

Grapplers to Kickoff Winter Sports Tonite Against Red Raiders

By LOU PRATO

Penn State's wrestling team inaugurates the home portion of the 1958-59 winter sports calendar—and its own season schedule—this evening when it hosts unbeaten Colgate at Recreation Hall.

The first match will start at 8 p.m.

Coach Charlie Speidel, who will embark on his 33rd campaign as head mat coach for the Nittanians, will send a semi-veteran lineup into the meet.

Four of tonight's starters are lettermen, including three who saw action in Penn State's 18-8 win over Colgate last year. That quartet is made up of Don Johnston, Guy Guccione, Sam Minor and George Gray.

Johnston, slated to open at 137-pounds, was the only man who missed last year's Colgate meet. Guccione and Gray came up with victories, but Minor bowed to the Red Raider's new captain Fritz Schult, 6-3.

Guccione will go at 147 tonight and Gray at 167. Minor earned the 157-pound berth by edging highly-touted sophomore Jerry Seckler in a double overtime elimination bout.

Out of Speidel's other starters, only two have previous varsity experience—juniors Don Wilson, the 130-pound entry, and Hank Barone, the 177-pound man.

However, this will be Wilson's first meet as a Penn Stater. His previous varsity action was at Ohio State two years ago.

Barone, the sensation of pre-season drills this winter, garnered a 0-1-1 dual meet record for the Lions last year and a 1-1 tournament mark. However, that was not enough to earn a varsity letter.

Senior Joe Cramp, 123, and sophomore Johnston Oberly, unlimited, are the other Lion starters. Cramp gained the nod by edging.

Only 500 Reserve Seats Remain for Gym Meet

There are 500 reserve seat tickets remaining for the performance of the Finnish Gym Team scheduled for Jan. 9.

Tickets will be on sale this morning from 8 a.m. to noon at the ticket office.

Reserve seats cost $2 and unreserved seats cost $1.

Candlelight Yule Service Will Be Held

The annual Christmas candlelight service at 10:55 tonight in Schwab Auditorium will feature the music of the Chapel Choir, the Meditation Chapel Choirs, members of the Blue Band and the Symphony Orchestra, and the University organist, George Ceiga.

Before the service at 10:20 p.m., a Carol Sing will be held in front of Schwab, with Raymond H. Brown, assistant professor of music, directing the carolers.

Included in the service will be the traditional carols, "Angels We Have Heard on High," "As Joseph Was A-Walking," "I Sing of a Maiden," and "Man, Be Merry."

"Hosanna to the Son of David," and "To Us Is Born Emanuel" and an original composition by George Ceiga, "Antiphonal Anthem for Christmas" will be featured as antiphonal anthems for both the choirs and instruments.

Other compositions sung and played will include "The Three Kings," "Wake, Awake for Night is Flying," "Brightest and Best," "From Highest Heaven," and "Come and Thank Him," and "Beside Thy Cradle Here I Stand," the latter two from Johann Sebastian Bach's "The Christmas Oratorio."

The doors to Schwab will be open one-half hour before the service.

Centers May Join In Campus Events

By DENNY MALICK

Realizing a need for integration between centers and the main campus, All-University Cabinet has established a committee to enable center students to take part in activities here.

Approving a recommendation by the Executive Committee, Cabinet instructed the committee to set up a system, possibly by next semester, to:

- Allow center students to attend athletic events.
- Allow them to attend Artist Series events.
- Provide for other fields of feasible integration.

In another Executive Committee recommendation, Cabinet decided to reinvestigate the possibility of a flash card system for football games.

Concerning the center integration, Robert LaBar, president of the Agriculture Student Council, reported that students at the Mont Alto Center are the only ones who pay the same fees as main campus students.

He added that special designation was made to the Artist Series since many of these performances are held in Recreation Building where more students can be accommodated.

Stephen Ott was appointed interim chairman of the center integration committee.

The flash card proposal was introduced to the Executive Committee by cheerleader Lanny Dey.

The card system was tried last year but was not successful. The lack of height to the stands, the poor viewing angle and the difficulty of getting enough students to cooperate in the system contributed to its failure.

In other business, Cabinet voted to buy blazers with a University emblem for members of the Finnish gymnastic team which will perform here Jan. 9.

All-University President Jay Feldstein said these would be similar to ones given to members of the Swedish team in 1955.

The blazers would cost about $7 apiece, he said, since Cabinet should be able to obtain them wholesale.

Fire Damages Goodwin Home In 90-Minute Afternoon Blaze

3 Rooms Burned; Bad Wires Cited

A fire at the home of H. Eugene Goodwin, director of the School of Journalism, yesterday, occupied Alpha firemen for ninety minutes and resulted in partial damage to the house located at 329 W. Ridge Ave.

No one was injured in the blaze which damaged two second floor rear bedrooms and a bathroom. Firemen said the blaze was probably caused by faulty electrical wires, which entered the Goodwin house near the damaged rooms.

The fire was discovered by William Fisher, Bellefonte, a driver for Balfurd cleaners, who entered the house and called Alpha Fire Co. The first alarm was sounded at 2:45 p.m., and a second at 2:55 p.m.

In battling the blaze, firemen were forced to make two holes in the roof of the home to better use their equipment. The flame was extinguished by 4 p.m., although the firemen remained until 4:30 p.m. to be sure the blaze was completely out.

After contacting Alpha Fire Co., Fisher rescued the only occupant of the Goodwin house at the time—Peggy, the Goodwin cocker spaniel. He was bitten in the process of saving the dog.

Goodwin could give no estimate of the damage to his house, which also suffered slight smoke and water damage. He said he would wait until a contractor viewed the damage.

Undaunted by the confusion, Goodwin's son asked and received permission to enter his bedroom to get his newspaper bag so he could start on his daily route.

Hospital Reports Kohler In Satisfactory Condition

Suzanne Kohler, senior in education from Boyertown, who was admitted to Centre County Hospital with possible appendicitis Thursday, was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday.

Miss Kohler said the doctors had told her she had suffered an attack of appendicitis, but the case was not acute enough to necessitate an operation.

She hopes to be released today.

The latest news on the cold wave will be found on page 5.

Fraternity Open Houses Will Be Held Tomorrow

Seventeen off-campus fraternities will swing wide their doors from 2 to 5 p.m. tomorrow and welcome freshmen to open house gatherings.

Tomorrow's open houses are the fourth in a series begun Nov. 2 by the Interfraternity Council to give freshmen a glimpse of fraternity life while under the deferred rushing plan. The fraternities holding mixers tomorrow will show prospective rushees through the houses, explain the rushing system to them and serve light refreshments.

Holding open houses will be Sigma Alpha Mu, Zeta Beta Tau, Omega Psi Phi, Alpha Rho Chi, Acacia, Delta Upsilon, Beaver House, Pi Sigma Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Sigma, Triangle, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Lambda Phi, Alpha Phi Delta, Kappa Alpha Psi, Delta Theta Sigma, and Alpha Kappa Lambda.

The first in the series of open houses was held Nov. 2 at six fraternities on campus. They were attended by 500 to 600 freshmen. Other open houses were held Nov. 16 and Nov. 23.

Ronald Resh, IFC rushing committee chairman, said a general open house for all 55 fraternities will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday. Another general open house is planned for Sunday, Jan. 11.

Deferred rushing will end the first day spring semester classes begin. At that time, all students will be able to rush but a 2.2 All-University average will be required for pledging. March 22 has been set as the official IFC pledge date but bids may be given out any time after rushing begins.

Transfer students have been exempted from the deferred rushing plans and may move into fraternities as guests during the spring semester Orientation Week. They have until the end of the first week of classes to decide whether or not to pledge.

Soviet Delegate's Replies Draw Student Laughter

By NICKI WOLFORD

Audience laughter greeted most of Soviet Embassy Secretary Vladimir Morozov's attempts to answer pointed questions from students and faculty members Thursday night.

When asked how the Soviet people could have free elections if they only had a one-party system, Morozov replied, raising one arm, "Our people like one party!"

The majority of the audience then laughed.

When asked if the USSR would permit the people of Germany to hold a free election on their country's reunification, Morozov said, "Yes, we would; but, of course, we understand in different ways the free elections."

The audience then laughed.

These and many other questions were asked Morozov following his lecture on "Mutual Understanding through Contacts." Morozov read all of his lecture, pausing at the end of most sentences to look at the audience.
