Clark Speculates

Tuition May Be Future Necessity

By DENNY MALICK

U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr. said yesterday that a time may come when students will have to pay tuition to attend the University even in the event of a massive federal aid program for education.

Clark spoke to students and faculty members in the

WSGA to Hold Frosh Elections

Four freshman women have been chosen to run for the position of Women's Student Government Association freshman senator in the final elections to be held from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. today.

Two women will be elected.

The candidates, who received the highest number of votes in Tuesday's preliminary elections are Diana DeAngelis, Susan Huston, Barbara Maley and Gail Whitfield.

Elections will be held in MacAllister Hall for freshmen living in Grange, Irvin and MacAllister; in Atherton Hall for those living in Simmons, McElwain and Atherton; and in Redifer for those living in the South Halls. All first and second semester women may vote.

Money for the University's expansion in both quality and quantity should come from the federal government since it could not be procured at the local and state levels, he said, but "parents and students will have to do their part."

The top priority of the federal aid program should go to teacher salary increases, he said, adding that the federal government should increase the inducement for college and high school students to enter the teaching field.

Second to the salary raises, Clark said, aid should go for school construction, especially for laboratories, libraries and classrooms for colleges and universities.

The third priority for federal

University May Install Meter Area Would Be Placed Behind Coed Halls

By BILL JAFFE

All-University President Jay Feldstein said yesterday the possibilities are good for securing short-time parking meter spaces behind Simmons and McElwain Halls.

Feldstein will present a complete report of the plan to ease traffic congestion around the women's dormitories at the All-University Cabinet meeting at 8 tonight in 203 Hetzel Union.

Yesterday Feldstein met with Elwood F. Olver, director of the Department of Security, and discussed the parking problem at length. Today Feldstein is to see Col. Lucien Bolduc, chief of the Campus Patrol, concerning the placement of the meters in Area 40, behind Simmons and McElwain Halls.

The parking problem resulted from the establishment of a "no parking" zone in front of Simmons and McElwain Halls at the beginning of the semester. The no parking regulation was put in effect to facilitate the movement of traffic on Shortlidge Road.

In other business, Cabinet will discuss possible ways of raising additional funds for the Larry Sharp Fund. Last year more than $3000 was collected to aid in the payment of costs for the hospitalized former student.

Sharp suffered a broken neck in a fall from a trampoline in a men's physical education class Oct. 10, 1957. He was paralyzed from the neck down and has undergone extensive rehabilitation treatment in two New York City hospitals after spending six weeks in the Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Danville.

Charles Welsh, senior class president, will report on the additional plans for the use of the public address system during football games at Beaver Field. At last Saturday's game, the P.A. system was used to announce penalties and scoring plays.

The additional use of the public address system was requested at last Thursday's Cabinet meeting and the request was favorably received by the Department of Public Information.

A progress report on the student insurance program will be presented by Russell Connelly and two Student Encampment workshop reports will be heard. Sam Fleming will report on the subsidiary organizations of student government workshop and Louis Phillips will give the academic atmosphere and culture workshop report.

Trustees Approve Building Contracts

Ground Plan on Page Two

The Board of Trustees has authorized the letting of contracts for construction of the new Pollock Circle Residence Halls, which will house 2016 students.

President Eric A. Walker said the buildings are expected to be finished before September 1960.

The contracts will be awarded as two projects, designated as Pollock No. 1 and Pollock No. 2.

The first project includes three residence halls for men, one eight stories high and the others six stories high. Project 2 will be four women's dormitory buildings, all eight stories high. The second project will also include a building with dining, post office and recreational facilities. All will be of brick construction.

The new area will introduce "community dining" into all the residence halls on the eastern part of campus.

Men of the Nittany Residence Halls will dine with women in the Pollock Area Dining Hall. But men of the new Pollock Halls will be assigned to Simmons, McElwain and Redifer Dining Halls.

The men's halls will be located at the west end of the area and the women's dormitories to the east. The dining hall will be at the southeast corner along Entrance Road.

Low bidders for the projects are: Virginia Engineering Co., Newport News, Va., general contract for both projects; Keystone Engineering Co., Philadelphia, electrical work for both projects; Williard and Co., Philadelphia, plumbing and heating for Project No. 1; Riggs and Distler and Co., Philadelphia, plumbing for Project No. 2; and Ambrose-Augusterfer Co., Philadelphia, heating for Project No. 2.

Freshmen Will Elect WRA Representatives

Final elections for freshman representatives to the Women's Recreation Association's executive board will be held from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m. today in the lobbies of Redifer, MacAllister and Atherton Halls.

Finalists are Ginny Bauder, Sandy Kleebe, Sue Rich and Irene Lohagen.

Beaver Field Move to Be Considered

Further study on a proposal to move Beaver Field to the eastern edge of campus has been approved by the Board of Trustees.

Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, consulting engineers, has been retained to prepare detailed plans, specifications and bidding documents for the removal, erection and expansion of Beaver Field stadium.

The trustees instructed the engineering firm to include in its plans the extension of utility lines, necessary field and team facilities and construction of related parking areas.

The proposed new site of the stadium is north of Curtin Road on the eastern edge of campus.

The relocation is being studied for possible additional space for academic buildings on central campus. The University has already announced plans for construction of a $2 million education building on the southeast corner of the present Beaver Field.

President Eric A. Walker said the project is planned on a self-liquidating basis and that the trustee executive committee wishes to study the structural and financial details carefully before deciding on a course of action.

The deadline for LaVie pictures for business administration seniors has been extended until tomorrow.

These seniors may have their pictures taken today or tomorrow at the Penn State Photo Shop.

AIM to Ask for Decentralized Voting

The Association of Independent Men Board of Governors will ask All-University Cabinet to use decentralized voting in the fall elections.

The motion to recommend decentralized voting to Cabinet was brought up by Vice President Carl Smith. The motion unanimously passed.

Smith pointed out that elections which previously had been centralized in the cardroom had a turnout of about 27 per cent in the spring elections.

It was thought that the percentage of voters would increase if students were given the opportunity to vote in or near the vicinity of their residence halls or classrooms.

Tentative polling places suggested by the board are Waring Hall, Nittany 20, Redifer Hall, various classroom buildings as well as the Hetzel Union cardroom where the elections had previously been held.

It was pointed out that paper ballots will be used this fall in place of the automatic voting machines previously used, because of the proximity of local and state elections.

The main objection to implementing decentralization last spring was the cost of purchasing enough machines for the various elections points. With the use of the paper ballot the board thought decentralized voting could be accomplished.

The board also said the HUB cardroom was off the main thoroughfare and was not in plain view of students passing through the HUB. Through decentralization, the students' attention would be attracted more easily and a percentage increase in voting might be possible.

Richard Armen, a member of All-University Elections Committee, last spring conducted an investigation on decentralization of voting.

The results of Armen's investigation were:

• Enough automatic voting machines could not be obtained for all the points of decentralization.

• One man could not possibly set up machines in different areas in such a short time.

• Too many machines would be needed for All-University elections. The cost would be too high.

Armen also said his committee discovered that the last time decentralized voting had been used, the lowest percentage of voting was recorded.

Auto Competition Set For Rally Tonight

Tonight's pep rally will be on wheels—sport, vintage and novelty ones.

Chug-chug's, sports cars and novelty vehicles will rev up at 6:30 in the HUB parking lot, wind the circuitous route through campus and town and arrive in time for the pep rally at 7:15 on the HUB lawn, where the Air Force ROTC Band, the Lion, Frothy, the cheerleaders and hundreds of students will send the football team off to Boston.

The parade will leave the parking lot, travel down Shortlidge Road to West College Avenue, over to Entrance Road and then to Pollock. From there, it will head towards Burrowes Street, down to Curtin Road, to Shortlidge again, and back to the parking lot where all will march onto the HUB lawn.

Jay T. White, end coach, will be guest speaker at the rally.

Pete Elder, freshman in labor management relations from

Ardmore, will put on a skit, "The Frantic Coach."

Master of Ceremonies Richard Haber, freshman class president, will present a foot-high trophy to the groups amassing the highest number of points for "different" cars in the parade.

Fifteen points will be awarded for cars made before 1935, 10 for 1935-1950 sports cars, 10 for novelty vehicles and five for 1950 and 1957 sports cars.

The motorcade idea is an attempt to increase even more the spirit of this year's already-spirited pep rallies.

Both events are being sponsored by Androcles, junior men's hat society, and Chimes, junior women's hat society.
