Lion Matmen Cagers to Host Colgate; To Practice Over Xmas

Christmas recess means rest and relaxation to most Penn State students but not to the Lion wrestling team.

Coach Charlie Speidel's grapplers will be working frantically over the recess to get ready for their Jan. 10 engagement with arch-rival Lehigh.

Most of the work will be done at Rec Hall. The Lion matmen will spend only five days at home during the holidays—a sacrifice for any college student. However, they hope it will pay off with the first victory in three years over a Lehigh club.

The only serious problem confronting Speidel at this time is the finding of a heavyweight entry to replace the injured Johnston Oberly. Oberly, one of the hottest sophomores in the wrestling world, was injured in a fight against Colgate last Saturday night.

Oberly's replacement will probably be another sophomore—Bob Gilmour. Gilmour is no stranger to wrestling, however, having held the heavyweight berth for two meets on last year's team. He also competed in the Eastern freshman mat tournament at West Point, finishing first.

Several of the Nittany performers have shown interest in competing in the Wilkes College wrestling tournament during the vacation period. That's the amateur mat carnival which attracts outstanding wrestlers from all over the East, South and Midwest.

Veteran junior Guy Guccione and sophomore Jerry Seckler are two of the men who may enter. Seckler participated in the affair last year, but a knee injury in the quarterfinals knocked him out of action.

Raiders met twice with the Nittanians coming out on top both times, 71-58 and 83-76. The Lions' Richmond Invitational tournament dot the holiday schedule of the Penn State basketball team.

Saturday at 8 p.m. the Lions will go after their second win when the Red Raiders of Colgate invade Recreation Hall. Then on Dec. 29 and 30, the Nittanians pack their bags and head south for the Richmond Invitational.

The Lions, who lost their first two games to North Carolina State and West Virginia, bounced into the win column Tuesday night with a 71-60 win over Gettysburg.

It was the play of Tom Hancock, Wally Colender and Mark DuMars that carried the Lions to victory and gave Penn State coach John Egli an optimistic outlook for the Colgate game and the Richmond tourney.

Hancock played one of the best games of his Penn State career as he scored 20 points and gathered 17 rebounds against the Bulldogs. DuMars and Colender, on the other hand, thrilled the crowd with their flashy ball handling.

Egli plans to start the same five against Colgate that started the Gettysburg game. This will see Hancock and Ted Kubista at forwards, Bob Edwards at center and DuMars and Colender in the backcourt.

Egli is counting on DuMars and Colender to run the Nittany offensive machine. "They really played a whale of a game against Gettysburg. I hope that they can keep it up," said the Lion mentor.

Colgate comes into tomorrow's game with a 3-2 record. They play Bucknell tonight in Lewisburg. According to Colgate coach Howard Hartman, his Colgate five will be short on experience but high on desire.

The Red Raiders are led by captain Charley Hagenah and playmaker Art Brandon. Both were starters for Hartman a year ago. But that is as far as Colgate's experience goes.

The rest of the lineup will be made up of sophomores and last year's reserves. Dave Danvort, the leading scorer on the Colgate freshman team last year, is slated to start up front with Hagenah, Stan Beaghan, 6-5, or Ken Norum, 6-5, will be at center. Larry Ludd is the probable running mate for Brandon out front.

Last season the Lions and Red

Wally Colender ... fast breaking Lion lead in the series, 25-20.

After the Colgate game the Lions travel to Richmond for the Richmond Invitational Tournament. The Lions played in the tournament two years ago and took second place in a field of eight teams.

That year the Lions best host Richmond in their first game, 64-60, then they topped Penn, 89-59, to gain the final. In the championship game the Lions lost to Lafayette, 64-59.

This year the tournament has just four teams—Georgetown, Richmond, Columbia and the Lions. Egli still has no word on who the Blue and White will meet.

Georgetown, with a 3-1 record to date, looms as the team to beat, according to Egli. Richmond brings a 4-3 record into the tournament while Columbia is sporting a 1-4 log with a game against Fordham remaining to be played Saturday night.

Pee Wee Reese Will Coach LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Capt. Harold "Pee Wee" Reese yesterday was named to the coaching staff of the Los Angeles Dodgers and apparently one of the all-time brilliant playing careers in major league baseball is at an end.

Vice President E. J. "Buzzie" Bavasi announced the shift from the active list of the 37-year-old veteran, and added: "We are proud of the wonderful record of Pee Wee Reese. He was one of the best we ever had."

"We are happy, indeed, that Reese has decided that rather than change uniforms, he would continue his long affiliation with the Dodgers as one of Manager Walt Alton's assistants," Bavasi said.

Admirers of the peppery "Little Colonel" will be glad he didn't change uniforms, too. Pee Wee, in his first year as a Los Angeles Dodger, won a host of new friends—fans who had heard of this living Dodger legend but never had seen him until the Dodgers came West.

The little Louisville, Ky., slugger, who holds all types of records, earned in his 16 active years with the Dodgers, joins Chuck Dressen, Greg Mulleavy and Rube Walker in the coaching corps.

'Stop Jimmy Brown'
NEW YORK (AP)—"Stop Jimmy Brown." That is the order of the week for the New York Giants who must beat Cleveland again in Sunday's tieoff to reach the championship finals of the National Football League.

Dear Santa Please Send--

Dear Santa, Well, old man, it's that time of year again. In just a couple of days you and Rudolph will be making your annual trek around the world.

You treated some of us pretty well last year. But I hope you'll do even better this trip.

Anyways, old buddy, here's my Christmas list for this year. It's slightly different than the ones my predecessors have had. But I know you'll try to comply.

Football coach Rip Engle—A 50-yard line ticket to the Orange Bowl game and a lifetime membership to the "I Am a Pessimist Club."

Soccer coach Ken Hosterman—A fresh supply of center forwards and—the key to West Chester State Teachers College.

Track coach Chick Werner—A lifetime subscription to the Daily Collegian and an autographed photo of the Collegian sports staff.

Basketball coach John Egli—A first edition copy of that new book "The Fundamentals of the Man-to-Man Defense."

Wrestling coach Charlie Speidel—A doctor's degree in psychology and a television contract for appearances on "You Asked for It" and "Comedy Hour."

Gym coach Gene Wettstone—A public relations man and a set of scholastic eligibility requirements for immediate distribution to his team members.

Baseball Coach Joe Beden—A postponement on the plans to move Beaver Field. Where could Joe's baseball team practice during March and April if the East Stands were torn down?

Lacrosse Coach Earne Baer—A patent on his fiberglass lacrosse stick. (He's been waiting a long time, Santa.)

Golf Coach Joe Boyle—A bottle of hair tonic.

Tennis Coach Sherman Fogg—A tennis team.

Trainer Chuck Medlar—A new baseball cap and jacket and a lifetime supply of cigarettes. He gets this request every year, but you always forget.

Equipment Manager Mal Franks—A new padlock and burglar alarm for his equipment room.

Intramural Directors Gene Bischoff and Dutch Sykes—A direct telephone line to all fraternity athletic chairmen and a replacement for Don Watkins.

Nino Valdes Will Fight Pat McMurty in Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdes, whose manager has proclaimed him a heavy weight champion, takes on Pat McMurty of Tacoma, Wash., at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The powerful, 6-3, 210-pound Cuban is a 7-5 favorite over the 6-1, 189-pound ex-Marine in the TV 10-rounder on NBC 10 p.m. (EST).

A defeat could be extremely costly to Nino's titular hopes. The long-armed giant reached his 34th birthday Dec. 5. He knows there can't be too many fights tomorrow for him. That's why his talkative manager, Bobby Gleason, seized the title and has been raising such a fuss of late.

Syracuse football team—luck on New Year's Day.

Ralph VanLengen—a lifetime pass to Penn State-Syracuse football games and a copy of Dale Carnegie's book—"How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Dean Ernest B. McCoy, director of athletics, a football schedule which includes games with Furman, Marquette, Penn and Boston University.

Dr. Alfred H. Griess, team physician—a private airplane.

Pitt Football coach John Michelosen—a crying towel.

The Pitt News—another crying towel. This one dipped in blood.

Trainer Eddie Sulkowski—He likes cigarettes too.

Sigma Chi fraternity—an honorary membership to the Amateur Wrestling Union.

Joe, the Barber—a rope to hang himself.

Beano Cook—A copy of the pamphlet "What to do if you foam at the mouth."

Sports Publicity Director Jim Tarnat—A one-way ticket to Gettysburg. (You can also bring him an Ivy League suit if you want to.)

I hope you will do your best Santa. See you next year.

Your buddy,
Lou Prato

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S A TEST THAT WILL TELL YOU!*)

- If the salaries were equal, would you rather be a college professor than a movie star? YES NO
- Would you rather borrow money from a bank or institution than from a friend? YES NO
- Would you rather have tests sprung on you than be warned about them in advance? YES NO
- Do you think it's foolish to daydream? YES NO
- Are you confused by the clamor of conflicting claims so many filter cigarettes are making these days? YES NO
- Do you believe it unwise to eat at irregular hours, even though you're hungry? YES NO
- If you actually saw a "flying saucer" land, would you run for your life? YES NO
- Would you be inclined to follow the latest style in clothes regardless of how it looked to you? YES NO
- Would you feel badly if you thought nobody at all knew where you were? YES NO

The fact is, thinking men and women don't let themselves get pushed and pulled by all those filter claims. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. And they know only VICEROY gives it to them. A thinking man's filter, a smoking man's taste. Makes sense. Should you smoke VICEROY? If you think for yourself—chances are you do already!

*If you have answered Yes to two out of the first three questions, and No to five out of the last six... you think for yourself!

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!
