

WSGA to Host Delegates For IAWS Conference

The Women's Student Government Association will be host to delegates from 55 Pennsylvania colleges for the Inter-collegiate Association for Women Students conference Saturday.

The conference, which will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in McElwain Hall, is designed to acquaint non-member schools with IAWSs and to solve common problems of women's student government in all colleges represented.

'Night Club' To Feature Ivy Rocks

The Ivy Rocks band will play for the Club Hubanna opening from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

The temporary night club, which will be built around a tropicana theme, has accommodations for 150 couples. Tickets priced at $1.25 a couple are on sale at the IUB desk.

The floor show will include the Continentals, a vocal quintet; Myrna Glazier, pantomimist; Jeanine Carle, vocalist; and Millie Lum, hula dancer.

According to Richard Stevko, chairman, Club Hubanna's main purpose is to accommodate freshmen who cannot attend fraternity parties this semester.

The club was originated last spring and it has been open twice since. Saturday's party is the first this semester.

Last year the tables were all filled, Stevko said. Tables must be reserved.

Truck Upsets, Spilling Dozer

A dump truck, loaded with a bulldozer, overturned late yesterday afternoon at the Hammond Engineering construction site on East College Avenue.

Occupants in the truck and bulldozer escaped injury, as the rear wheel caved through the floor of the excavation. Wilbur Williams, Warriors Mark, and Elmer Stiver, Port Matilda, were the unscathed occupants. Stiver, in relating the incident, said "I just felt something go."

The side of the truck was broken in the crash when the bulldozer fell over the truck's side. The damage to the bulldozer could not be determined. Although there was no visible damage there is a chance that the hydraulic system and gear mechanism might have been damaged in the fall.

The accident occurred in an 8-foot excavation.

October Froth Again to Invade Campus Refuge

Courage, faith and unexcelled nerve will again be displayed by members of the Froth staff as the October issue of Froth is distributed tomorrow among unsuspecting students.

Persons have been known to be left completely defenseless when lured by the charm and sales-power displayed by the coeds of the Froth circulation staff.

You may find it necessary to use force in escaping from the determined sales personnel as you near the Carnegie bulletin board, West Halls lounge and HUB. The selection of these locations as operations bases is the result of unending psychological research.

Froth has invaded the sanctuaries of persecuted students who have come to regard these places as a refuge from professors between and during classes.

The cover of Froth, done in sunshine yellow and passionate pink, is sure to leave you with one desire. Escape!

Preferential Bidding Used This Semester

The preferential bidding system was used for the first time in this semester's informal rushing.

Twenty-two of the 23 sororities on campus ribboned 188 coeds Friday evening. Delta Delta Delta was the only sorority which did not participate in informal rushing.

Rushes list their first and subsequent choices and the choices are then matched with the sorority's list. Coeds may list every sorority on their preference lists if they wish.

Sororities make out a "first list," consisting of the number of coeds they want to pledge. A second list is also made out. Coeds on the second list are numbered according to preference.

The preference cards are then matched in an IBM machine. The machine is located in the basement of Old Main.

According to a National Panhellenic Council ruling, the preferential bidding system must be used for formal rushing.

In previous informal rushing sessions, sororities were allowed to send out bids for about 10 days after a certain period. The coed was required to answer the bid within three days.

Under the preferential system the coed receives only one bid. Under the old informal bidding system, she could receive bids from as many sororities as wanted her to join.

When the preferential system is used, only Phyllis Muskat, Panhellenic Council president, and Mrs. R. Mae Schultz, assistant dean of women, know how many sororities want a particular coed

The conference will consist of four workshops, three to be held in the morning and one in the afternoon. The workshops will cover "Religion on a College Campus," "Standards of Conduct," "Discovering and Developing the Student" and "Career-woman, Housewife and Citizen."

A luncheon will be held for the delegates at 12:30 p.m. in the Hetzel Union Building. Joyce Jacobs, of the public relations department of Bell Telephone Co., will give an illustrated talk on "Famous Women of Pennsylvania."

The four member Pennsylvania schools in IAWS include the Universities of Pittsburgh Allegheny, Albright and Penn State. Any women's organization active two years or more in institutions giving an A.B., B.S., or Bachelor of Education degree and having an average of 50 or more women in entering classes is eligible for membership.

The purpose of IAWS is to consider problems relating to the role of women students in local, national and international areas of concern and to foster the exchange of information on subjects of mutual interest to members of the association.

Speech Club Plans High School Talks

Members of the Penn State Speech Club will serve as speakers for the high school orientation program to be started during the semester break in January by the Senior Class Advisory Board.

Jon Wilder, club president, said the faculty of the speech department and members of the club have offered to help screen additional speakers who volunteer for the project. They will also assist in the preparation of effective talks.

Students will speak in their home city high schools.

HUB Lost and Found Gives Claimer 30 Days

Any article turned in to the lost and found service at the Hetzel Union desk is given a numbered tag and a duplicate tag is given to the person turning in the article.

If the owner does not claim the article within 30 days, the finder has the next 30 days in which to claim it. If neither party claims the article after this period, it is given to a charitable agency.
