-58 House of Representatives who coordinated last year's program and several interested students, will be set up by Miss Janjigian at a meeting next week.

The purpose of the evaluation will be to clarify the meaning of the May Day functions as well as their value. The committee will also see what can be done to make the program different from previous years and to study possible expansion and improvement.

Miss Janjigian said the House of Representatives is interested in finding out what criticisms have been raised against the program in the past so that improvements might be made.

"The biggest critics of May Day have never seen the program themselves," Miss Janjigian said. The committee wishes to "get an all-around point of view," she added.

The committee will send a questionnaire to parents. This questionnaire will be sent through residence unit presidents who will select women students in their respective units whose parents have seen the ceremonies in the past.

Questionnaires also will be sent to faculty members selected by the committee, participants in last year's May Day, town merchants and residents. The purpose of this is to get opinions from these people who have seen the program and are better qualified to evaluate it, Miss Janjigian said.

A complete evaluation report will be submitted to the WSGA Senate at its first meeting following Thanksgiving vacation.

Dulles Tries To Extend Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles instructed the U.S. ambassador at Warsaw yesterday to press Red China for an extension of its cease-fire in the Formosa Straits beyond next Sunday.

The U.S. goal is a prolonged truce which could permit steps toward some lasting settlement.

Ambassador Jacob Beam is scheduled to meet Red Chinese envoy Wang Ping-nan today in the latest of a series of talks on the Formosa crisis.

The Red Chinese suspended last Sunday their bombardment of Chinese Nationalist-held Quemoy Island and announced the suspension would continue for seven days. They said the action was taken for humanitarian reasons to permit the Nationalists to build up supplies on the island.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told a news conference yesterday "we have no information" that the cease-fire will be prolonged beyond next weekend. Noting the Reds claimed it was instituted for humanitarian reasons, White added: "I am unaware that something in the interest of humanity began on Sunday and ends on Sunday."

White said under questioning that the whole U.S. purpose in the meetings at Warsaw has been to bring a cease-fire. "Of course we are pressing—for that result—and have been pressing from the outset," he said.

Asked specifically whether the United States would pursue this course today, White replied: "Of course we will be pressing tomorrow for an extension of the cease-fire—that's our whole purpose."

Reunion Planned For Collegian Alums

Alumni who were members of The Daily Collegian news staff are invited to a reunion at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Collegian office.

The reunion will be combined with a journalism alumni coffee hour.

Marjorie "Jodie" Miller was announced as the 1958 Homecoming Queen at the Thespian's production of "Entertainment U.S.A." last night in Schwab Auditorium.

Miss Miller, who was a Homecoming Queen finalist last year, was crowned queen by Ted Paulowski as the climax to the show.

She was selected as the queen by the football team earlier in the week, but it was kept as a secret until Paulowski made the announcement.

"It was just too terrific," said the new queen. "I felt more relaxed this year. Maybe I knew that this was going to be my night."

"I have no intentions of doing anything other than teach," Miss Miller commented. "I'm in secondary education and that is going to be my career."

For the next two days Miss Miller will be presented to alumni and receive a gold trophy at the Alumni Luncheon Saturday in the Hetzel Union Building.

She also will be presented at the final curtain of the Thespian's production tonight and tomorrow night.

"I think tomorrow night will be just as exciting as tonight because my parents are coming up this weekend," she explained.

After the crowning, Miss Miller's Kappa Kappa Gamma sisters sang a sorority song for her. Robert Snyder of Phi Gamma Delta, then escorted her from the auditorium.

The other finalists for the honor were Gail Schultz, junior in home economics from Bradford, Pi Kappa Alpha; Marilyn Barndt, sophomore in education from Tel-Crandall's homer off Turley in the sixth. Two men were out when the Yankee uprising started with a long double to right by Yogi Berra that just missed being a (Continued on page eight)

Turley Twirls Yanks To Great Comeback

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Strong-armed Bob Turley led the revived New York Yankees to the greatest baseball comeback in 33 years Thursday as they stormed back from a 3-1 deficit to dethrone Milwaukee in the seventh game of the World Series.

Turley, working his third straight game, dazzled the Braves with a 2-hit relief job over 6 2-3 innings while the Yanks clubbed Lew Burdette for a 6-2 victory.

It was sweet revenge for the Yanks, 3-time losers to Bur-

Lion's Den Experiment To Continue This Week

The Lion's Den in the Hetzel Union Building will be open until 12:30 a.m. tonight and tomorrow night.

This is the second week of a 2-week experiment to determine whether it would be profitable to keep the Lion's Den open until 12:30 a.m. Friday and Saturday nights on a permanent basis.

Review Thespian Show Lacks Adult Appeal

By DAVE FINEMAN
Collegian City Editor

"Entertainment, U.S.A.," Thespian's production in Schwab Auditorium last night, lacked only one thing—adult appeal.

There was humor—but it was mostly slapstick. And there were moments of musical inspiration, but they were few.

Ted Paulowski, as Phineus T., the hayseed contestant on a TV show, could be dubbed the hero of the production, since he was a great help in keeping a loose script from falling apart.

Paulowski, upon missing a question on the truth-or-consequences type show, had to scour the entertainment world for moments of show business from opera to burlesque.

Hence, ladies and gentlemen, the plot, into which a handful of slapstick scenes and dubious dance numbers were forced.

The most imaginative number, and the only one with any kind of adult appeal was "La Donna Mobile," a slapstick, yet polished takeoff on an opera quartet. The quartetters were Carlene Rarick, Carolyn Greer, George Bukas and Harry Gerber.

The "Secret of Rock 'n' Roll," an interesting satire on today's adulterated Tin Pan Alley, was a little obvious, but clever and funny. Composers Bob Piccone, as Norm Plum, and Gary Patterson, as Milt Bun, with the help of absurdly funny lyrics, were able to pull off the old dart board and roulette wheel gag on rock 'n' roll.

Some excellent talent was squeezed into the old stand-by—the review.

The Phi Mu Alpha Dance Band showed up the show's own Thespian band with a fine take on "The Creep," a jazz standard; and the Penn Statesmen Quartet, in a few snatches of barbershop harmony, were a marvelous blend of voices.

One scene, "Burlesque," was unfortunately, even worse than any professional version of the flesh and cornball we've ever seen. Satire should stress the bad points of the satirical object, not of itself.

Production numbers, in the past the backbone of campus musicals, were not up to Thespian snuff. They were neither big nor good, although the opener, "Entertainment, U.S.A.," had the makings of a captivating number.

Pep Rally to Begin Homecoming Events

Homecoming Weekend festivities will begin with tonight's pep rally featuring the year's first performance of the Blue Band—at 7:15 on the lawn behind the Hetzel Union Building.

The rally will be preceded by a motorcade starting at 6:15 p.m. and parading down College Avenue and Shortlidge Road. The Blue Band will meet at 7 p.m. at Carnegie Hall and march to the HUB lawn.

Harold W. Perkins, associate dean of men, will be the main speaker at the rally, and WMAJ's Bob Martin will serve as master of ceremonies.

The band will be joined at the rally by cheerleaders, who will lead the crowd in songs and cheers for the football team in preparation for tomorrow's game with Marquette at Beaver Field. The Nittany Lions are being quoted as three-touchdown favorites for the game.

Tonight's appearance of the Blue Band will be their first before the student body this year. The band has not played for any of the pep rallies held so far, and have not attended any away games.

The band members have elected to play to two away games, Boston University and Pittsburgh.

Tonight's rally, sponsored by Scrolls, senior women's honorary society, and Skull and Bones, senior men's hat society, also will include appearances by Frothy and the Nittany Lion.
