

AP Picks Mounties Over Lions, Irish Over Panthers

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 NEW YORK (AP) — Too bad there's no two-way option for the harassed football seer. Can't pick and run. Can't pass. Just a head-long plunge. As for the customers, they only kick.

Last week's score: 38-18 for .679, despite upset choices of Northwestern, Syracuse, Penn and Tulsa.

Another fling:
 Notre Dame 20, Pitt 14: George Igo's spark ignites an already great team, but Pitt will prove tough.

West Virginia 20, Penn State 18: Another old rivalry comes out even on touchdowns, but...

Louisiana State 25, Duke 7: The Tigers don't heed Coach Paul Dietzel's advice to "let's be humble."

Army 19, Rice 15: Bob Anderson and Pete Dawkins have too much speed, but inspired Owls make it a battle.

Southern California 28, Washington 7: The Trojans, too late, have finally jelled into one of the West's best.

Iowa 30, Minnesota 7: Coach Forest Evaschski said, "I don't think we can be beat." Not Shakespeare, but we get it. Wisconsin 18, Northwestern 13: The dream must burst some time for the Wildcats' cloud-riding sophomores.

Auburn 7, Mississippi State 0: The Plainsmen, on a 20-game unbeaten streak, don't score much but neither do their foes.

Air Force 32, Denver 7: Unbeaten and unnoticed, the Airmen have matured quickly.

Princeton 21, Harvard 7: The Ivy is a topsy-turvy league but the Princetonians are settling picked on home field.

Georgia Tech 13, Clemson 7: Tech's resourcefulness prevails. Mississippi 21, Houston 6: Ole Miss rebounds from loss to Louisiana State.

Ohio State 20, Purdue 13: The Boilmakers have been wrecking scores all season, why stop? Washington State 14, Oregon

25. Lafayette 14.

Outscore Foes in 4th Quarter, 49-13

West Virginia Gridders Tabbed '2nd Half' Team

Penn State will be facing one of the most dangerous second half football teams in the country this week at Morgantown, West Virginia.

The team is of course rival West Virginia, currently on the rebound after several early season setbacks. The Mounties have won only three of seven games this year, but their main trouble has been a lack of first half scoring prowess.

Coach Pappy Lewis' outfit usually heads into the locker-room at intermission trailing by a touchdown or two. But in the second half, they're real terrors—especially in the fourth quarter where they have outscored opponents, 49-13.

"They are a real good second half team," said J. T. White, Penn State's end coach who has been trailing the Mounties on scouting assignments. "They start out slow and get better as they go along."

"They don't quit even when behind by three touchdowns like they were against Boston U. They were beaten by BU (36-30) but only because of a last minute interception deep in BU's territory. The same goes for the Pitt game. They outplayed Pitt but again a last minute interception hurt them. (Pitt won 15-8).

"Actually," White continued, "the only game they should have lost was to Oklahoma (47-14). Indiana beat them, 13-12, when they tried for a two point conversion twice and missed."

"They beat VPI (21-20) and George Washington (35-12) in their last two games and they came from behind to do it. Like I said, they never quit."

White mentioned the overall speed of the Mountie backfield, especially that of halfback Ray Peterson. "They have more speed in their backfield than we do," White said. "And that Peterson will be one of the fastest men on the field. In fact, he will probably be the fastest man we'll play against all year."

Peterson, according to the West Virginia football brochure, is the "fastest athlete at the University in 25 years." Last year he broke away on several touchdown runs, including two 60 yard jobs. He's been timed at 9.75 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 21.5 seconds in the 220 yard dash.

Lions Host Manhattan On Saturday

The Manhattan cross-country team will be minus its most valuable asset in last year's dual meet—Van Cortlandt Park—when they meet the Lion harriers Saturday on the University golf course.

Denny Johnson . . . has leg injury

Van Cortlandt Park—the site of all Manhattan home meets and the IC4-A Championships—is the course on which the Jaspers upset the Lions, 23-32, last fall.

In that meet, the Nittany harriers set too fast a pace, with seven of the eight Lion entrants running the first mile in less than 4:30.

Ed Moran (4:30 for the first mile) faded to fourth, while Capt. Fred Kerr (4:31) finished first ahead of the Jaspers' Gene Martin and Pete Beyer.

Little George Jones, after running the first mile in 4:33, faded to the 14th position. Dick Engel-Triek (4:34) did a little better, finishing 10th. Chuck King (4:35), dropped to the eighth slot at the finish line.

Indies Open Intramural Cage Play

On a comeback effort in the last few minutes of the game, the Watts Warriors edged the McKee Marlins, 26-25, to take their first victory of the season in intramural independent basketball.

Led by the scoring effort of Pete DeBalli who sank 13 tallies, the McKee Hi-Fliers swept to a 34-17 decision over the McKee Majors.

Other games showed the Prestos downing Thompson One, 24-19, with Mike Rubinsky taking scoring laurels with 12 points. The Diggers outscored Jordan II, 24-20, with Dave Antenucci of Jordan I taking high scoring honors of the night with 14 points.

The Ugly Men stopped the Jordan Jokers, 26-22; the Fabulous Five walloped Penn's Boys 30-12; the Watts Wildcats beat McKee I, 30-18; the Masters defeated the Mon-Youghs, 18-14; and the Hungry Five won on a forfeit over the Cracker Jacks.
