Engle Blasts Effigy Hangings

By Lou Prato
Sports Editor

With all the "lynchings" of college football coaches this fall, it's a wonder an effigy of Penn State's Rip Engle hasn't been found dangling from a tree—or goal post—yet. After all, there have been so many "complaints" about the Lions' so-called "poor" season one would think Engle would have joined the gang by now.

That's what a member of the State College Quarterback Club jokingly asked the Lion coach at the group's weekly meeting Wednesday noon.

"I'll tell you why," Engle said. "It's because the people in State College and most of the students realize that a coach can't be blamed for everything. This is a great place to coach—and I'm proud to coach around here."

"Let me tell you how asinine these things can be, though," Engle added. "Four of the coaches that have been 'hung' recently have been named 'Coach-of-the-Year' in recent years, including last year's (number one) coach, Woody Hayes of Ohio State. Duff Daugherty of Michigan State won the honor two years ago and he has also been hung. So has Bennie Oosterban of Michigan and Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee."

Engle added more on this subject in the Penn State locker room Wednesday afternoon.

"Some of those people (who are responsible for the effigy hangings) don't stop to realize it may be something else besides coaching," Engle said. "Look at us. With a couple of breaks here and there we would have a 7-1 season today (rather than a 4-3-1). We (the coaches) had no way of stopping injuries; and fumbles and penalties happen to every team."

"As I have been saying for the last couple of weeks, this is the best offensive team I have ever had. They block better, run better—do everything better but win. Maybe those breaks will even up in our last two games."

Returning to that Quarterback Club rendezvous, there was plenty of good-natured joking over the Lions' fumbling antics in the West Virginia game. Backfield coach Joe Paterno, who narrated the Mountie game film to the club members, made the best comment in describing Richie Lucas' successful run for the extra points on the fake kick formation. "That's just a new play," Paterno said. "And in it, Richie has the option of running or passing—or fumbling."

Just how good is Penn State's undefeated freshman team? We put this question to a rival frosh from Pittsburgh last week. The Lion Cubs beat the Little Panthers, 19-6, two weeks ago.

"We thought that line was really good," said rookie center Andy Kuznewski. "I don't think we faced a tougher lineman all year than (Jay) Huffman, your center."

Top Nittany Runner

Lenny Moore, now with the Baltimore Colts, owns Penn State rushing records for one season (1082 yards) and career (2380).

He's a great blocker. We also thought (Lynn) Drake was good. And that right end (Bill Saul) played a good game against us. "We didn't think much of the backfield as a whole," Kuznewski added, "but we did like (Mike) Daniels. He's one of the best we've faced this year."

Lindfors' 212 Tops In IM Bowling

Dick Lindfors bowled a 212 in the third game to lead Phi Kappa Sigma to a victory over Delta Theta Sigma in intramural bowling last night.

In other contests Kappa Sigma shut out Theta Delta Chi with Sam Githens rolling a 198 first game and a 518 total. Tau Phi Delta edged Zeta Beta Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha defeated Alpha Gamma Rho, and Delta Chi, with Charles Kreh rolling a first game 206, beat Alpha Phi Delta.

Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Sigma Phi, the two leaders in the league, will meet on Nov. 16 due to a cancellation last night.

Penn State's basketball team runs into a pair of toughies early, opening the season Dec. 1 at North Carolina State, and meeting West Virginia in Morgantown just five days later.

ZBT, Birddogs Win

TKE Poses Top Threat In IM Cage

Tau Kappa Epsilon bounded into a spotlight position as a result of its 23-14 victory over Kappa Delta Rho, last year's intramural fraternity basketball champions. Lou Trautmann led the way in TKE's scoring effort by pouring in 11 counters.

Other fraternity league C games showed Sigma Phi Epsilon edging Alpha Zeta, 28-27; Delta Tau Delta downing Phi Sigma Kappa, 22-12; Pi Kappa Phi defeating Theta Delta Chi, 23-19; and Tau Phi Delta stopping Alpha Epsilon Pi, 26-19.

Zeta Beta Tau rallied to an 18-16 win over Sigma Tau Gamma in fraternity league E. Beta Theta Pi downed Triangle, 26-17; Alpha Chi Rho smothered Pi Sigma Upsilon, 48-13; Sigma Nu beat Alpha Kappa Lambda 17-12; and Phi Gamma Delta defeated Phi Delta Theta, 30-11.

In other games this week Delta Upsilon beat Delta Theta Sigma, 27-18; Pi Kappa Alpha defeated Theta Xi, 24-15; Alpha Tau Omega squeaked past Phi Kappa Tau, 21-20; and Sigma Pi downed Omega Psi Phi, 16-8.

The Bird Dogs edged past Dorm 21, 29-28; the Donairs defeated the Forty Thieves, 34-17; the Imperials, with Hastings hitting for 11, beat Pop's Panthers, 24-12; the Motogimps topped the Thompson Hoods, 25-14; and the Diggers, led by Watson Brown's 12 points, outscored the Jordan Jokers, 40-24.

One of Nine in Family

Penn State's ace half-miler, Ed Moran, of Kane, Pa., is the youngest of nine children, six sisters included.

Shirt Satellite Launched!

The first Shirt Satellite is finally a reality! Just yesterday, during their lunch hour, Van Heusen scientists launched a Van Heusen Century Shirt into the stratosphere. It's now circling the earth 180,000 miles up, in an orbit so large that a grown man couldn't walk it, even in a whole day! Traveling at the legal 35 miles per hour, it is expected that the Van Heusen Century Shirt Satellite will remain up there in the blue beyond for at least 1200 years. And, with luck, maybe 1201.

"But," you will ask, "what value will the Shirt Satellite have for science?" Just this, friend! It will further prove the immutable law that the soft collar on Van Heusen Century Shirts won't wrinkle . . . ever! You see, the slick Van Heusen physicists have attached an electronic Wrinkle-rieter to the collar of the Van Heusen Century

Shirt. This clever device will constantly send back electronic reports on the condition of the collar, so, for 1200 years, we earthlings will have absolute proof that the soft collar on Van Heusen Shirts won't wrinkle . . . ever. Should you ever have any doubts, just drop in to the Van Heusen office, and listen to the reports coming back from the Shirt Satellite.

One more thing—the Van Heusen Century Shirt Satellite will drop back to the earth in the spring of 3157 (possibly 3158) and you're all invited to the return party! If, in the meantime, you want to see the Van Heusen Century Shirt, you can at your campus haberdashery. He has them in 5 collar styles, in white, stripes and colors. $4 & $5. At better stores everywhere or write: Phillips-Van Heusen Corporation, 417 Fifth Ave., New York 16, N.Y.
