

Frandsen May Take Opera to Denmark

By BOBBI LEVINE

John Frandsen, guest conductor of the Danish National Orchestra, said Sunday that although he came to America to bring audiences the music of European masters, he may go back to Denmark with the music of an American master.

In an interview before the orchestra's concert in Recreation Building, Frandsen said he is planning a trip to New York to hear a new opera by Samuel Barber whom he considers "the most serious of America's composers."

The opera is "Vanessa," now playing at the New York Metropolitan Opera House. Frandsen said if he likes it well enough, he will take it back with him and have it staged at the Royal Opera in Copenhagen where he is the conductor.

Frandsen also said that in the short time he has been here, he has found American audiences to be more enthusiastic than the European audiences he has appeared before.

He had just come from concerts in Burlington College and Colgate University where he said he found the audiences to be "marvelous."

"I have the feeling they are more interested in new music—something they have never heard before," he said. "In Europe," he continued, "the audiences want to hear Brahms, Bach and Beethoven—the old masters."

On the subject of college audiences, Frandsen had only the highest praise. "It's not that the others are bad," he said. "It's just that they (college audiences) are so much better. The college audiences are very serious and understand much more of the music."

When Frandsen ascended the podium for the concert, he was not the only occupant. "Sir Peter," a little toy dog went right along with him.

"Sir Peter" has been the mascot of the Danish National Orchestra for 25 years, and it is his privilege to stand in front of the conductor's podium at all performances. He is yellow and black with teddy bear eyes. It is his job to wear all the medals the orchestra has won throughout the years.

At Sunday's concert, however, the tables were turned and "Sir Peter" watched a member of the

(Continued on page eight)

—Collegian Photo by Matt Mathews
NO, HE'S NOT HOLDING UP the obelisk. He's just one of two workers who patched the mortar in the monument on Friday. It's the first time the Indian red mortar strips have had to be repaired since the obelisk's construction 15 years ago.

A. Borland Dies at 80 After Illness

Andrew Allen Borland, a leading dairy educator, died at 9:30 Sunday in his home at 310 Burrows St., after an extended illness. He was 80.

Borland, professor emeritus of dairy science and former head of the Department of Dairy Science, was born at Sandy Lake June 11, 1878.

He came to the University in 1905, after teaching rural school for seven years in Mercer County. He taught at the University in 1911, went to the University of Vermont for four years, returning here in 1915, where he remained until his retirement in 1948.

The dairy department had its greatest development during his years of service. He was instrumental in developing herds in the five principal dairy breeds for research and instruction purposes.

Borland was the head of the Department of Dairy Science from 1919 until his retirement. One of his most outstanding achievements was being a delegate in 1928 to the Eighth World Dairy Congress, held in London, England.

He is survived by his wife, Jessie E. Canon; a son, Gerald of Westfield, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. William T. Hartzell of Redlands, Calif.; a brother, Dr. Roland G. Borland of Conneaut, Ohio; and six grandchildren.

Services will be held in the Presbyterian church at 2 tomorrow, with Rev. William F. McClain, pastor, and Rev. William Donald C. Carruthers, retired director of Westminster Foundation, officiating. Friends may call Tuesday evening at the Koch Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Pine Hall Cemetery.

Fraternity Fire Quenched

A small grease fire in the Chi Phi fraternity kitchen, 360 E. Hamilton Ave., was extinguished at about 12:30 p.m. Sunday by the Alpha Fire Company.

Capezio

finest with feminine footwear presents their newest creation

Crazy Legs

They're knee socks—they're outdoor shoes. They're knee socks and outdoor shoes combined. They're crazy-legs.

Crazy-legs are made of helinca-stretch nylon with cushion-crepe soles. You can wear them in the rain—you can wear them in the cold. Crazy-legs are waterproof and great as wind-breakers.

You can get your crazy legs in shoe sizes—narrow and medium widths. Black only—priced at 12.95

Juliet Room
is fashion
... and fashion costs no more

State College's Exclusive Book Shop

We have books . . . lots of books! Among our stock of technical books is the complete Dover Trade and Scientific paper-back series, including mathematics, engineering, and nuclear physics. We have books on architecture and philosophy, as well as biographies, short stories, and poetry.

Lots of books are crowded everywhere in our shop. Shelves full of novels are on the walls and racks full of literary classics are in the stairway. Art and cook books are displayed on the lower floor of the shop. Our shop is small, it's cozy, it's full of books! Browse through, Mrs. Roberts and I won't disturb you.

Come in, say 'hello', and look at the books! We are across the street from the Presbyterian Church on West Beaver Avenue.

The Pennsylvania Book Shop
129 West Beaver Avenue State College

Community Group to Present Comedy, 'The Silver Whistle'

The Community Theatre of State College as its first major production will present "The Silver Whistle," a comedy by Robert McEnroe, Oct. 17 and 18 in the State College Junior High School auditorium.

The play is set in a home for the aged which has been invaded by a young professor masquerading as a tramp. Under the professor's influence, the lives of the inhabitants of the home change considerably.

William Dunkel is the director of the production and the professor will be played by Hyman Shultz.

Tickets for the play cost $1 and students may pick them up at the Hetzel Union desk. There are three types of membership. A sustaining membership costs $2.50 and guarantees a seat at each production.

To receive an active membership, which costs $1, one must work in two plays either as an actor or as a member of the production crew. This membership also enables one to vote and hold office.

A patron membership costs $10 and entitles the donor to a season ticket.

The Community Theatre will also present a children's play in January, "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller in March and another play in May.

Alumnus Injured In Car Accident

William Wilhelm, Class of 1923, suffered a broken knee Saturday morning in an accident near Danville. He was driving to the University for Homecoming Week-end.

He was described in good condition at Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Danville. The accident reportedly occurred when a truck which Wilhelm was passing made a left turn forcing him to run off the left side of the highway.

Wilhelm, 56, is a resident of Jim Thorpe. A daughter, Jean, is a freshman in applied arts.

Tryouts Will Be Held

Tryouts for the Players' production of Arthur Laurents' "A Clearing in The Wood" will be held at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow and Thursday in the Little Theatre, 11 Old Main.

Lion Suit Fund Reaches $502

A total of $502.05 was collected at the Penn State-Marquette game Saturday by the hat societies and cheerleaders for a new Nittany Lion suit.

John Lange, chairman of the Lion suit committee said, "Some people were exceptionally generous; I was highly pleased, but of course I'd have liked to collect the whole $1000 in the collection drive at the game."

Ronald Kolb, president of the will be held in the near future to raise the remainder of the money, Lange said. The committee is now open for donations from any organization.

Ronald Kalb, president of the Hat Society Council, said he would like to thank the hatmen and women and the cheerleaders for their help in collecting the money at the game.

Tryouts to Be Held For 'Reluctant Debutante'

Tryouts for the Players' production of William Douglas Home's comedy "The Reluctant Debutante" will be held at 7:15 Tuesday in the Little Theatre, 11 Old Main, and at 7:15 Wednesday in the Green Room in Schwab Auditorium.

The play will be directed by Robert Reifsnider, associate professor of theatre arts. It will open Nov. 21 and will run Fridays and Saturdays until its closing performance on Jan. 10.

COLLEGIAN AD STAFF MEETING

Tonight 6:30 p.m.
9 Carnegie
Concerns Accounts

DRIVER'S

QUIZ

When blinded by the glare of approaching headlights, it is best to:

- (A) Put lights on low beam and get by as quickly as possible.
- (B) Put lights on high beam to get even with the approaching driver.
- (C) Stay on low beam, slow down, keep eyes on right edge of road.

Do you know the answer to this quick motor quiz? Getting the correct answer won't win you any money, but it could save your life in a similar situation.

*Choice (C) is the correct answer. Did YOU get it?

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Save your LICENSE AND YOUR LIFE

PUBLISHED BY YOUR NEWSPAPER IN THE INTEREST OF HIGHWAY SAFETY Prepared and disseminated by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

George M. Leader, Governor Gerald A. Oleson, Secretary of Revenue