

Unicameral Body

Proposed suggestions for this branch which will handle all executive functions and coordinate activities have been:

- A body composed of the All-University officers, the four class presidents, and the presidents of the Association of Independent Men, Interfraternity Council, Panel and Leonides
- The present All-University Cabinet which would act as an advisory body to the executive.
- The presidents of the Greek and Independent groups acting as an executive committee to aid the

All-University President in the problems of student government. Suggestions for the reorganization of the judicial system which is being evaluated by a separate committee have been: 1) it would be organized along area lines, or 2) it would be headed by a Supreme Court with various district courts for individual offenses in specific areas. An organizations court and a traffic court would also be set up.

The Committee on Reorganization's major aim in proposing these changes is to afford the junior, sophomore and freshman classes a greater voice in student government.

The final draft of the plan will be presented to All-University Cabinet Feb. 19.

As a Matter-a-Fact--

BusAd major clicked with his best routine for a 236. He was topped by teammates Werner and Vega.

SAYADOVE Vega, who had a 283, has been better (remember he's the NCAA and AAU p-bar king), although that may sound impossible to those who saw his flawless routine Saturday. But Werner was never better (268) on the bars and is fast approaching his championship potential on the parallels.

Werner's difficult p-bar accomplishment came after he was robbed (my opinion) on the high bar. After another difficulty-filled routine—including three cut-catches—Werner took third place on two judges' ballots.

He lost the position when judge Frank Cumiskey gave him a 75. Cumiskey gave Army's Eckart an 84 which was enough to finish ahead of the Lion junior. But

Cunningham and Vega took the top two spots to win the event and slightly smooth the "mistake."

But the judging made for an exciting meet and in the end the Lions proved they are of championship calibre. Their biggest hurdle now is complacency and Navy could be the team to beat them if they slack off too much

McCoy Frowns on Game--

Maybe McCoy has not stated all his reasons for turning down the "S" Club. This, I do not know. But I do not feel that the arguments he has presented are sufficient enough to halt the Alumni Game.
