A bid to the Gator Bowl and a Christmas vacation in Jacksonville, Fla., could be awaiting the winner of the Penn State-Pitt football clash Thanksgiving Day.

In a telephone conversation with The Daily Collegian last night, Sam Wolfson, chairman of the Gator Bowl selection committee, said that both teams "will definitely be considered" for the Dec. 27 extravaganza.

"Pitt has been on our list from the beginning," Wolfson said, "and we will put Penn State on the list at our meeting Wednesday. We certainly will be watching the results of the game."

Wolfson said he will send two scouts to the Turkey Day affair as well as a delegation to the Texas-Texas A&M and South Carolina-Wake Forest battles the same day.

"Right now, George Olson, our general manager, and myself lean toward Pitt," Wolfson said. "But we certainly wouldn't invite Pitt if State beat them."

Questioned about the absence of the Lions from bowl consideration earlier Wolfson said: "They just weren't on our list when we started. We made our first list on Oct. 11 and at that time Penn State had lost two games and won one. Since then we have dwindled the list down."

"We haven't left Penn State off with any tentative prejudice. We think they have a fine team, but we have to go along on recommendations from the Eastern press. We can't get around to see all the teams play and so we go on what the press says."

"Originally we had Pitt, Syracuse and Boston College from the East. They were the best three teams according to the Eastern newsmen. Now we're down to Pitt, but we will add State at our meeting."

Wolfson said that another reason the Lions had been absent was their record.

"Outside of Pitt and Syracuse and possibly Holy Cross and West Virginia, you haven't played."

Western Unity Predicted For Crisis in Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles yesterday predicted western unity and firmness in defending West Berlin while western experts studied proposals to ram armed convoys through any Communist blockade of the divided city.

Dulles emphasized the united stand to dispel reports that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany were split over how far to go in blocking the Soviet Union move to drive the Western Big Three out of the city.

Talk of tank-led convoys and armored trains is heard from some Western officials in the event of an East German blockade of this isolated city.

It is one proposed answer if—as expected shortly—the Soviet Union transfers to East Germany controls over Western lifelines to West Berlin.

The West Germans are balking at an alternative plan under study by the United States, Britain and France for accepting East German controls on a nonrecognition basis.

"I think it is an impossible idea that the Western powers place themselves under the control of the regime in East Germany," said West Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt in a radio interview Monday.

Dulles, who spoke at the Washington airport, ruled out any immediate Allied meeting on Berlin which would dramatize the Allied intention of standing firm.

"The Soviets could always make one necessary, but we don't know yet what their plans are. There have been hints and suggestions but no clear indication of their intentions one way or the other," Dulles said.

"I am confident that whatever position they manifest will be met with unity and firmness."

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe backed up Dulles' contention that there was no major differences about how to meet Soviet maneuvers.

As he left for emergency consultations with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Grewe told newsmen at the State Department: "I feel there is complete, basic agreement between our governments."

In Bonn, West German Foreign Office sources said the get-tough idea is gaining ground among the Western Allies.

Party Favor Lifted; Men Get Haircut

It was open house Friday night at the dean of men's office at the University of Pittsburgh and five sneaky Penn State students attended.

However, the party wasn't much of a success since they were the only ones there. So they decided to take a party favor before leaving.

Much to the disgruntlement of Pitt officials, the favor was the

THE OPEN HOUSE attendees sent in this picture of the Coal Scuttle in an anonymous letter.

Coal Scuttle Trophy awarded each year to the winner of the State-Pitt football game.

Actually the trophy came into their hands as the result of a carefully planned scheme which began with a trip to the Pitt

Snow Is Expected For Travel Days

By JUDY ROBERTSON

Snow flurries and the chance of freezing rain have been predicted by the weatherman for today and tomorrow, citing the possibility of treacherous driving conditions for home-bound students.

Clouds and light rain or snow are expected to blanket the state today, tomorrow and stretching into Thursday, the day of the Pitt-Penn State game.

Thanksgiving Day will be one of the quietest of the season on campus in spite of expected bad driving conditions, with most students enjoying the game or a turkey dinner at home. All offices will be closed that day.

However, the few students staying on campus will be able to use the Pattee Library from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. The library can be used from 7:50 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and it will be closed all day Sunday.

Anyone wanting to use the Hetzel Union Building's facilities can do so until 8 p.m. Wednesday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Both the HUB and Terrace Room will be closed Thanksgiving Day.

The Lion's Den will close at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday and re-open Sunday at 11:30 a.m. The Terrace Room will be open Friday and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Everyone, of course, having heard of the Pitt-Penn State game will be cheering State's team onto victory. This isn't the only game to be played that day.

This will be the last issue of Collegian until next Tuesday.

All will be calm on campus after 4 p.m. tomorrow when the residence halls close. The last meal to be served in the dining halls will be tomorrow lunch before the recess which begins at 11:50 a.m. tomorrow and ends Monday, December 1 at 1 a.m. Monday morning breakfast will be the first meal served after Thanksgiving recess.

Fall Semester Exam Schedule To Be Printed

The Collegian will print the final exam schedule Dec. 3.

Final exams for the fall semester begin at 8 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 15, and end at 5:30 p.m., Friday, Jan. 23. Exam periods are as follows: 8-10 a.m.; 10:20 a.m.-12:20 p.m.; 1:10-3:10 p.m.; 3:30-5:30 p.m.; and 7-9 p.m.

Students having two exams at the same time will have to file a conflict exam card with the University scheduling office, 2 Willard. The course and section should be noted on the card. All conflicts must be in by 5 p.m. Dec. 10.

Students having more than three exams on the same day may file a conflict exam request.

Students who expect to receive their degrees at the close of the fall semester and who have an exam scheduled later than 7 p.m., Jan. 19, must file a conflict card, since grades of students who expect to graduate Jan. 25, must be in the office of the registrar by 9 a.m. Jan. 21.

Henninger Will Present Music Program Tonight

A special Thanksgiving program entitled, "Face the Music," will be presented tonight by G. William Henninger, professor of music, over radio stations WDFM and WMAJ.

Junior Panhel Group to Be Organized

By JANET DURSTINE

Panhellenic Council has formed a Junior Panhellenic Council, consisting of sorority pledge class presidents and one delegate from each sorority.

The group will hold its organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 2 in the Kappa Delta suite.

Dorothy Toklish, Panhellenic Council coordinator, said one of the junior council's purposes is to better coordinate the sororities' activities by having the pledges work together.

At the first meeting the pledges will discuss sororities, philanthropies, activities and purposes and what a coed can give to a sorority and vice versa.

Two other meetings will be held this semester. The second meeting, on Dec. 16, will be concerned with the activities and regulations of the parent Panhellenic Council.

Miss Toklish said many coeds join sororities without understanding Panhel.

Either a lecture or a discussion on city and national Panhellenic Councils will be held at the third meeting, Jan. 6. The pledges will be told how they can join city or national councils when they become alumnae.

She said some sororities may send a different person as pledge delegate to each meeting, so more coeds may participate. Those attending the meeting must report to their pledge classes.

A secretary will probably be elected, Miss Toklish said, but she

Coeds Granted Special Hours

Special late permissions have been granted women students to attend the post pep rally dance tonight in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

Upperclass women will have 11 o'clock permissions and freshman women will have special 10 o'clocks, the dean of women's office said.

The pep rally will feature a song and cheer contest between sorority, fraternity and independent groups, beginning at 7 p.m. in front of Old Main. The rally is sponsored by Cwens and Delphi hat societies.

Following the rally, which is expected to be this year's biggest, the dance will be held in the ballroom with music provided by the "Ivy Rocks" combo.
