

Opera Will Be Seen Tonight in Schwab

By BOBBI LEVINE

Members of the Mozart Concert-Opera Group will be working for the first time with a university orchestra when they perform "Cosi Fan Tutte" at 8:30 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

Mac Morgan, who plays Guglielmo in tonight's production, said yesterday the group is also making one of its first attempts at doing the opera with piano while on this tour.

"We were engaged four years ago as six individual artists to sing this opera with the National Symphony in Washington, D.C.," he said. "This worked so well that we tried it with other orchestras and have sung with most of the major orchestras in the United States."

He said this went on for one season and then the group decided they should bring the concert opera to smaller towns and smaller groups. Last spring they took it to Canada, the Maritime Provinces, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

"This was our first attempt at doing this concert opera with piano," he said.

"I call this concert opera," he continued, "because we have no sets, no scenery and only one of us uses a costume."

Morgan said "Cosi Fan Tutte" was the only opera that the performers do as a group. "We are all individual concert or opera singers," he said.

"This is part of our regular season," he continued. "As soon as I finish this 6-weeks tour I will sing my regular concerts. This is probably the 40th performance of the opera that we have done so we don't have to practice too much. We didn't work on it at all over the summer."

Morgan said the group had sung in Bloomington, Ill., with a student orchestra, but the performance tonight is their first with a university orchestra.

But, he related, this was not his first visit to the University. "I sang a recital here about five years ago," he said. "We all sing at university artist series, but this is the first time we have taken the opera to universities."

"Dear, do you suppose we could dine out tonight - I broke the can opener!"

THE DATING SEASON

I have recently returned from a tour of 950,000 American colleges where I made a survey of undergraduate dating customs and sold Zorro whips. I have tabulated my findings and I am now prepared to tell you the simple secret of successful dating.

The simple secret is simply this: A date is successful when the man knows how to treat the girl.

And how does a girl like to be treated? If you want to know, read and remember these four cardinal rules of dating:

1. A girl likes to be treated with respect.

When you call for your girl, do not drive up in front of the sorority house and yell, "Hey, fat lady!" Get out of your car. Walk respectfully to the door. Knock respectfully. When your girl comes out, tug your forelock and say respectfully, "Good evening, Your Honor." Then offer her a Marlboro, for what greater respect can you show your girl than to offer Marlboro with its "better makin's," fine flavor and new improved filter? It will indicate immediately that you respect her taste, respect her discernment, respect her intelligence. So, good buddies, before going out on a date, always remember to buy some Marlboros, now available in soft pack or flip-top box at your friendly vending machine.

2. A girl likes a good listener.

Do not monopolize the conversation. Let her talk while you listen attentively. Make sure, however, that she herself is not a good listener. I recollect a date I had once with a coed named Greensleeves Sigafos, a lovely girl, but unfortunately a listener, not a talker. I too was a listener so we just sat all night long, each with his hand cupped over his ear, straining to catch a word, not talking hour after hour until finally a policeman came by and arrested us both for vagrancy. I did a year and a day. She got by with a suspended sentence because she was the sole support of her aged housemother.

3. A girl likes to be taken to nice places.

By "nice" places I do not mean expensive places. A girl does not demand luxury. All she asks is a place that is pleasant and gracious. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, for example. Or Mount Rushmore. Or the Taj Mahal. Or the Bureau of Weights and Measures. Find places like these to take your girl. In no circumstances must you take her to an oil-cracking plant.

4. A girl likes a man to be well-informed.

Come prepared with a few interesting facts that you can drop casually into the conversation. Like this: "Did you know, Snookiepuss, that when cattle, sheep, camels, goats, antelopes, and other members of the cud-chewing family get up, they always get up hind legs first?" Or this: "Are you aware, Hotlips, that corn grows faster at night?" Or this: "By the way, Loverhead, Oslo did not become the capital of Norway till July 11, 1924."

If you can slip enough of these nuggets into the conversation before dinner, your date will grow too torpid to eat. Some men save up to a half-million dollars a year this way.
