By DAVE HLADICK

Phi Kappa Sig advanced to the second round of fraternity championship play by downing Sigma Alpha Epsilon 24-0 and Alpha Sigma Phi won the League F fraternity title with a 14-7 win over Delta Tau Delta.

The Independent playoffs featured the Goopers turning back the Explorers on first downs, 3-1.

Beaver House shut-out Sigma Pi, 10-0, to climb a step further toward the fraternity finals. The Cool Ghouls stayed in contention for the independent championships with a first down win over Thompson I, 5-4. Nittany 23 scored its second victory in the independent playoffs with a 1-0 overtime over the Hi-Fliers.

Drew Griffith and Jim Norton were the heroes for Alpha Sigma Phi scoring one touchdown apiece. Griffith set up the first score when he intercepted a Sam Bowman aerial on the Delta Tau Delta's 24-yard line. Two plays later quarterback Dick Hinkel connected with Griffith for a 20-yard yard-dirt pass. Dave Bauer added the conversion to give his team a commanding lead.

Late in the first half lanky Jim Norton sewed up the game when he intercepted a pass and sprinted 41 yards for the winners' final score. Seconds later Bauer executed his second conversion.

Delta Tau Delta fought back gallantly in the second half when Dave Dunn hauled in a 19-yard pass from Sam Bauman for its only touchdown. Dunn converted the point.

The clever passing of Gip Bonar led the Phi Kappa Sigma juggernaut to its victory. Bonar, connected with Jack LoBue for the first score of the game after Jim Mason intercepted a Sigma Alpha Epsilon pass on the Phi Kap 11-yard line. Three minutes later, after Phil Hodges' interception, Bonar flipped a 15-yard aerial to Mike Beatty for the second touchdown.

John Rigbi was eminent in the winners attack converting three extra points and booting a 9-yard field goal. Phil Hodges rounded out the scoring receiving a 7-yard pass from Bonar.

A Fred Doyle to Cal Emery to Ted Lopushinsky pass play netting 40 yards accounted for Beaver House's only touchdown. Emery booted a 20-yard field goal in the second half to complete the (Continued on page eight)

Manhattan Harriers Boast Metropolitan Champions

(Continued from page six) Engelbrink—all of whom ran the first mile of the 5-mile Van Cortlandt Park course in 4:35 or better—will all be back for a return shot at the Jaspers—this time on the Nittany course. In addition, the Lions will have the services of their two top runners from last year's frosh team—Denny Johnson and Herm Weber. Johnson has a slight leg injury, but may be ready for Saturday's contest. Also rated as a potential threat to the Jaspers is another sophomore—Ernie Noll. Noll was at the forestry camp at Mont Alto as a freshman and did not run cross-country or track last year. Manhattan will have five of their top six harriers from last year's squad, with the exception of Captain Ed McLaughlin. So far this year, Manhattan has lost only one meet, an 18-41 defeat at Army. Tuesday, the Jaspers won the Metropolitan Championships with 25 points. Trailing a distant second was Fordham (46), followed by St. John's (76), N.Y.U. (111), Seton Hall (140) and Iona (142). The times of the Manhattan runners in the Metropolitan Championships compared with the best times Moran, Kerr, King, Engelbrink and Jones have turned in on the Van Cortlandt course in past years would give the Lions a 26-30 victory over the Jaspers.

Right Name, Wrong Man

Just how important should a football player feel after receiving an introductory "feeler" letter from a pro grid club? . . . you know, one of those letters that asks a standout college gridder if he's interested in playing pro ball . . . and if so, to fill out an enclosed questionnaire.

Well, just ask Dick Wilson. No, not the Dick Wilson who played football for Penn State last spring . . . and who dropped out of school this semester . . . this is another one—and he never played a bit of organized football in his life except for intramurals.

Dick, who is president of his social fraternity, Delta Tau Delta, and also secretary of the University's student tribunal, was as surprised as his fraternity brothers over the letter he received from the Chicago Cardinals. They asked him a battery of "pertinent" questions such as his ground gaining and passing statistics, punting average, pass receiving, etc. . . . now he's awaiting a bid to one of those post-season all-star games.

Bob Scrabis, better known as the "other" quarterback on Penn State's football team behind Richie Lucas and Al Jacks, has been receiving quite a ribbing recently because of his "job" during the Lion football games . . . Bob, in case you didn't know, handles the sideline end of the Penn State's press-to-bench telephone system when he isn't playing . . . which includes most of the game.

The ribbing was started by Dr. John J. Rubin, professor of English and an avid sport fan, after Scrabis had missed a Saturday morning English literature class because of a football game.

Said Rubin: "I guess I'll have to excuse Mr. Scrabis for missing last Saturday's class. After all he was working for Bell Telephone Company."

Ironically, Scrabis interviewed for a job with the Bell Telephone Company—the real one—but was turned down because of an ear injury . . . Maybe backfield coach Joe Paterno should apply for the job?

Two Penn State graduates, including last year's football captain Joe Sabol, are coaching one of the best high school teams in the State this season—Central Dauphin of the Harrisburg area . . . Central Dauphin, with Joe Yukica—an end on the 1952 Lion grid team—as head coach, has won eight straight this season . . . including a 60-0 triumph last Friday . . . Sabol is line coach at Central . . .

Incidentally, Sabol, along with Penn State's basketball captain of last season—Ron Rainey—recently enlisted in the Army reserve under the six month plan . . . they plan to enter in January . . . Rainey is currently teaching at a junior high school in Harrisburg.
