

Maryland Ace to Miss Penn State Kegler to Play Penn State Link Opener In ABC Tourney in St. Louis

Maryland will be missing its top golfer this afternoon when the Terps meet the Nittany Lions at College Park, Md. in the season's opener.

Dale Beman, a U.S. Walker Cup choice, is playing in the Master's tournament in Augusta, Georgia.

Beman's first round score of 74 put him in a tie for 19th place. But his score was the third best among the amateurs entered in the tourney.

Because of Beman's absence Coach Joe Boyle's boys should have it a little easier. Boyle now can put his men in more strategic places in the Lion lineup.

Bill Davidson, EIGA golf champion, is expected to lead the Lions today as they go after their 12th straight win. Additional help is expected from Scott Stultz and Roy Altman. Stultz was undefeated last year and Altman helped the Lions win many close matches.

The rest of the lineup is composed of new faces including Haydn Thomas and John Morton who have never seen a varsity match.

The sixth member of the team will be Dick Burgoon. Burgoon, a transfer student from Franklin and Marshall, is highly rated by Boyle and is expected to give the Golfsters some added help.

The last time the linksmen faced Maryland was in 1957 when they won a close 4-3 decision.

The teams will be playing on a brand new course today. This course, built by Maryland University, was dedicated last July 4th; thus this will be Maryland's first match on the new links.

TEE SHOTS—This is Coach Boyle's third season as coach at Penn State . . . He was captain of the 1949 Lion team which had an 8-4 record . . . State has only had three golf coaches since golf became a varsity sport in 1944 . . . Bob Rutherford was the Nittany coach from 1922-1949. He compiled a record of 105-46-6.

Ike May Miss Opening Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, barring a last-minute change of plans, will miss the opening game of the major league baseball season next Wednesday.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon apparently will be called in instead to throw out the first ball when the Washington Senators meet the Baltimore Orioles at Griffith Stadium.

The White House reported yesterday that Eisenhower hopes to leave early next week for Augusta, Ga., and a golfing vacation.

Mel Royer, one of Penn State's top bowlers, has been chosen to compete in the American Bowling Congress' Intercollegiate bowling tournament to be held April 9 in St. Louis.

Royer, a member of Alpha Tau Omega, has consistently been one of the best intramural bowlers in the last 3 years. He has led his team to 28 straight points in fraternity league C competition this season.

Royer has been bowling for many years in his home town of Lancaster. He participated in the regional division of the State tourney in 1945 and '46 and in 1947 he went to the State tourney.

Royer was picked to compete in the ABC's because of his performance in the Association of College Student Unions tournament. In that tourney, colleges and universities were asked to pick their top kegler and have them compete in a rolloff. The events were broken down into team scores, doubles and high singles.

The tourney, itself, is broken down into regions. Penn State is in Region II. In each region, the high doubles team, the top two singles rollers and the entire top team receive awards. A new slant was opened when the American Machine and Foundry Corporation offered to pay the meet expenses for the top two bowlers of each region.

Don Watkins, assistant director of intramurals, arranged the tournament here. He selected 12 men to participate.

Royer rolled a 161-205-163 for a 529 series in the individual competition. In the doubles, he had a 190-215-191—for a 596 series. In the singles, he rolled a 192-156-165 for a 513. This game him a total of 1638 pins, enough to be top bowler in the region.

The team which bowled for the prizes consisted of: Royer, Don Costanzo, Lou Klukosky, Jack Neifert, Don Kissinger and Bill

CAMPUS BOWLING STAR Mel Royer, was picked to attend the ABC Intercollegiate Bowling Tourney, April 9, in St. Louis. Royer has been a consistent 180 bowler for his fraternity—ATO—in IM play.

Covell. According to Dutch Sykes, IM director, this team took about every prize offered in the region. Right behind Royer in the competition for the trip were Don Costanzo and Lou Klukosky. Both men bowl for the All Stars in IM competition. This team set an alley record earlier this year for the best single team game.

Klukosky was a scant 10 pins behind Royer, rolling a high game of 234 for 1628 total pins.

Costanzo had 1612 pins. Due to a rule that only one kegler from each campus can go to St. Louis, Klukosky and Costanzo could not be chosen. Instead, a bowler from Carnegie Tech was picked.
