Kubista Sidelined for Game With Temple Tonight

Minus one of its top re-bounders and scorers, the Penn State basketball team goes after its sixth win at 8 tonight in Rec Hall against Temple

The Lions, who have a 5-5 record, will be missing the services of starting forward Ted Kubista. The bespectacled performer aggravated an old ankle mury last week and is expected to be lost for at least two to three weeks Kubista had been playing the best ball of his Penn State career, according to Lion coach John Egli. At the time of his injury, Kubista was the Lions second leading rebounder and third leading scorer.

Tom Hancock is the team leader in rebounds with an average of 11 per game while Mark DuMars, with a 16 point average, and Wally Colender, with 15 per forms average, and with 15 per game average, are the leading scorers.

Kubista will be replaced in the starting lineup tonight by junior Paul Sweetland. Egli said that Sweetland earned the starting role on the basis of some strong showings in recent practices

The rest of the starting line-up will be the same with Tom Hancock and Bob Edwards joining Sweetland in the frontcourt while DuMars and Col-ender will be in the backcourt.

The Owls on the other hand are "hurting" too. There is a possibility that sophomore star Bernie Ivens might sit out the game. He missed Saturday's game with Navy due to a virus attack.

Ivens is the second leading with an average of 15 points per game. Top honors in that department go to Temple's great backcourtman Bill "Pickles" Kennedy. The 5-11 All-East performer is also leading the Owls in assists.

Temple coach Harry Litwack rates Kennedy as the main link in his team. "We have just one great ballplayer on the squad this year and that's Kennedy," said Litwack. "The others are scorer on the Temple team just average but they give 100 per cent all the time and that's all a coach can ask," he added.

> The others Litwack referred to are: 5-7 Joey Goldenberg, forward Ophie Franklin, Ivens and Norm Ginsburg.

Temple brings a below par 5-10 record into tonight's game. The Owls haven't been playing their consistent game which marked the teams of the Hal Lear-Guy Rodgers era but they are still a colorful team to watch.

SIDE HORSE WINNER-Frank Donatelli won the side horse event Saturday in Rec Hall as the Lions topped West Viiginia, 54-42.

Lions Avoid 'Catastrophe'

Gymnasts Victorious cape and a full three minutes of riding time in the third frame. Outside of Oberly, only junior As Werner Wins 2

Associate Sports Editor

The gymnastics meet Saturday nearly turned into a catastrophe as the Lions won the last meet of the official intercollegiate fall semester, 54-42.

Twice-beaten West Virginia was the loser in one of the worst displays of gymnastics seen in Recreation Hall during the coaching reign of Gene Wett-stone. But Wettstone was satis-they considered a simple run.

fied with the 12-point win. Freshman gymnast Greg Weiss aptly summed up the team's feel-"Sure it was a terrible meet. But don't forget, we could have lost it. And that would have been a catrastrophe."

Still, the meet ran nearly as expected with Dave Dulaney win-was first on the high bar and fly-penn State 54, West Virginia 42.

was first on the high bar and flying rinks with the two highest scores, of the meet—a 267 on the bar and a 270 on the rings.

On the parallels (which looked like they were greased the way the performers were falling off), Werner nearly fell off as he began his routine. He clutched the bar with one hand and swung back into a weakened routine to finish second.

But the p-bars were not the worst event of the meet: the side horse won that distinction. The horse, which is the toughest apparatus to master, "threw" every performer.

Even winner Frank Donatelli slipped off the horse—fortunately shpped off the horse-fortunately it was near the end of his routine. Handball and Swimming Donatelli's most impressive move was a double rear-out with hand Entries Due This Week extended. Sophomore Ernie Lof-gren finished 27 points behind handball singles and team swim-bonatelli with a 175. ming can be acquired at the in-Dulaney flashed the form that until Friday at 5:00 p.m. could beat any opponent. Dulaney finished his third run with his patented double-twisting somer- Williams Grid Manager sault for a 263.

erooked walkout that ruined what missing, Pa.

They were also critical of Werner's winning high bar exercise. Nelson felt Werner is still forcing himself. "He keeps pushing himself on the downwing of his giants instead of letting his mometum take him around in a smooth move," commented Nelson.

The rope climbers pulled off the ning the tumbling event, Don Littlewood winning the rope climb and Jay Werner placing first in two events and second in another. It was obvious that Werner had a comparatively bad day. Still he was first on the back had been second and Bob Fosnocht was third.

ming can be acquired at the in-But Eastern tumbling champ tramural office anytime this week ault for a 263.

David Williams, 20-year-old Judges Adam Walter and Harry junior from Bradford, Pa., has Nelson were disappointed with been elected as Penn State's head Lou Savadove's tumbling. One of football manager for 1959. He their chief criticisms was his succeeds Edward Hintz of Wyc

Oberly's Defeat Mars Mat Victory Over Navy

Flank Barone

Johnston completely overpow-

Even Penn State's unpredictable wrestling coach Char-, lie Speidel couldn't believe what he had seen after watching the Lions' highly-touted sophomore heavyweight Johnston Oberly go down to defeat at Annapolis last Saturday afternoon.

Oberly's shocking loss — a 4-0 job to unknown Norm St. Amano -completely overshadowed what had been a pleasing afternoon for the Nittany grapplers. For despite Oberly's setback, the Lions handed the Middies a convincing 17-8 lacing before 3000 partisan Navy Oberly, one of the hottest prospects to hit the campus in years, hadn't wrestled since a knee injury had sidelined him in the Colgate meet in early December. But it wasn't his knee that bothered him Saturday-it was weight.

Oberly was obviously out-of-shape. The lighter St. Amano handled him with relative ease in grinding out a first period escape and a full three minutes of Johnston ran his streak to four with a 6-0 win over Scott Boyd Outside of Oberly, only junior and Gray won his second (he has Gordie Danks failed to come one tie) with a 9-6 decision over through for the Lions Saturday.

Danks histing all the way in footballer Jim Tembrook. Danks, hustling all the way in his first start of the year, lost a close 5-3 decision to Paul Ilg at 130 pounds.

Another upset was recorded at 177 pounds—this one a mild one—when Penn State's Hank Barone fought to a 5-5 draw with Middie Captain Doug Volgenau. Volgenau was the second place finisher at 177 in the EI-WA tourney last year, but that reputation didn't bother Barone. He had Volgenau in trouble most of the match and almost had the Middie pinned in the second period with a half nelson and body press. But the experienced Volgenau squirmed

Two Lions maintained their unbeaten records-Dan Johnston at 137 and George Gray at 167.

"Dear, do you suppose we could dine out tonight - I broke the can opener!"

> What harm a little trick, or more If it gets Pop inside our door!

ered his foe, recording two takedowns and escape about 81/2 minutes of riding time. Gray trailed 6-5 at the end of a wild and wooly first period, but rallied with a predicament point (on a crucifix) in the second period, a reverse in the third and time advantage. Sam Minor, who's only loss this year has been to defending 147-pound EIWA champ Dick Santoro of Lehigh, also manhandled his foe—Bob Smith. Minor had 8 minutes and 22 (Continued on page eight) (Continued on page eight)

Nothing in the world but valentines filled with our creamy, handmade choco-lates so sincerely say "I love you." Send a heart with a doll on the top. Remember yours-we mail everywhere!

The Candy Cane

Between the Movies

:D

HEAVY SHAKER SWEATERS

Begin the new semester in style with a shaker boat neck sweater of pure 100 per cent virgin wool. Handfashioned, sturdy, good-looking and warm. In white, black, dark green, maroon, royal blue and navy. Sizes 36 to 46. 10.95

