

Paradise 39 Upset Femmegems As AGR, Pi Lam, ZBT Win

By JOHN BLACK

An inspired Paradise 39 squad upset previously undefeated Femmegems, 7-0, in the top independent intramural football game last night. Shut-outs dominated action in the fraternity division.

Alpha Gamma Rho blanked Phi Kappa Tau, 6-0; Pi Lambda Phi edged Sigma Alpha Mu, 2-0; and Zeta Beta Tau beat Beta Sigma Rho, 1-0, by virtue of a 3-2 edge in first downs. Pi Sigma Upsilon also defeated Alpha Zeta, 14-7.

Navy drubbed Nittany Co-op, 10-0, and the Cool Ghoul's beat the Men-O-War, 1-0, in an overtime duel. The Terrors registered a win when the Rockets forfeited. A double forfeit was declared in the other scheduled fray when both Nittany 34 and Nittany 24 failed to show up.

Skip Witmer jumped up and reached over the head of a defender to snag a 10-yard pass thrown by Frank Scarpone for the only tally of the game as Paradise 39 climbed to a tie for the league leadership with the losing Femmegems. Maurice Hutton drop-kicked his fifth straight extra point for the winners who now show a card of four wins against one loss.

Pi Sigma Upsilon scored on a 45-yard pass play that dropped into the arms of Bob Courson after being deflected by AZ's Sam Minor as the PSU nine grabbed a 7-0 first half lead over the agriculture grid-ders.

Ed Datasch received the second half kickoff for PSU and passed to Ray Tuleya who threw to Larry Baker, standing all alone in the end zone. Tuleya converted for the second time and the score was 14-0.

With Don Robinson in charge, Alpha Zeta came charging back and culminated a scoring drive a Robinson passed 20 yards to Bronson Lane for the 6-pointer. Robinson added the PAT.

Dick Kubic broke through to tag a Sigma Alpha Mu ball carrier behind the goal line and counter the only two points for Pi Lambda Phi as they dropped SAM, 2-0.

Two safeties and a 75-yard triple pass kick-off return, followed by a 5-yard scoring toss from Carl Mazzam to Dean Kiess, gave the Navy a 10-0 victory over Nittany Co-op. The hard charging Navy line twice caught the Nittany quarterback inside his own end zone as the ROTC boys controlled the ball game.

A 30-yard aerial from Chuck Rhine to Dick McDonald accounted for the only six points as AGR shutout Phi Tau, 6-0. The losers' offensive threats were all marred by interceptions.

Zeta Beta Tau outgained Beta Sigma Rho and picked up three first downs as against two for the Beta Sigs to gain credit for a 1-0 victory in the closest fraternity contest of the evening.

Fiedler's Return Bolsters Lions for Terrapin Game

Watch out, Maryland, your old nemesis, Bill Fiedler, is back.

The Nittany Lions' high scoring inside right will return to action Saturday against the Terrapins. Fiedler missed the Colgate game last week because of an operation for the removal of a chest tumor. Fiedler wasn't supposed to be back in action so soon, but his injury has come along so well that he got the green light from team physician Dr. Alfred H. Griess.

Fiedler is currently leading the Lions in scoring with six goals. Last year he led the booters in scoring with 20 goals. One of those goals gave the Lions a 2-1 win over the Terrapins.

Fiedler's return has considerably brightened the outlook for Saturday's crucial game with the boys from below the Mason-Dixon line. "Our offense seemed a little lost without Fiedler last week," Coach Ken Hosterman said. "If Bill had played, I think the score would have been a little different."

If the Lions get by Maryland Saturday they will probably face just as much pressure when they play Navy on Nov. 1. The booters need "strong wins" over these clubs if they have any hopes of a national title.

A lot also depends on the outcome of the Temple-West Chester game which will be played in late November. West Chester is still unbeaten but it hasn't looked impressive in recent games, according to newspaper reports. If Temple manages to dump the Rams, and the Nittanies win their remaining games, the Lions will have a chance for national honors.

The national title is decided by the Saylor system. This system is based on who a team beats and how it plays. Thus if a team beats "tough" competition every week, it gains more ground in the Saylor ratings. This system favors the Lions since they play top soccer powers each week.

Steelers Come Up With New Sleeper

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tackle Ernie Stautner of the Pittsburgh Steelers was released from Cleveland Clinic Monday after "sleeping" through Sunday's game with the Cleveland Browns.

The Steelers' physician gave him an injection to ease the pain in a bruised shoulder. However, instead of novocaine, a local anesthetic, the hypodermic contained demerol, a drug used to alleviate extreme pain.

The big lineman fell into a coma and was rushed to a hospital, where he was revived.

SERVICE

No one likes to wait for a meal, as is the case in many State College eating establishments. However, this is not so at Duffy's, where only the most experienced waiters and waitresses give you expert service in pleasant surroundings. The food is superb too and you get all this at Duffy's moderate prices.

Michelosen Worries About Fumbles

PITTSBURGH (AP) — While proud of his football team's defensive record Pitt Coach John Michelosen is worried about a serious outbreak of "fumblyitis" with tough Army coming to town Saturday.

"We've been playing Santa Claus long before Christmas, fumbling at the most awful times," said Michelosen. "You can have the best defense around but the fumbles will kill you."

A look at the statistics of Pitt's last two games, with Michigan State and West Virginia, show Michelosen is not just exhibiting normal football coaches' pessimism.

Fumbles set up two touchdowns in Pitt's only defeat in five games, a 22-8 loss to Michigan State. Other fumbles killed Panther scoring drives deep in State's territory.

Pretty much the same thing happened last Saturday as West Virginia grabbed four of six Pitt fumbles to set up its only touchdown and to throttle promising rallies.

"It's a real problem," said Michelosen, "but there's little you can do to eliminate fumbling. It's just one of those things and if you press the players too hard they may do worse. We're hoping for the best."

Pitt beat UCLA, 27-6, blanked Holy Cross, 17-0, edged Minnesota, 13-7, then lost to Michigan State but bounced back to beat West Virginia, 15-8.

Army, ranked No. 1 last week in The Associated Press poll, features a high-scoring, powerful attack headed by halfbacks Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson and, of course, the now-famous "lonesome end."

"That so-called 'lonesome end' gives Army great potential, a terrific attack by loosening up your secondary," Michelosen said. "Their backs have the option of running or passing."

The Cadets, Michelosen figures, will present a stern test to his defensive unit.

"As a matter of fact the team which plays well defensively should win Saturday," said Michelosen. Although he wouldn't hazard a guess to the outcome, Michelosen grinned and added:

"Our linemen, though a lot of them inexperienced, have been doing a grand, aggressive job. A lot will depend on them."
