DuMars' 21 Paces Lions In Scoring

By SANDY PADWE

Penn State's basketball team rolled up an early first half lead with a full court press and a torrid fast break, and then coasted to an 88-52 win over Lehigh in Recreation Hall last night.

Right after the opening tap the Lions put the press on the Engineers and it worked to perfection. Wally Colender stole the ball from Arnie Balgalvis, Lehigh's top scorer, and passed to DuMars on the fast break for the first two-pointer.

Within the next two minutes DuMars scored four more points on fast breaks and the Lions were ahead 6-0. Lehigh's fate was sealed a few minutes later when Bob Edwards connected on a three-point play to give the Nittanies an 11-1 bulge. Lehigh never got close after that.

The Lions kept the press on the Engineers and moved the score to 45-20 at the half.

Relaxing the press a bit in the second half, the Nittany zone defense then went into high gear and held Lehigh without a field goal for the first 11 minutes of the second half.

John Debroda hit for Lehigh cagers to break their dry spell, but the Engineers were too far behind to do anything.

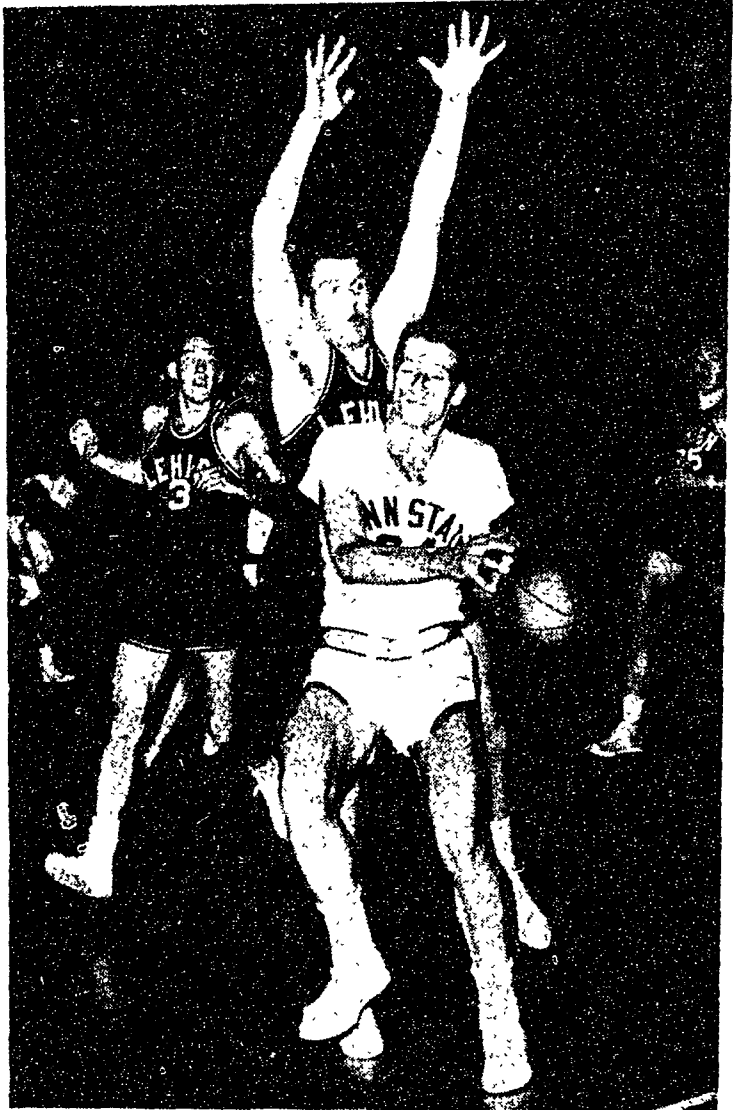

Right after Debroda made his shot, Penn State coach John Egli pulled DuMars and Colender out of the lineup and inserted Dick Dibert and Mel Ramey.

DuMars left the game with 21 points while Colender left with 12. Both got a tremendous ovation from the 2000 persons in attendance.

Colender still leads DuMars in individual scoring race, 289-275. But it was their playmaking that had the crowd humming last night.

Both set up many scoring plays and they led the first half fast break that buried the Engineers.

After the game, Lehigh coach Tony Packer had nothing but praise for the two Lion backcourtmen.

"Those two can really handle the ball," said Packer. "And they have good scoring punch too."

He had further praise for DuMars, calling him the best "feeder" he has seen this year.

With six minutes left Egli cleared his bench and put all his substitutes in the ball game. They kept up the fast pace and

Medley Relay Win Gives Theta Chi Close Victory

With a 1:06.3 clocking in the medley relay, Theta Chi broke a 20-20 tie to eke past Triangle, 21-20, in IM swimming Monday.

Triangle whipped into a commanding position by sweeping firsts in the freestyle, backstroke and breaststroke events with Lee Leacock tallying the freestyle win and Jeff Baldwin chalking up a double win the backstroke and breaststroke.

Down 19-7 after this display of power, Theta Chi made its move as Bill Kress and John Hewetson logged first and second places in the diving event.

With everything hanging on the 120-yard relay, Theta Chi continued its comeback as the team of Hewetson, John Bartolazzi, Charles Steem and Kress edged past the Triangle natators to pick up the first.

This victory of Theta Chi's forced it into a 90-yard medley relay swim-off. The Theta Chi swimmers came through strong to complete their rebound chain by whipping the Triangle natators in the tie-breaking medley relay.

By sweeping firsts in all five events, Delta Tau Delta romped to a 32-8 victory over Sigma Pi.

Bob Pulver missed the 60-yard freestyle record by 1.2 seconds when he splashed to a 32.6 clocking in that event. He pulled off a double win by copping first place in the breaststroke with a 40.3 time. George Campbell and Charles Abby picked up firsts in the backstroke and diving events respectively.

With Carl Tongberg leading the way by scoring a double win in the breaststroke and diving events, Alpha Tau Omega tallied a 27-14 win over Kappa Delta Rho.

Harry Sloat and Dick McCoy chalked up the other firsts for Alpha Tau Omega as they won the freestyle and backstroke events respectively.

LaX in Exhibition At Rutgers Saturday

In a game that always proves to be a fast moving display of skill, the Rutgers Lacrosse club will host the Penn State Lacrosse Club in an annual box lacrosse exhibition.

The match will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Rutgers University field house.

The box lacrosse team differs from the regulation team in that it is composed of only 5 players while a regular team is made up of ten players—3 attack men, 3 midfielders, 3 defense men, and the goalie.

The game is played indoors in a small court that is entirely enclosed by netting, thus allowing the game to continue without interruption as the ball never goes out of bounds. Other than this change the game is played under official NCAA rules.

In the two previous meetings with the Rutgers Lacrosse Club, the Lion club has come out on the losing end both times, dropping a 16-10 decision last year to the more experienced Rutgers unit.

The match is not a regular part of the Nittany stickmen's schedule but Coach Earnie Baer will take along 16 or 18 players. The team is not limited to varsity players and several freshmen are included in the roster.

This event gives many of the players a chance to get in a pre-season scrimmage which they ordinarily would not have the chance to accomplish. Many of the stickmen will be playing in different positions from those which they occupy during the regular season.
