

Police to Check Lights on Bikes

The Campus Patrol plans to start cracking down on bicycles improperly lighted at night.

The action was prompted by two night-time bike accidents within the last three weeks.

Charles Willingham, junior in geophysics and geochemistry, on Oct. 3 suffered serious cuts and brush burns of the face when he drove his bike onto an unpaved portion of East Waring Ave.

Cresswell Will Retire Next Month

Donald M. Cresswell, a University alumnus, will retire next month after 32 years with the state Department of Agriculture.

Cresswell, 67, has been chief of the department's Division of Public Information since June 1943. He served in similar capacities with the University for 12 years and with the state Department of Public Instruction for five years.

Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning praised Cresswell for his outstanding service to the Commonwealth and its farming industry. While at the University Cresswell was editor of The Daily Collegian, 1917-1918, and a member of Lion's Paw. He is also a charter member of the Pennsylvania Public Relations Society, Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and Gamma Sigma Delta, the honor society of agriculture. Cresswell plans to continue public relations activities "on a limited scale" after his retirement.

Bartholomew Resigns TIM Presidential Post

Charles Bartholomew, junior in aeronautical engineering from Allentown, resigned from his post as president of the Town Independent Men at Wednesday night's meeting.

Bartholomew gave three reasons for his resignation: academic, financial and personal. Nominations for a new president will be made at the next meeting, Nov. 5.

TIM also set up a committee to conduct a survey on the housing situation for town independent men since several reports on unsatisfactory housing conditions had been made to members of the council. The survey will be taken to determine how many independent men living in town would like to move to other quarters. The survey will probably last through the fall semester so that as many of the 2000 members of TIM may be contacted as possible. The results will be made public some time in the spring.

The survey will also give members of TIM the opportunity to give their ideas and opinions on the proposed Club TIM. The council also discussed the possibility of establishing a separate court for town offenders so that cases involving town men could be tried by town men. The All-University Cabinet and the Association of Independent Men have also discussed the feasibility of such a system. Dean of Men Frank J. Simes has given his approval of the plan. Further plans for the annual Fall Dance to be held on Nov. 15 in the Hetzel Union ballroom were also discussed. There will be no charge for the dance and refreshments will be sold by the University Food Service.

TV Listings To Be Put In Dorms

Television schedules will be posted for the first time today on residence hall bulletin boards as a guide for weekend stay-at-homes.

The schedules—which will be tacked under a "For Your TV Viewing Pleasure This Weekend" sign—are an idea coming from the office of George L. Donovan, coordinator of student affairs.

Donovan said it is an answer to requests from students that weekend movies be shown in the West Halls.

He said it is impossible to show movies there because of the expense involved, the lack of space and the fact that it would be unfair to other living units, including fraternities.

There are four TV sets in West Halls alone, Donovan said, and "even most of the late, late, late movies would be better than movies we could show on a projector." "The students just need to know what's coming up," he said.

The schedules will list programs from 6 p.m. Friday to 8 p.m. Sunday.

"We cut it at 8 p.m. Sundays," Donovan said, "since we feel the students should start hitting the books by about then."

No Student Tickets Remain for Ballet

No more student tickets remain for the appearance of Roberto Iglesias and his Ballet Espanol which is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Sunday in Recreation Hall.

A total of 34 non-student tickets still remain and may be purchased at the Hetzel Union desk. They cost $1.25.

Iglesias, who formed his present company two years ago, became a Spanish dancer through a mishap in the bull ring. Like most young Mexican boys, he always dreamed of being a bull-fighter. One day, while working with a particularly ill-tempered bull, he was gored.

His recovery was slow and finally his doctor suggested some dance training to help him regain his strength and the use of his body. He soon became interested in this new field in which he could utilize all the daring, temperament and skill he had developed.

His dances express his longstanding interest in bull fighting. One of the dances the group will perform Sunday night will demonstrate that interest.

Iglesias studied in Mexico and in San Francisco where he studied with the San Francisco Ballet. He soon became a member of that company's "Corps de Ballet." He has since pursued his studies in a number of companies.

Wherever he has danced, he has sought out the leading authorities on the dance, particularly the exponents of the Spanish and Latin traditions, and has worked with them.

His appearance here marks the fourth of the present Artists Series programs.
