

SGA Plan Includes 4 New Courts

By DENNY MALICK

At least four new student courts are included in the proposed judicial system for the Student Government Association.

Although much of the judicial report was sent back to committee Thursday night, All-University Cabinet approved the plan on its first reading.

Cabinet approved the general setup of the judicial system as presented by Ronald Siders, judicial reorganization committee chairman, with the exception of a proposed Organization Board of Control.

One of the main changes that would come about under the proposed system would be the inclusion of men's residence hall tribunals. Initial plans call for individual tribunals in the West, North and East Halls.

The reorganization committee left this open for the expected enrollment increase by stipulating that a judicial board be set up in each new men's residence area.

The main student group in the revised system would be the Supreme Court. The seven-member court would be composed of the chairmen of the Interfraternity, Panhellenic and Organizational Boards of Control, Traffic Court, Women's Student Government Association Judicial, Off-Campus Tribunal and one selected from the residence hall tribunals.

The Supreme Court would rule on all SGA constitutional cases.

The top court would have a chairman selected from its members to serve the year round. This was an amendment to the original committee plan, which had asked that the chairmanship be rotated among each of its members, each serving as chairman for one-seventh of the school year.

Cabinet sent back to committee the proposal on an Organizational Board of Control. It felt that the jurisdiction of the board was too vague and asked Siders to reconsider it and present it to Cabinet April 2.

In addition to the individual courts, two coordinating bodies would be included in the new system.

The Council of Organization Control Board Chairmen would be composed of chairmen of the IFC, Panhel and Organization Boards and would rule on matters concerning all three bodies.

Also included in the plan is a Council of Disciplinary Court Chairmen made up of the heads of Traffic Court, WSGA Judicial, Off Campus Tribunal and a chairman of the residence hall tribunals.

One other change was made by Cabinet in the proposed system. The required All-University average to serve on any of the boards was lowered to 2.2 from the 2.4 which the reorganization committee had requested.

Mounties Win, 94-79; West Hits for 38

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—All-America Jerry West scored 38 points, 27 in a magnificent first-half performance, and red-hot West Virginia shattered hometown Louisville 94-79 last night in the opening semifinal of the NCAA Basketball Championships at Freedom Hall.

West so dominated play that even the rabidly partisan Louisville fans gave him a standing ovation when he left the floor with about a minute to play.

He tore apart Louisville's defense in the first half but tapered off in the second half and let some of his buddies do the scoring. Then he came back with another outstanding playmaking and rebounding exhibition when Louisville, down 23 points with nine minutes to play, whittled the Mountaineer lead to 12.

The 6-3 junior from Cabin Creek, W. Va., fired 21 times from the field and hit 12. He attempted 20 free throws as he continually lured one after another Louisville defensive player into fouls and hit 14 of the free tosses. The 38 points gave him 132 points for four tournament games, 28 short of the record for a five-game series. The 160 mark was set by Hal Lear of Temple in 1956.

Stickmen to Play Bucks--

Ray Tuleya is another front running candidate for a midfield spot. Tuleya had previously played two years on the defense but was switched to the midfield this year due to his outstanding performance.

Due to hard work and determination, Dick Bullock may well find a position on the starting midfield line. Bullock never played lacrosse until last year but has picked the game up fast.

Other contenders for the midfield spot include Dick Hammond, Chip Henderson, and Gove Elder who is out for four weeks due to a severe charleyhorse.

Co-captain Dick Dill heads the list of the defensive lineup but the other two positions are being hotly contested between Dave Erwin, Mike Beattie, and Andy Moconyi.

Due to his tremendous amount of drive and desire, Dill broke into the starting lineup last year without having had previous experience.

Erwin, an outstanding defense player from Lower Merion High School, could easily break into the starting lineup this year from the ability he demonstrated at the Rutgers game. He is a good stickhandler and shows a lot of potential.

Mike Beattie and Andy Moconyi will battle it out for the third position on defense. Although Beattie was a regular starter last season, Moconyi has improved rapidly since he first reported this spring and is pushing Beattie for the opening spot.

The goaltender slot will be fought out between Dave Wilkinson and John Castella. Last year Wilkinson stood in several times for the Lions' regular goalie, Bert Houseworth, but Castella is pushing Wilkinson for the spot this year and going into tomorrow's game it is a neck and neck race between the two goaltenders.
