

Running of Pitt's QB's Threatens Lions Defense

Although Pitt coach John Michelosen has patterned his "new" Panther offense around the forward pass, Lion scout Sever "Tor" Toretti feels the running of the Panther quarterbacks is the Lions' number one defensive problem.

"This year Michelosen is using the pass as the primary offensive weapon," Toretti said. "But if we're going to beat them we'll have to stop the quarterbacks—

Ivan Tonic and Bill Kaliden." "Kaliden licked us on the roll-outs last year and off one he threw the 45-yard pass to Scherer that won the game for them." (The Scherer TD tied the score, 13-13, and Norton Seaman kicked the winning extra point.)

Toretti also pointed out that Kaliden, although playing on the second team behind Tonic, had not lost his running touch as he scored the winning TD against Notre Dame on a rollout.

"Tonic and Kaliden are real fine passers," added Toretti. "And they have two other boys who can throw a good pass."

Tonic has the best aerial record. He's completed 40 of 62 passes, for 610 yards, and four TD's (with six interceptions). Kaliden has completed 39 of 81, for 549 yards, and 3 TD's (and only four interceptions).

The third passer—sophomore quarterback Ed Schrockman—hit on 8 of 25 tosses and one TD. The fourth thrower is halfback Dick "The Comet" Haley. The flashy halfback throws off the option play and, according to Toretti, is very effective. He's completed five of nine (and had two intercepted.)

Haley is Pitt's best all-around back. On the ground "The Comet" has gained 272 yards in 80 runs, for a 3.4 average. He leads in punt and kickoff returns and scoring, with six TD's.

The only back with more yardage is fullback Fred Riddle, with 296 yards and a 3.0 average. Riddle was a major factor in the Pitt win last year, gaining 75 yards on 17 carries. Toretti calls Riddle a "hard running" fullback whose main asset is his excellent blocking.

Bob Stark, who was the Panthers' number one fullback until injured early in the season, is expected to be ready for the Lions. Statistically, he was their leading runner, with 102 yards and an enviable 5.6 average.

The Jungle Cats' sports publicist Carrol "Beano" Cook (who is well publicized himself) wants everyone to know that the Panther-Lion game "will not be televised, under any circumstances." He also says tickets are still available.

ND, Iowa Top Offenses

NEW YORK (AP)—For wide open "anything goes" offense, Saturday's meeting between Iowa and Notre Dame promises to take the prize.

Iowa leads the nation's major college football powers in total offense with an average gain of 399.6 yards in its first eight games. The Hawkeyes, already crowned Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl visitors, rate among the top 10 in both ground and aerial work.

Brigham Young became the rushing leader with a 268.2 average when Colorado, last week's No. 1 team, was held to 62 yards on the ground by Utah on a snowy day in Salt Lake City. Penn State is second at 258.4.

Notre Dame, moving up fast on a blazing November spurt by quarterback George Izo, ranks No. 4 in total offense with an average gain of 370.5 yards.

In three November games Iowa has passed and run at a 426-yard-a-game clip. Notre Dame has averaged 469.3 yards in its last three, mostly on Izo's passing.

Army and Navy, who have a most important date Nov. 29 in Philadelphia, both are among the leaders in offense.

Army is second with an average gain of 384.1 yards. Navy is 10th with a 335.3 mark. The Air Force Academy is third at 371.8.

Team Rejects Coach Paterno

Pittsburgh Scout Caught In Gridiron Espionage

By "BLACK JOHN" BLACK

A second State College Crime wave has just been solved. In a daring escapade that brought everyone but J. Edgar Hoover to Beaver Field in a vigilant manhunt yesterday, Alfred E. Kosnosky, from Pitt, was caught spying on the secret practice session of the The Daily Collegian "Pro" grid squad.

Local authorities said a crush-proof box of pencil crayons in his shirt pocket may also be a shred of evidence as to the identity of the phantom painter that struck the Nittany Lion statue and Pattee Library pillars last weekend.

Under harsh interrogation Kosnosky pleaded innocence saying "Coach Michelosen sent me up to scout for the big game and this team looked so big and so polished that I thought it must be the varsity."

He is being held without bail at the County Jail pending investigation of reports that he was trying to steal Beaver Field. His unconcerned statement was, "I did it mostly for fun. I amused myself by sitting on top of the press box watchin' the cops search for me."

After it was learned that "Beano" Cook, Pitt publicity director had been linked to a $50,000 contract to coach the Pitt news aggregation, benefactors of the Collegian team pulled out all stops to find a first rate mentor for the bearers of the Blue and White.

Joe Paterno, a Lion coach, volunteered for the job, but rigid investigation proved he had an ulterior motive. He claims it is the coach's right to keep "The Trophy."

Printer Bill Canouse was considered until he demanded overtime if practice lasted later than 2 a.m.

Then the selection board came up with the name of a highly-touted but virtually unknown coach—Collegian Personnel Director Pat Evans. Most fans overlook the fact that Pat experienced unlimited success a few years ago coaching little league teams; besides, she has the psychological advantage of distracting the opposing team while on the field.

She follows Riv Engle's policy of coaching in Bermuda shorts. But the deciding factor in Pat's selection was her renunciation of any desire to keep "The Trophy."

League Leading ATO Bowlers Tied by TDC

In fraternity League B competition Wednesday night Theta Delta Chi tied league-leader Alpha Tau Omega, 2-2. Theta Delta Chi rolled an 836 to take high game honors for the evening.

In other League B action, Kent Pinkerton with a 188 single led Lambda Chi Alpha to a 4-0 shut-out over Delta Sigma Phi.

A 542 triple by Jim Adams enabled Kappa Sigma to tie Delta Chi, 2-2.

In other League B games, Alpha Phi Delta defeated Tau Phi Delta, 3-1; Delta Theta Sigma shutout Zeta Beta Tau, 4-0; and Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Kappa Sigma rolled to a draw.

Alpha Tau Omega will have an opportunity to improve its league-leading record by playing a canceled game on Nov. 23.
