

NOT EVEN A TENT? Dozens of students decided six tickets to the Pitt-Penn State football game are worth an overnight vigil in line. The line formed at the ticket office at Beaver Field.

'Devil's Disciple' Tickets

Distribution Set For Tomorrow

Student and non-student tickets for Saturday night's Canadian Players presentation—"The Devil's Disciple"—will be available beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Hetzel Union desk.

Tickets still remain for Saturday's matinee performance of "As You Like It."

The Canadian Players, directed by Denis Carey of the Old Vic Theatre, has a touring group of 30 actors, designers and arrangers. They come from all parts of Canada and from England.

Designer for the group is J. Hutchinson Scott. Scott, like Carey, has many successes to his credit. He recently returned from Edinburgh where he designed the sets for the latest T.S. Elliot play, "The Elder Statesman."

Starring for the Canadian Players are Dawn Greenhalgh and Ted Follows. Both have been with the troupe for three years, and on September 4 were married at Stratford where Follows was a featured player this summer.

Follows plays Orlando and Miss Greenhalgh plays Rosalind in "As You Like It." Miss Greenhalgh was born in Shanghai and brought up in Montreal. Follows was born in Toronto and brought up in various parts of Canada where his father, a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force, was stationed.

He received a B.A. from the University of Toronto, won various awards and scholarships in acting from Drama Festivals and schools and has played with the Citizens Theatre and the Stratford Festival. Another married couple with the troupe are Leo and Colette Leyden. He plays Touchstone and she plays one of the court ladies in "As You Like It." Leyden starred with the Abbey and Gate Theatre in Dublin before coming to Canada two years ago.

The appearance of the Canadian Players is the sixth in the current Artists Series programs. Each performance will begin at 8:30 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium.

LA Council--

(Continued from page one) the member went on, "and each year it mushrooms into something bigger and bigger."

Many professors, said another member, feel that Spring Week event preparations cut much too far into the time students should be spending on academic work.

"Everybody enjoys a carnival," commented one coed, "but I see no sense in having a float parade and all the other contests all at once. Some students just can't cope with it all."

The suggestion for an evaluation was passed by a majority vote.

Byers Defends Party Issues; Campus Party Planks Defended

Howard Byers, University party clique chairman, said two of his party platforms were what a Daily Collegian editorial termed "vague" because the candidates themselves must examine the issues in detail after getting into office.

Byers said the candidates must clear up any difficulties which might arise with the administration and faculty and then support the issues.

Many details must also be worked out by Cabinet committees, Byers said.

The party does not have the facilities to examine all the issues in detail, Byers said. However, he said the candidates do have specific ideas on the planks.

Byers also said there was a lack of space to include all details.

Byers said there is a definite need for free legal advice for students, because of the number of students who come to the faculty and administration for that advice.

About 10 students a day ask legal advice of some member of the faculty or administration, according to Byers. He said this advice cannot be given by the dean of men or dean of women's offices.

The Collegian editorial stated it was doubtful that most students need extensive legal advice during their college careers.

The party didn't undertake to initiate student government reorganization, Byers said, but to support it wholeheartedly.

The party adopted the issue for its platform because it must be advertised and brought to the students for acceptance, Byers said.

When the class of '92 staged a protest against the suspension of a classmate, they too were suspended. But they were reinstated after pitching tents near the University Inn for several days.

The Collegian first appeared as a weekly newspaper in 1904.

Fraternities were forbidden at Penn State until 1887.

James Elliot, Campus party clique chairman, yesterday said his party's planks are not vague and beyond the scope of student government as claimed in a Daily Collegian editorial.

Elliot said the party has outlined specific plans for carrying out the platform planks.

As far as the possibility of establishing a student bookstore and a check cashing service, Elliott said that since the University is planning to expand the Hetzel Union Building, a room could be set aside for a student bookstore. A possibility exists, Elliott said, of incorporating a check cashing service in the student bookstore.

"It would entail additional hired help, but it would be of great aid to students," he added.

Elliott also believes that the student government reorganization plank of University party was put in the platform as a possible vote-getting issue. Since there is a committee of Cabinet already working on this reorganization, there is no reason to include it, he said.

He stated that Campus party will support this reorganization should the party win the forthcoming elections.

Elliott also said the fact that tickets were sold out in four hours for the Artists Series this week points up his party's plank for better Artists Series facilities.

And the interest shown by students in activities at the University's centers, Elliott said, gives "positive proof that the plank" calling for better center communication "is not a vague one."

The familiar obelisk on our campus was built in 1895 by Michael Womer, a stone mason. His great-granddaughter is now attending the University.

Before the turn of the century, students were not reading the Froth but a popular comic magazine called Punch and Fudge.

187 Students Give Blood To 'Mobile'

William Dubbs, freshman in arts and letters from Bloomsburg, was the first student to donate a pint of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile in the Hetzel Union cardroom at 10 a.m. yesterday.

One hundred and ninety-nine students were scheduled to donate blood to the mobile yesterday. Of those scheduled only 117 appeared; but 83 students who had not registered came to donate, bringing the total to 200.

Since 13 students were rejected for medical reasons, only 187 pints of blood were received.

The bloodmobile had hoped to obtain over 200 pints of blood; but it was still a "good day," according to Loren D. Tukey, associate professor of pomology and coordinator of the drive.

The bloodmobile will be in the HUB cardroom from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today.

Alpha Phi Omega, men's national service fraternity, and Gamma Sigma Sigma, women's national service fraternity, are the bloodmobile sponsors at the University.

James A. Knipe, Kenneth Houck and Kenneth Hall are chairmen of the blood drive.

Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Delta sororities sponsored the canteen service which gave coffee, milk and donuts to the donors.

THE NEW SCREEN MUSICAL IN GORGEOUS COLOR by the composers of "MY FAIR LADY"

M-G-M AN ARTHUR FREED PRODUCTION

LESLIE CARON MAURICE CHEVALIER LOUIS JOURDAN HERMIONE GINGOLD · EVA GABOR JACQUES BERGERAC · ISABEL JEANS ALAN JAY LERNER · FREDERICK LOEWE

VINCENTE MINNELLI

STARTS THURSDAY -Feature- 1:10, 3:14, 5:18, 7:25, 9:32

STATE THEATRE

LAST DAY! "In Love and War"

You Still Have Time!

Learn to dance before the holiday parties and dances begin.

Special holiday courses now being offered.

Fox Trot, Jitterbug, Waltz, Rhumba, Samba, Mambo and Cha-Cha.

PARK FOREST VILLAGE SCHOOL OF DANCE AD 8-1078

CATHAUM

Now - 1:56; 4:28, 7:00, 9:30 Wife's Emotions Denied

JEAN SIMMONS' Home Before Dark CHEERLUM - FLEMING - ZIMBAUST

NITTANY

Movie Champions of 1957

TONITE - DOORS OPEN 6:45 Gene Kelly - Kay Kendall

"LES GIRLS"

THURSDAY BURT LANCASTER "THE RAINMAKER"

WMAJ

Table with radio program schedule including times and program names like Sign On, Morning Show, News, Sports, etc.