On the Library

Better service for the undergraduate student is one of the main concerns of the administration and personnel of the Fred Lewis Pattee Library, said Ralph W. McComb, university librarian.

He stated that at present, the library is serving as many undergraduates as possible, but he also feels that the students aren't using the library to their best advantage. He said the main problems of the students are that they are unfamiliar with the library, and that a lot of times they don't want to disturb the personnel because they would feel as though they were imposing.

Gentzler Is President Of Eng-Arch

Gary Gentzler, junior in engineering science from York, was elected president of the Engineering-Architecture Student Council last night.

He was elected on the second ballot, defeating William Bowers, junior in industrial engineering from Broomall, and Walter Niehoff, junior in electrical engineering from Lehigh.

Elections for other offices will be held at the next meeting. Those nominated were: vice president, Jerome Karp, junior in industrial engineering from Rochester, N.Y.; Bowers, and Niehoff.

Treasurer—Charles Barb, junior in architecture from Rosemont; Charles Gaston, sophomore in engineering science from Lancaster, and Charles Wilson, junior in electrical engineering from Clarion.

Recording secretary—John Bailey, sophomore in aeronautical engineering from Franklin, and Gary Robinson, sophomore in engineering science from Detroit, Mich.

Corresponding secretary—Barry Kesselman, freshman in electrical engineering from Chester, and Kerry Kissinger, junior in engineering from Reading.

Petitions for junior and senior general council elections, to be held Wednesday and Thursday, March 18 and 19, will be available in the dean's office beginning Monday, March 2.

They must be signed by either 10 per cent of the class or 25 persons, and must be submitted by Saturday, March 14.

Spring Weather Greets Lion Today

Has spring sprung? The Nittany Lion seemed to think so as he polished his golf clubs in anticipation of beating Frothy to the tee.

He may be right, for bright sunshine and warmer temperatures are forecast for today with an afternoon high of 48 degrees. Cool weather is expected tonight with a low of 28 degrees. Tomorrow promises to be partly cloudy and even warmer than today.

Campuseers To Entertain At Hubanna

Club Hubanna will feature the Campuseers, a 5-piece band led by Lynn Christy, associate professor of English composition, from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

A floor show made up of student performers will include John Nelson, sophomore in arts and letters from Westfield, N.J. His act contains a number of folk songs, "Trouble" and "I Don't Like It But I Guess Things Happen That Way."

A Hawaiian atmosphere will be provided by two Hawaiian students doing hula dances. Charlene Wong, graduate student in education, and Millie Lum, senior in education, will perform "Ula Noweo," "Little Brown Gal" and other dances.

Jeanine Carle, freshman in pre-medicine from Mayview, will also sing popular songs.

Reserved tickets are on sale at the HUB desk for $1.25 a couple. About 150 couples can be accommodated.

This is the fourth Club Hubanna party this year and the first this semester.

Refreshments will be on sale throughout the evening.

Sailor Pleads Guilty to Theft

A 25-year-old Philadelphia serviceman pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of disorderly conduct in connection with the theft of women's undergarments from apartments in the Pugh Street-Easterly Parkway area.

Edwin Cole Bickford Jr., was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Guy G. Mills after he was apprehended about midnight Monday by Borough police outside of the Easterly Parkway apartments. The police were summoned to the apartment by a resident who reported a prowler in the building.

Police said Bickford admitted entering six apartment buildings and taking women's silk undergarments from clothes lines in laundry rooms. The entries were made late last week and Monday of this week, police said.

Charges against Bickford were limited to disorderly conduct because he will be tried by Naval authorities in the near future, police said. He had been in State College since Feb. 15 on official Naval business and had been staying at the Ranch Court Motel.

He was fined the maximum of $100 plus $91.50 costs and retribution.

Tickets Still Remain For Tenor's Concert

There are 2695 student tickets remaining for the concert by Jussi Bjoerling in Recreation Hall on Sunday.

In two days of distribution only 1305 tickets were picked up by students.

Non-student tickets will be available at 9 a.m. today at the Hetzel Union desk. They are priced at $1.25. Distribution of student tickets will also continue.

Bjoerling, on a tour of 20 American cities, will present the 12th Artists' Series concert of the year at 8 p.m.

The program for the Swedish tenor will include "Adelaide" by Beethoven, "Fruehlingsgaube" by Schubert, "Morgen" by Strauss and an aria, "The Flower Song," from Act Two of Carmen.

Following intermission the tenor will return with "Two Folk Songs" by Peterson-Berger, "Demanten pae Maresnoen" and "Saev, Saev, Susa" by Sibelius, Rachmanioff's "Lilacs" and an aria, "Che Gleida Manina" from La Boheme by Puccini.

Some of Bjoerling's earliest musical experience came from the novelty vocal ensemble composed of his two brothers and his father. The group found favor in Sweden 30 years ago.

Returning to their native Sweden after a tour of the United States with their father the tenor was sent to the Royal Conservatory in Stockholm for formal music training.

All of Bjoerling's brothers have become concert singers but he is the only one of world-wide fame. He has appeared at all of the major opera houses in Europe.

In the Spring of 1935 he made his debut at Covent Garden in London. Since then he has had his first engagement at the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

Bjoerling opened his current tour with a concert Tuesday at Cornell University.

Roudiez Gets Columbia Post

Dr. Leon S. Roudiez, associate professor of romance languages, has been appointed associate professor of French at Columbia University.

His resignation will be effective June 30 and he will assume his duties at Columbia July 1. He will be a member of the faculty of philosophy there.

Roudiez joined the faculty here in 1950. He did his undergraduate work at College Stanislas, Paris, and received his master's and doctor of philosophy degrees from Columbia. He taught at Columbia before coming here.

Specializing in contemporary French literature, Roudiez has published numerous articles on such literary figures as Albert Camus, Andre Gide, Charles Maurras and Louis Aragon. He is the author of the book, "Maurras jusqu'a l'Action Francaise," published in Paris in 1957. He has spent several summers in France in connection with his research.

He has been managing editor of the "French Review" since 1955.
