

Tickets At HUB April 2 For Violinist

Distribution of student tickets for the 14th concert in the current Artists' Series, violinist Nathan Milstein, will begin at 1:30 p.m. next Thursday, April 2.

Tickets will be available at the Hetzel Union desk.

The Russian born violinist will appear at 8:30 p.m. April 7, in Schwab Auditorium. He is currently on a 52-engagement tour of North America.

Milstein began his career at the age of 19 in his native country. Already famous in Western Europe, he made his American debut in 1929. Since his first appearance with the New York Philharmonic Symphony in that year he has appeared with the orchestra over 50 times.

In his Schwab appearance, the violinist will be playing his famous Stradivarius, made in 1716. It is a contemporary of the famous "Messiah" violin, made the same year.

Milstein bought the violin from a Finnish family who owned it during World War II. They brought it to this country after the war. The violin, which had been known as the "Ex-Goldmann," was rechristened the "Maria Theresa" in honor of Milstein's wife and daughter.

AIM Approves Area Tribunal Plan

The Association of Independent Men Board of Governors last night tentatively approved a plan to establish area tribunals for men's residence hall disciplinary cases.

An amendment to the AIM constitution was passed on the first reading. Before it goes into effect, it must be passed again by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Governors.

Edward Frymoyer, AIM president, said the new plan would probably go into effect even if the All-University judicial reorganization plan is turned down by Cabinet.

According to the proposed amendment, separate tribunals would be established for the West Halls, North Halls and Nittany area. The AIM Judicial Board of Review, which now hears disciplinary cases, would pass on the constitutionality of Board of Governors or individual council action.

JBR shall consist of the chairman and senior members of the area tribunal and independent senior members of the off-campus tribunal.

Frymoyer will recommend to Cabinet that the revised JBR be included in the new judicial structure.

Chairmen of the area tribunals would sit in a body to rule on matters of combined jurisdiction. One chairman would be elected to the Council as disciplinary court chairman.

The disciplinary court chairman would sit on the Senate Subcommittee on Discipline.

Members would be appointed by an application and interviewing committee consisting of the chairman and senior members of the area tribunal involved, the adviser from the dean of men's office, the area counselor coordinator and the council president.
