

Sharp Benefit Hits Early Snag

Plans for Larry Sharp Week, which was proposed for March 2 through 8, have hit an early snag.

All-University President Jay Feldstein reported to Cabinet Thursday night that the special week would conflict with a fund drive by World University Service already scheduled for the same time.

The Larry Sharp committee, headed by Steve Garban, had hoped to obtain the Kingston Trio for a concert during the special week. The trio would have been available for the originally planned week in March.

Feldstein said the Sharp Week may be planned at a time when the trio can be obtained if the present date cannot be had.

Feldstein said that no definite alternative plans have been made, but several have been considered.

If a new date would have to be chosen, Feldstein said, one consideration is trying to work the Sharp Week in with a concert by the Four Freshmen on Feb. 14. The concert will be sponsored by the Jazz Club.

In addition to the concert, other tentative plans have been started for a Student Night, on which collections would be made in residence halls, fraternities and downtown; a Penny-a-Minute Date-Night, on which all women students would be given special 11 o'clocks and be asked to pay a penny for each minute after 10 p.m. they remained out, and a Coffee Day, on which proceeds from coffee sales in downtown restaurants would go to the fund.

In other business at Thursday's meeting, Cabinet chose a design for a new bulletin board on the Mall. The design, chosen from four preliminary designs, was made by Francis Ventre, senior in architecture from Old Forge, who presented the drawings to Cabinet.

The drawing will be presented to the Physical Plant and if they are approved, the bulletin board will be built by students.

Cabinet also made two appointments: Ronald Siders, judicial reorganization committee chairman, and Jane Kleinfeld and Donald Claggett, Freshman Customs Board co-chairmen for 1959.

Querry Named to Head Phys Ed Honor Group

Dorothy Querry has been elected president of Lakonides, women's physical education honorary society.

Mary Radovic was elected vice president; Sally Booth, secretary; and Nancy Krewson, treasurer.

Nine new members have been initiated into the society. They are Priscilla Wasilko, Susan Corbin, Jeanette Rutan, Joanne Rutan, Christine Dietrick, Elizabeth McKenzie, Alma Dills, Laurie Oschatz, and Sandra Fossilman.

DR. WILLARD F. LIBBY
Commencement Speaker

IFC to Discuss Diploma Delay For 'Debtors'

The Interfraternity Council will hear at its Monday meeting a report on the controversial problem of a plan to withhold diplomas of graduating seniors if they owe debts to individual fraternities.

The IFC will hold a dinner-meeting at 5:45 p.m. at Delta Chi.

Edward Hintz, IFC president, has appointed a five-man committee, chaired by Hart Langer, president of Sigma Chi. Others named to the committee were Charles Carlson, David Pratt, Robert Echols and Challen Bonar.

The group will meet sometime over the weekend to discuss the problem and will then present a recommendation of action to the IFC Monday night.

At the last IFC meeting, the problem of fraternity members leaving debts to fraternities when they graduate was discussed and considerable pro and con opinion was voiced on the plan to withhold diplomas.

If the IFC passes a recommendation favoring the withholding of diplomas to those students in debt, its recommendation would be sent to a University committee for final action.

In other business, the president's manual, describing all Interfraternity Council and University regulations pertaining to the fraternity system, will be distributed to the presidents.

The manual was compiled prior to Christmas upon the recommendation of the IFC and was assembled by an IFC committee and members of the dean of men's office staff. The manual was placed in a loose leaf binder so it may be added to at a later date if necessary.

Libby to Address Mid-Year Grads

Dr. Willard F. Libby, a member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and noted chemist, will be the speaker for the mid-year commencement exercises to be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 25, in Recreation Building.

President Eric A. Walker will confer approximately 700 degrees, including more than 200 advanced degrees.

Libby, who began his academic career on the faculty of the University of California, was affiliated during World War II with the Manhattan District project at Columbia University.

He joined the University of Chicago faculty in 1945 and continued working there until his appointment to the Atomic Energy Commission in 1954.

Libby became well known at the University of Chicago for his work on radiocarbon and natural tritium, winning several outstanding awards including the 1958 Willard Gibbs Medal Award of the American Chemical Society.

In 1956 he was appointed to a five-year term on the AEC. He has also engaged in a wide range of scientific advisory and technical consultant work with industrial firms as well as with defense agencies, scientific organizations and universities.

From 1945 to 1952 he was a member of the AEC's committee of Senior Reviewers and from 1950 to 1954 served as a member of the General Advisory Committee to the commission. He also serves as an adviser on fellowships to the Guggenheim Foundation and is a research associate of the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Libby was awarded the Chandler Medal by Columbia University for outstanding achievement in the field of chemistry.

Other awards won by Libby included the Remsen Memorial Lecture Award in 1955, City College of New York Bicentennial Lecture Award in 1956, 1956 American Chemical Society award for nuclear applications in chemistry and the Elliott Cresson Medal of the Franklin Institute in 1957.

He is the author of the book, "Radiocarbon Dating," published originally in 1952 and revised in 1955.

IFC Mixers For Frosh Cancelled

The general open house mixers for freshmen, scheduled for tomorrow, have been cancelled by the Interfraternity Council rushing committee.

Ronald Resh, IFC rushing chairman, said the mixers were cancelled because of numerous requests from fraternity presidents. The mixers will not be rescheduled.

This was to be the second of the general open houses. All fraternities were open to freshmen Wednesday, Dec. 17.

Under the deferred rushing program instituted this semester by the IFC, freshmen will be eligible to rush fraternities the first day of the Spring semester. Freshmen must have a 2.2 All-University average to be pledged during the Spring semester.

The IFC has set March 22 as the pledging date—the earliest possible time a freshman may accept a pledge pin from a fraternity.

A series of four open houses were held in November to give freshmen a glimpse of fraternity life. The off-campus houses were divided into three groups and along with the on-campus houses held mixers for 500 to 600 freshmen.

As part of the Spring Orientation Week activities, five fraternities will hold open house mixers for both men and women students Thursday, Jan. 29.

Late Party Results In Discipline

A senior man was dismissed from the University and a senior coed received office probation and an 8-week strict campus, resulting from an all-night party before Christmas at the male student's town apartment.

Brought before the Senate subcommittee on discipline yesterday afternoon, the coed was charged with going to a male student's apartment without permission and remaining out of the residence hall past 1 a.m.

The male student was on disciplinary probation at the time of the incident, according to Associate Dean of Men Harold W. Perkins. He will be allowed to finish the semester before his dismissal.

Perkins said the party was apparently a "spontaneous gathering" including town students and two out-of-town couples, one married and one engaged.

He said the coed did not realize how late it was until she was unable to get back to the residence hall on time and decided to risk staying out all night.

"By doing this," Perkins said, "she compounded the situation."

Perkins said her absence might never have been noticed, but she received a long distance phone call and was not found in her room.

No Relief in Sight From Cold Wave

A stationary high pressure area in central Canada means "no relief in sight" from the present sub-freezing temperatures in this area. Cold northwesterly winds will continue to bring arctic air and freezing temperatures today and tomorrow.

It will be partly cloudy and windy today, tonight and Sunday with a high of 25 and a low of 12 tonight. Monday will see a continuation of the fair and cold weather.

—Joel Myers
Collegian Forecaster

Lion Grapplers Host Lehigh Tonight

By LOU PRATO
Sports Editor

Penn State's wrestling team will be gunning for its second win of the season tonight when it hosts arch-rival Lehigh before an expected capacity crowd at Recreation Hall.

The first match starts at 8 o'clock following a preliminary tilt between the frosh aggregation of each school at 6 o'clock.

The Lions whipped weak Colgate, 19-10, in their debut at Rec Hall a month ago, but they were anything but spectacular. However, things are expected to be different tonight.

For Lehigh, who along with

Guy Guccione

Pitt is considered Penn State's top wrestling rival, is once again rated among the best in the East. And an outstanding performance is almost a must if the Nittanies expect to win.

But just who will start for either team is a mystery. Lion Coach Charlie Speidel has indicated he will go along with the lineup which opened the season, subject to one possible change. That would find veteran Guy Guccione going at either 137 for Dan Johnston or 147 for Neil Turner.

(Continued on page seven)

Finnish gymnasts win meet, 221.20-208.05; Armando Vega wins All-Around. See stories on page 6.

Late Library Hours Unlikely for Exams

Ralph W. McComb, University librarian, said yesterday it looks as if the library closing hours will not be extended during final examinations as has been requested by All-University Cabinet.

However, he said the later hours have not been ruled out definitely.

"It is the feeling of most of our staff," McComb said, "that it isn't really an essential service since only about 250 students can be accommodated."

There was similar feeling among a few members of Cabinet at Thursday's meeting, but the rest of the members felt that although only 250 could be accommodated it would help alleviate the problem.

Cabinet members also suggested extended closing hours for classrooms for study use. The classrooms usually close at 10 p.m. as does the library.

If the library hours were extended, McComb said, only the first floor would be open. This would mean that the reserve book shelves would not be open and no reference books could be obtained after the regular closing hours.

Personnel is one of the big problems in extending the time, he added, and there are only a few that might help.

Concerning recent complaints of noise in the library, All-University President Jay Feldstein said he contacted Alpha Phi Omega and Gamma Sigma Sigma concerning patrolling and they had decided not to serve as "policemen" to try to keep down the noise.

However, Feldstein said if the noise persists, he has a student who will serve as a policeman.