Coeds Get Carnival Rain-Date II's

If rain postpones the celebration of Spring Week Carnival from Saturday night, May 2 to the following Monday or Tuesday night, all women students will be granted an 11:00 p.m. permission and four coeds from each participating group will be granted 12:00 p.m. permissions for clean-up.

This action was taken at the Women's Student Government Association Senate meeting Wednesday night.

Juri Nuler, Spring Week chairman, requested WSGA to extend all women's hours until 12:00 p.m. and to grant six coeds from each participating group 1:00 a.m. permissions for clean-up.

Nuler said carnival will be held from 7 to 12 p.m.

Sybil Kersh, acting Senate secretary, made the motion that carnival hours be changed to extend from 6:30 until 11:00 p.m. and that all women receive 11:00 p.m. permissions with four coeds from each group receiving 12:00 p.m. permissions for clean-up.

Outgoing president Ellen Donovan said, "Our decision is subject to change."

She said if Nuler can supply additional information to prove that the hours he requested are necessary, Senate will reconsider its action.

At an earlier meeting, the Senate ruled that eighth semester women with a 2.0 or lower All-University average will not receive week-day 11:00 permissions, traditionally granted to last semester seniors. The ruling was passed to coincide with existing University regulations.

Four Profs to Discuss Berlin Crisis on TV

Four professors will discuss the major issues underlying the crisis in Berlin on a special televised program originating on campus at 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Participants on the panel will be Dr. Ervin P. Hexner, visiting professor of political science; Dr. Jeanne Hersch, visiting professor of philosophy; Dr. Dagobert deLevie, associate professor of German; and Dr. Kent Forster, professor of European history.

"The Berlin Crisis" will be televised over the facilities of WFBG, Channel 10, Altoona.

Drama Celebration Includes 'Omnibus'

The current Players' production, "Theatre Omnibus," is part of the International Theatre Celebration, designed to promote world understanding through drama.

The ITC is a national movement sponsored by the National Commission for UNESCO, the American Educational Theatre Association and Theatre Arts magazine. The movement was suggested at a UNESCO conference in 1949 by Rosamund Gilder.

Miss Gilder is head of the American Center of the International Theatre Institute and a former editor of Theatre Arts magazine. Her plan was to ask theatres throughout the country to present plays during a month of their choice, which emphasize the theme of world peace.

She suggested that the plays presented either interpret sympathetically the way of life of another country, or are by the great writers of foreign countries whose works remind us of universal truths unchanged by time of distance.

Hundreds of theatre groups are now participating in the movement, which began in 1950. Audiences at Center Stage are part of a community and nation-wide effort in which the theatre carries to millions of people the United Nations' message of world peace and mutual understanding.

"Theatre Omnibus" presents scenes from some of the classic American and European plays as well as three Japanese Kabuki dances.

Congratulating theatre audiences who participated in International Theatre Celebration by supporting their local ITC production, theatre star Helen Hayes said: "Your own community can be proud of its share in this nation-wide movement of International Theatre Celebration."

"But most of all, you, the audiences, are responsible for the success of ITC on a local and national basis. It is to the country's audiences during this celebration that the theatre, the most human of all the arts, brings not only entertainment and enlightenment, but more important, understanding of our fellow man."

WHO SAID IT FIRST?

A column of incidental intelligence by Jockey brand

"LOVE IS BLIND"
Next to the Bible, Shakespeare is the richest source of common quotes. He's responsible for this one, too. See his "Merchant of Venice," Act II, Scene 6:
"But love is blind, and lovers cannot see
The petty follies that themselves commit."

"THIRTY DAYS HATH SEPTEMBER," ETC.
No need to recite further from this bit of doggerel which has served us all as a pony ever since grade school. For this universal handy reference we are indebted to a man named Richard Grafton who was nice enough to compose the rhyme way back in 1570.

"PUT IT IN YOUR PIPE"
No, Sir Walter Raleigh didn't originate this smoker's challenge. It was R. H. Barham, in "The Lay of St. Odille":
"For this you've my word,
and I never yet broke it,
So put that in your pipe,
My Lord Otto, and smoke it."
