

Lion Gymnasts at Navy In Battle of Unbeatens

"Somebody gets sunk today," commented a Lion gymnast as the team left for Annapolis yesterday. And that about sums up today's 2 p.m. battle between the only two undefeated squads in the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League (EIGL).

Preceding the varsity meet, the Lion frosh will get their feet wet in competition against the Plebes.

But the battle between the "big brothers" takes on more than the usual significance in that the winner will probably get the EIGL team title. The Lions stamped themselves as the team to beat last week by knocking off Army, the defending champs, 53½-42½. Navy still has to face its military counterparts on the last week of the season—at West Point.

Conflicting reports from Annapolis claim the "honeymoon is over" for the Middies (according to coach Chet Phillips) and "Navy is confident they can beat you" (according to judge Harry Nelson).

Phillips' squad has beaten two future Lion opponents and quite handily—Pitt, 52-44, and Syracuse, 70-26.

The Navy mentor feels his team has "better balance than any team we have had here in the last 10 years. We are weak on the rope climb, as usual," commented Phillips, "but are strong otherwise." He bases his pessimism on the fact that Armando Vega is competing for Wettstone.

Phillips feels that without Vega his team could win. The triple-threat Olympian confirmed Phillips' evaluation last week by scoring 16 points against Army. Captain Vega had firsts on the flying rings and parallel bars and a second on the high bar.

compete. That leaves Wettstone with Eastern champ Dave Dunlany and Lou Savadove as regular matmen.

To complete the trio last week, he pulled Cunningham off the parallel bars. This week he plans another switch—he will tumble Jay Werner (who finished second in the Easterns tumbling championships last year). Savadove will work in Werner's spot on the high bar.

The high bar and the parallels (with Vega, Werner and Cunningham competing) may again provide the winning margin. The Middies only have one performer of the calibre of the above trio—John Morgan. Morgan works both the high and p-bars and is reported to have improved considerably.

The freshmen, who will compete in their first of two meets this year, are paced by another Wettstone find, Greg Weiss. Weiss, who was so good Wettstone used him in the Finnish exhibition in January, will work the side horse, parallel bars and high bar.

Wettstone also feels he has an "adequate" parallel bar companion in Ken Murrow who will also perform on the rings. Keith Hagenbuch on the high bar, Dick Criley in tumbling and Jerry Shafer on the rings have also been impressive in practice.

the side horse. They have two performers returning—EIGL king Fern Sheppard and Bob McFarland (third-place)—who have defeated the Lion's top horseman, Lee Cunningham.

This brings up the touchy problem of tumbling. Junior Graeme Cowen, who was injured in practice last week, will not

Yankee Owner May Sell

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York newspaper said Friday Del Webb is ready to pull out as part owner of the New York Yankees in order to join forces with Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Webb and other principals immediately denied it.

Frank Graham, writing in the New York Journal American, reported Webb was interested in making the move to consolidate his financial empire in the Far West. He has other business interests in Arizona, California and Nevada.

Graham added that the report "comes from one who knows both Webb and O'Malley and is not a gossip monger."
