

Speidel Changes Lineup For Meet With Syracuse

By LOU PRATO
Sports Editor

SYRACUSE, FEB. 21—Wrestling coach Charlie Speidel will perform another of his weekly juggling acts here this afternoon when he sends his Penn State matmen against Syracuse at Archbold Gymnasium.

The Lion master has used a revamped starting lineup in every meet this season and today's lineup will be no different. This time his changes will come at the 157-, 167-, and 177-pound weight classes.

Speidel plans to move last week's 157-pound starter Hank Barone and the 167-pound regular George Gray up one weight division and insert sophomore Neil Turner into Barone's 157-pound vacant spot. That would mean the elimination of Joe Haines from the team which beat Maryland last week, 23-10.

However, Turner was Speidel's entry in the Cornell meet two weeks ago and has also seen action against Colgate and Army. He was victorious in the Colgate and Cornell affairs, but both matches were at 147.

Barone, who has been Speidel's most impressive man in the last three tilts, has wrestled at 167 once before. That's when he dropped a 4-1 decision to Lehigh's Thad Turner. He's usually been at 177—where he's won two and tied two—but was moved down to 157 last week for "strategic purposes." The strategy paid off as Barone won his match with ease, gaining a second period fall.

This will be Gray's first outing at 177. He's been the regular at 167 and has done quite well by winning three, losing one and tying one.

Once again Speidel explains his new alterations in terms of strategy—but he doesn't give too much detail.

"This should be our strongest lineup for Syracuse," he said. "And if everything goes well, we should be able to win."

The rest of Speidel's starting array will be the same which helped beat the Terrapins last week. That would find Don Wilson (4-1) at 123, Gordie Danks (0-2-1) at 130, Guy Guccione (1-0-1) at 137, Sam Minor (5-1) at 147 and Johnston Oberly (1-3) at heavyweight.

For the second straight week, the Lions' unbeaten junior Dan Johnston (5-0) will be missing from the lineup. Once again, Johnston was eliminated in pre-meet practice matches by Guccione for the 137-pound berth.

The Lions could wrap up a winning season with a victory today. They currently own a 4-2 record and have only one meet—that with arch-rival Pitt—remaining.

Syracuse, on the other hand, will be trying to snap out of the doldrums. The Orange have won only two meets this year (Ithaca, 18-13, and Army, 17-15), tied one with (Franklin and Marshall, 14-14) and lost four (to Lehigh, 13-8, Pitt, 16-12, Iowa State, 21-10, and Cornell).

The two best matches this afternoon will probably be at 137 and heavyweight. That's where two of Syracuse's three unbeaten matmen appear. Captain Les Austin will face Guccione at 137 and sophomore sensation Art Baker will meet Oberly.

Baker, incidentally, has taken over the role as the "man to beat" in the heavyweight division of the upcoming Eastern tournament. Reason—he flattened Cornell's defending champion Dave Dunlop in a dual meet the other night.

2 Thiel Brothers Star On High School Mats

Glenn and David Thiel, sons of former Penn State lacrosse coach Nick Thiel, are regulars on State College High School's unbeaten wrestling squad. Glenn wrestles in the 97-pound division, David in the 103-pound class. Lacrosse coach for 22 years, the senior Thiel now is director of Penn State's required physical education program.

3 Undefeated Years

Penn State has been undefeated in freshman football for the past three seasons. Coach Earl Bruce directed his '58 frosh to triumphs over West Virginia, Pitt, and the Navy Plebes.

Bucks Host Nittany Lion Tracksters

The Nittany indoor track team will complete its dual meet schedule this afternoon with a clash with the Ohio State Buckeyes in huge French Field House on the Columbus campus.

Coach Chick Werner's crew will enter the starting gate rated as slight underdogs against the Big 10 powerhouse. But, barring an unexpected appearance by Olympic champion Glenn Davis, the Nittanies may pose a serious threat to the Bucks' unmarred record.

The Lion boardmen turned in an outstanding performance as they came within a baton pass of beating Army, the rage of the East.

The showing of the Penn State field men will have a heavy bearing on the outcome of the Ohio State meet, for this is a strong point for the Bucks.

Sam Tidmore heads the Buckeyes' shotputting crew with a toss of 52' 9" and is backed up by two others who have come within inches of the 50-foot mark. John Tullar will be the lone Blue and White entry in the event.

Ron Beard, pole vault winner against Army, will be joined by Dick Gross, and Dale Peters to comprise the competition for OSU's 13' 6" vaulter, Dick Bowers.

Coach, Werner will call on Gross, and Bob Brown in the broad jump and John Fariera in the high jump.

Without Davis, the Bucks' Lee Williams and the Lion's Ed Moran will probably be the top threats for individual high point totals.

Botula 1st Backfield Man Since Rados as Captain

Election of fullback Pat Botula to Penn State's 1959 football captaincy makes him the first backfield man to serve in that capacity since quarterback Tony Rados co-captained the 1953 eleven with end Don Malinak.

Independent H-Ball Begins

Six matches marked the beginning of the independent handball singles tournament Thursday night.

In League G action, Larry Werner started things off with a 21-1, 21-5 victory over Wayne Schug. Dave Houghton later defeated Russ Phillippi, 21-13, 21-10.

In League A contests, Bob Foster beat Don Taft by identical 21-16 scores, and Tom Geanopoulos swept by Dale Schissler, 21-1, 21-3.

League B contests saw Marshall Werner beat Herb Chasan, 14-21, 21-0, 21-20, and Ed Boothroyd over Bill Loeb, 21-8, 21-12.

Independent league winners will be determined by March 17, and elimination playoffs will begin the next day.

Fraternity action for the night saw only five games scheduled. Ron Pezzoni brought Tau Kappa Phi its second win of the tourney with an easy 21-6, 21-5 victory over Phi Kappa Tau's Bob Parker. Mel Royer of Alpha Tau Omega topped Russ Noll of Aca-cia, 21-16, 21-12.

Alpha Sigma Phi's Paul Bauer handed Alpha Gamma Rho its second loss with a 21-15, 21-5 victory over Joe McCahan. Frank Trachtman of Phi Epsilon Pi and Zeta Beta Tau's Ted Steinman won on forfeits.
