Intern Program Aids Accounting Majors

In the first half of the spring semester 32 accounting majors will leave campus to work for certified public accounting firms under the Accounting Internship Program.

The program, sponsored by the Accounting and Statistics Department of the College of Business Administration, serves

County Hospital Treats Student's Football Injury

A University student was discharged by Centre County Hospital yesterday where he had been receiving treatment for an injury suffered in a sandlot football game.

Stephen Klein, freshman in business administration from Rydal, severed the tendons in his right arm Thursday while playing football with other students between Nittany 32 and 33.

While reaching back to catch the ball, his hand went through a window in Nittany 32.

David Schwartz, freshman in mechanical engineering from Upper Darby, gave Klein first-aid.

After receiving treatment for lacerations of the arm in the Ritenour Health Centre dispensary, Klein was taken by ambulance to Centre County Hospital.

He was discharged yesterday, and his parents took him home.

Klein will report for classes Monday. His right arm is expected to be in a cast for about four weeks.

Phi Gamma Delta was built on the University campus in 1915.

Closed Sessions For Registration To Be Posted

Closed section notices for registration will be distributed by members of the Junior Class Advisory Board next semester.

They will be posted in dormitories and fraternities and on bulletin boards on campus twice a day during registration, William Jaffe, a member of the board, said at Sunday's meeting.

He said previously the notices were sent only to advisors' offices and that they were printed only once a day.

The board has also decided to have a junior class emblem that can be bought by all juniors. Members of the board will vote on submitted designs and pick one to be manufactured.

A proposal to show prospective freshmen around campus was also approved. Members will give prospective freshmen and their parents tours of the campus on Saturday mornings. It has not been decided when the tours will start.

In other business the board discussed a statement of aims and will vote on them at the next meeting.

A proposal to add bluebooks to the file in the library was defeated because of other existing files such as those in fraternities and sororities and in residence hall areas.

Skating Rink To Be Opened Thanksgiving

Weather permitting, the University's ice rink will open for skating Thanksgiving Day.

Opening-day hours will be 1 to 5 p.m. only. Robert B. Rutherford Jr., supervisor of the rink, said the daily schedule will go into effect Friday.

Regular hours will be 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.

As in the past, a special session for community youngsters will be held each Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m.

The rink will be flooded until sometime in March, and during the rest of the year its 20,000 square feet of space will be used for the other indoor activities.

This is the fifth year for the ice rink. Future improvements include a roof and a concrete floor.

Shading of the rink from the sun is expected to provide a longer skating season. Warm days have previously interrupted the season.

The concrete floor will replace a base which is now sand. The surface will be specially treated to remain smooth.

The area will provide space for ping-pong tables, volleyball, golf driving nets, badminton and other indoor sports.

In addition, summer session activities, such as band concerts, movies and other events usually held outdoors, will be moved to the rink during rainy weather.

Student Burglars Prove 'You Can't Trust Friends'

By DON CASCIATO

Sometimes you can't trust your best friend, it has been said by some cynics and philosophers.

These days, this is also being said by the friends and acquaintances of Barry Benson, William Verity and Edgar Earl Moyer Jr. The three students were convicted last week for a series of 23 burglaries in downtown State College and on campus. Estimates of the thefts' value range from $1600 to $2000 in goods and money.

Students living in the same unit with Benson in Thompson Hall said they didn't suspect a thing. Although he appeared irrational and temperamental at times, he was liked by his fellow students in the residence hall.

Franklin Pierce, his counselor, said "He seemed contented, played the part of a boy from a good family, and was well-mannered."

"I was overwhelmed when I heard that he was connected with the burglaries," Pierce said. He added, "Benson was the last person I would have suspected of such a thing."

Benson's father is a vice president for Acme Markets' Philadelphia branch.

Perhaps the dormmate who clarified his statement with the remark that Benson was outwardly a good guy was the closest to the truth.

The exclamations about Verity's and Moyer's behavior resemble those made by Benson's friends.

One student who knew all three boys said he doesn't think the seriousness of their acts has hit them yet. The student, who is still shocked at their escapades, asked that his name be withheld.

He did say that although they seemed like nice guys, they tended to be smart alecks once in a while. He added he thought Benson was almost engaged. All three were in engineering curriculums and were said to be intelligent.

IFC Head Pollock To Attend Meeting

Edward Hintz, Interfraternity Council president, and O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, will attend the National Interfraternity Conference meeting Dec. 4, 5 and 6 in Atlanta, Ga.

Hintz is a member of the Undergraduate Planning Committee for the national meeting. He will have charge of the opening session panel discussion, "Return to Fraternity Ideals."

Interfraternity Council Cancels Dec. 1 Meeting

The Interfraternity Council will hold its next regular meeting Dec. 8, possibly in the form of a dinner meeting, Edward Hintz, IFC president, said.

Originally the council had planned to meet Dec. 1. Fraternities interested in hosting a dinner meeting should contact Hintz.

Service Groups Will Sponsor Textbook Drive

Gamma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega, service sorority and fraternity, will conduct a book drive for Asian students Dec. 8 to 12.

This drive will be for the benefit of the Asian Foundation, a non-profit, non-political organization founded by private American citizens to achieve a better understanding of the peoples of Asia, their histories, cultures and values.

Students have been asked to donate all university and college level books published after 1945 and works by standard authors published before 1945. The standard authors are Dickens, Hawthorne, Hemingway, Plato, James, Huxley and other prominent writers.

These books will supply tools for learning to the Asians, enlarge understanding of the Western community of thought, and aid English language literacy. Fourteen countries from Afghanistan eastward to Japan will be the recipients of the books.

Students are asked to bring books that they will not be using anymore, back to school after the Thanksgiving holidays to donate to this drive.

Collection points will be Redifer, McElwain and Waring Halls, Nittany 20 and the Hetzel Union Building.

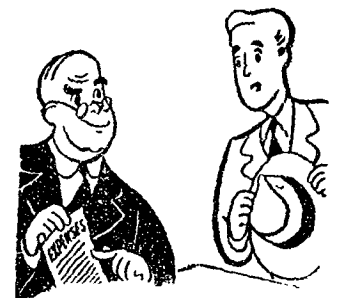

Baker Defeats Japp In Ping-Pong Tourney

James Baker, freshman in electrical engineering from Monessen, was the winner of last week's ping-pong tournament for Nittany men.

Baker, from Nittany 36, defeated James Japp, freshman in metallurgy from Cannonsburg and a resident of Nittany 35, for the $5 prize.

Eighteen men participated in the tournament which took place in the Nittany Union Building.

Passenger cars in the U.S. travel an average of 9359 miles per year. Passenger car advertisers invested over 13 per cent more in newspaper advertising in 1957 than in the previous year.

"See here Jones, you can't drive 40 miles just to eat at Christy's!"

With traveling folk we've passed the test They try them all and pick the best.
