

Allies in Favor Of Talks on Berlin

LONDON (AP)—Key Allied leaders came out yesterday for talks with the Soviet Union aimed at settling the whole question of divided Germany.

Their views on the Berlin crisis were linked with speculation that a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be in the minds of some Allied statesmen.

Dems Deny Illicit Use Of Private Aid

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Elections Bureau reported yesterday four corporations made financial contributions to the Democratic party in apparent violation of the law.

However, party spokesmen said money coming from the firms was for advertising and not for campaign expenses in the Nov. 4 elections. They said the funds were erroneously entered as campaign expense contributions.

The corporations were the Somerset Limestone Co., Inc., Somerset; New Enterprise Stone and Lime Co., Inc., and New Enterprise Equipment and Supply Co., Inc., both of New Enterprise, and the Lynn Construction Co., Pittsburgh.

The first three each gave $100 to the Cambria County Democratic Committee and Lynn $50, according to a report filed with the Elections Bureau.

Albert E. Eberman, director of the bureau, said that while corporate contributions are prohibited by law his bureau is powerless under the elections code to challenge them.

But one united resolve qualified willingness to negotiate. It was that there must be no surrender to Khrushchev's plan for making West Berlin a neutralized free city shorn of the protection of U.S., British and French garrisons.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons he wrote to Khrushchev 10 days ago serving notice that Britain means to stay put in the former German capital.

Adenauer, President Eisenhower and French Premier Charles de Gaulle all have gone on record in favor of a summit discussion on the issue of German unification.

They did this before the current Berlin crisis blew up. Information here suggests they still would support the idea if it promised a chance of progress.

In other developments yesterday

Macmillan made clear that positive Allied counterproposals are likely to be placed before the Soviet Union on the German question.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd refused to propose postponing supply of nuclear weapons to West Germany and other Atlantic Pact powers in Europe.

The West Berlin city government warned the Allies against accepting Communist East German border guards.

Fire Imperils Resort Area U.S. Asks Russians Stop Radio Jamming

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Devastating flames, fanned by hot desert winds, swept the hills near this Southern California resort yesterday—much as they did in a disastrous blaze two years ago.

Two fires broke out on the inland slope of the Santa Monica Mountains, quickly joined and raced toward the sea.

Thousands of residents were evacuated. Several expensive homes were reported burned.

There were no reported injuries. By late afternoon 10,000 acres were charred.

Complicating the picture, two new fires burst out. One was in Topanga Canyon four miles east of the blaze. Another was near Thousand Oaks, four miles west. Both could join with the major blaze.

Firemen said they suspect arson because of the quick succession of blazes.

The scene encompassed brushy, oak-dotted slopes five miles inland from here and 30 miles west of downtown Los Angeles.

Resort homes of Hollywood film stars, including Bob Hope's ranch, were endangered by the fierce Santa Ana winds and hot dry blasts from the desert.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States yesterday appealed to the Soviet Union to end jamming of foreign radio broadcasts as one way of removing barriers to friendly cooperation with the West.

U.S. Delegate George M. Harrison estimated the Soviet Union spends 100 million dollars a year to maintain 2500 jamming transmitters.

Harrison told the U.N. special political committee the Kremlin started out with a dozen in 1948 when the Soviet Union began jamming broadcasts of the U.S. State Department's Voice of America.

He said this "army of jammers is one of the largest radio systems in the world" representing a capital investment of 250 million dollars.

It is five or six times more expensive than all the broadcasting of the Voice of America, in all languages, to all parts of the world. Yet it broadcasts nothing but meaningless noise," Harrison said.

"Its purpose, which it partly accomplishes, is to shut off the peoples of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Communist bloc from outside broadcasts in all their native languages. This includes broadcasts not only by the United States but by other countries too—and even by the United Nations itself."

Union, Coal Co. May Sign Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—An agreement on a new bituminous industry coal contract was reported to have been reached yesterday.

An informed source said Edward G. Fox, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., has been authorized by his board of directors to sign the agreement with the United Mine Workers Union as soon as language could be agreed upon.

No details were immediately available. Industry sources have said that UMW President John L. Lewis was seeking a two dollar a day pay boost for the 180,000 soft coal miners whose basic wage has been $22.25 a day.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, was reported to have met with his union Wage Policy Committee for the purpose of ratifying the deal.

Physician Asks 'Humane Care'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The nation's new outstanding family doctor of the year wishes all physicians would practice medicine from the humane side, caring for any patient needing their services.

And that's the life story of Dr. Lonnie A. Coffin, 68, a kindly mannered onetime horse-and-buggy doctor from Farmington, Iowa.

He was named general practitioner of the year Tuesday by the American Medical Assn's policy-making body, the House of Delegates.

"I am worried that a small minority of doctors look at their practice from the commercial side," he told a news conference.

"But it is a very small minority. The majority of doctors do a good job."

What's the difference between today's medical patients and those seen nearly a half century ago?

More of today's patients, both rural and in the towns, suffer from psychosomatic complaints.

"Its tension caused by fast-clip living," he said.

More Job Opportunities Seen for Heart Patients

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A physician contended yesterday that thousands of heart patients are able to hold down jobs thought too rigorous for them.

Dr. Edward E. Gordon of Chicago blamed the situation on standard classifications that guide doctors in determining how much energy a patient expends in various work tasks and recreation.

These classifications set limits, ranging from no restriction to marked restriction, based on how heart patients react while performing the tasks.

Dr. Gordon said the classifications make no distinction between continuous and intermittent work, although most work and domestic activities fall into the intermittent class.

The worker gives short bursts of high energy output followed by pauses.

It appears quite possible that overcaution has been the rule in regulating physical activity, he said.

"Now reah-ly dah-ling, don't fret. Your Afghan will turn up in COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS."

Justice Department Rules Audit for All Pa. Schools

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Justice Department made Pennsylvania's 2,500 school districts subject to annual audit by the state in a sweeping ruling yesterday.

The unprecedented decision written by Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride interpreted state law to empower the auditor general to go into each school district to examine the books. Spot or random checks of selected districts would not carry out the letter of the law, McBride added.

The ruling probably will need action by the 1959 Legislature to become effective. It was estimated the audit would cost about two to three million dollars a year and would require twice the present staff of Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith.

At present, school auditors are a local responsibility.

Richard Eisenhour, general counsel to the auditor general, said it would be "physically impossible" to get into such a broad auditing program for any period less than six months.

Smith's request for a Justice Department ruling was prompted by a teachers' strike in West Mahanoy Twp., Schuylkill County, where the high school was closed down amid demands for a state audit of the district's books.

chial schools across the country.

A spokesman replied, "We're just interested to see if there is anything there for us all."

The bodies will be buried in a special section of Queen of Heaven Cemetery. The section is known as Holy Innocents Shrine.

The main investigative effort was to find a definite answer to the question: How did it happen and why?

Fire Commissioner Quinn says boys who handled the waste baskets will be questioned.

He said the school janitor, John Raymond, 43, who is in a hospital, also will be questioned in the quest for information.
