

Senator to Talk Next Thursday

U. S. Senator Edward Martin (R.-Pa.) will talk on "Major issues before the Nation" at 2 p.m. next Thursday in the Hetzel Union assembly room.

Martin's talk, the second in a series on "Ethics and Public Policy," will be sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary society, and the student cabinet of the University Christian Association.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr. delivered the first address.

The purpose of these talks is to acquaint students with outstanding political figures and to encourage responsible citizenship through a greater awareness of the major policy decisions confronting the nation.

Martin has been a member of the Senate since 1947. He has previously served Pennsylvania as governor, state treasurer, adjutant-general, auditor-general and chairman of the Republican State Committee.

A native of Ten Mile, he holds honorary degrees from colleges and universities throughout Pennsylvania and is a trustee of Waynesburg College.

Martin saw service in the Spanish-American War and both world wars. He has received numerous military decorations, including the Distinguished Service Cross and the Purple Heart.

Martin graduated from Waynesburg College in 1901. He received doctor of law degrees from Washington and Jefferson College and the University of Pittsburgh. He was admitted to the Pennsylvania bar in 1905 and began his practice in Waynesburg.

Eng Council Wants All-U Career Day

Jack Kendall, president of the Engineering and Architecture Student Council, tonight will suggest to Inter-College Council Board that it replace the industrial Exposition this spring with an All-University Career Day.

The Engineering and Architecture Student Council favored IC-CB taking charge of this exposition instead of the individual councils.

The council's suggestions were based on information from Jack Kendall who just attended a Career Exposition at Michigan State.

The purpose of Michigan's exposition was to acquaint students with the assets of different companies and inform students of where they could go in industry and their limitations.

Each of the 73 companies represented had men on hand to discuss informally job opportunities with the students.

All fields were represented, not only those concerned with industry.

It was suggested by the council that the program be more career orientated instead of only offering general information as we did last year.

An All-University Career Day would benefit and should interest students in all curriculums, the council felt, and should therefore command space in the Hetzel Union Building.

Nygreen to Speak

IFC Holds Banquet To Close Workshop

The three-day Interfraternity Council workshop program will close tonight when Glen T. Nygreen, dean of men at Kent State University, addresses the annual workshop banquet.

The banquet will begin at 5:45 p.m. in the Penn State

Room of the Nittany Lion Inn. Fraternity presidents, local chapter advisers and guests have been invited to attend.

Nygreen is the educational adviser to the National Interfraternity Conference and a national officer of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Marshall Jacobson, senior in business administration from Clearfield, will serve as master of ceremonies. Edward Hintz, IFC president, will present the Sigma Chi scholarship trophy for greatest scholastic improvement to Theta Xi, who advanced from 37th to third place in the standings.

The scholarship trophy for social fraternities will be awarded to Theta Xi and Pi Lambda Phi,

Circa Contributions Will Be Accepted

Contributions of all types of creative work will be accepted by Circa, campus literary magazine, until Jan. 5 at the Hetzel Union desk.

Short stories, plays, poems, non-fiction, essays, descriptive sketches and art work may be contributed by both students and faculty members. Non-student contributions are being published this year to broaden the scope of the publication, Ruth Billig, editor-in-chief, said.

Since manuscripts will not be returned, contributors have been advised by the Circa staff to keep carbon copies of anything turned in.

who tied for the highest averages. Alpha Zeta will be presented the professional social fraternity scholarship trophy.

Leonard Julius, workshop chairman, said the attendance at Tuesday night's individual workshops was excellent. At the 10 workshops which discussed every phase of fraternity administration, an average of 45 fraternity representatives were present, Julius said.

Last year the average attendance was under 40 men for each workshop. Julius cited the presidents, pledgemasters, rushing chairmen and public and alumni relations workshops as being

Eleanor Roosevelt, Attlee To Open Lecture Series

By BOBBI LEVINE

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Clement Attlee will speak on campus this semester as part of the University Lecture Series.

Although the contracts, which are now in the hands of University officials, have not yet been signed, no hitch is expected, Christian K. Arnold, staff assistant to President Eric A. Walker said.

Mrs. Roosevelt, prominent public figure and wife of former President of the United States Franklin D. Roosevelt, is scheduled to speak here Jan. 7.

No definite date has been set for the appearance of Attlee, former prime minister of England and leader of the British Labor party. The Lecture Series committee is considering Feb. 23 or Feb. 26 for Attlee's speech.

Mrs. Roosevelt has sent a list of topics she is prepared to lecture on, and the committee will choose one from among them.

One of the topics is "Russia—The Country and the People as I Saw Them," which would be based on her trip through Russia last year. Under this topic she would cover a comparison of (1) home life in America and Russia; (2) the general development of education in both countries; and (3) the health services in both countries.

The remainder of the list is: "The UN and Its Importance to the Individual Citizen of the U.S.," "The UN and Its Specialized Agencies," "How Can the U.S. Best Influence the World Against Communism?" and "The Change in the U.S. Picture over 50 Years."

Attlee has also sent a list which includes: "The Future of Europe"; "World Government or Chaos"; "The Future of Democratic Government"; and "Two Great Systems of Democratic Government—Britain and the U.S. Compared."

The committee is discussing arrangements for a press conference and a reception to accompany each appearance.

Other speakers who are being considered for the spring semester are Vice President Richard M. Nixon, former President Herbert C. Hoover Sr., former President Harry S. Truman, Sen. John S. Kennedy, and Walter Reuther, president of the AFL-CIO.

Truman was invited to speak here in November, but previous commitments prevented his accepting. He did, however, promise to consider visiting the University at a later date.

A TOTAL OF 369 STUDENT TICKETS and a like number of $1.25 tickets still remain for the Roberto Iglesias' Ballet Espagnol performance scheduled for 8 p.m. Sunday in Recreation Building.

Hexner Will Speak At UN Celebration

United Nations Day, celebrated throughout the world tomorrow, will be observed locally by a lecture to be given by Dr. Ervin P. Hexner at 7:30 tonight in the Hetzel Union assembly room. A television program featuring international students, will be presented at 9 a.m. today on WFBG-TV, Channel 10.

Hexner was formerly affiliated with the International Monetary Fund. He recently retired from this organization and is now with the Department of Political Science as a visiting professor. He will remain with the department for the rest of the year.

Hexner will speak on "UN Swords Into Plowshares." He will discuss the structure and operation of the United Nations and will give his ideas as to how it could be improved. He will discuss some of the problems and difficulties which now face the UN.

The lecture is being sponsored by the International Relations Club and the University Christian Association.

"Festival of the Nations" will be the theme of the television program to be broadcast this morning. International students representing Israel, Hawaii, Mexico, India, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Ghana, Japan, China (Formosa) and Germany will demonstrate songs and dances of their native lands and will give short descriptions of their customs and countries.

The American Association for the United Nations and the University Committee on International Understanding are sponsoring the telecast.

The campus program is being held today instead of tomorrow to avoid conflicting with Junior Prom.

University Research

Bids To Be Taken On Research Center

By LIANNE CORDERO
Last of a Series

Bids will be requested in the near future for two additional units of the new $1.2 million Research Center.

The Research Center is being built on an area east of the Atomic Research Reactor and along the route of the proposed University Drive.

Excavation for the first unit has been completed and foundation work is in progress. This unit will have one floor in addition to a partial basement which will house utilities for the entire center.

The first unit is expected to be completed early in the spring semester.

The two new units, to be completed by the fall semester, 1959, will be similar to the unit now under construction.

Each will have one main floor, 68 by 186 feet, and each will have movable partitions dividing the main floor into rooms 30 feet long and 30 feet wide. Utility lines will be centrally located throughout the buildings so that utilities will be readily available in all parts of the buildings.

The new units, like the unit now being built, will be of steel frame and brick exterior wall construction.

Bids will also be requested on the 250-foot corridor that will connect the three units.

The center is planned to help meet a shortage of facilities resulting from the rapidly expanding research program at the University. It is also to provide facilities more economically than are
