

Julius, Miltenberger Vie For SGA Presidency

By NICKI WOLFORD

Leonard Julius, junior in journalism from West Palm Beach, Fla., was elected without opposition to run for Student Government Association president on the Campus party ticket at the Sunday night clique meeting.

Julius, in accepting the nomination, emphasized the coming elections and the next year as an important trial period of student government at the University.

The firm establishment of a two-party system and student interest are a necessity for a student government which truly represents the students and voices their opinions, he said.

Campus party's nominee for SGA vice president, Larry Byers, junior in business administration from New Oxford, and its nominee for SGA secretary-treasurer, Sherry Parkin, junior in education from State College, both were elected unanimously.

Theodore Haller, junior in engineering from Bradford, will run for senior class president, and Jack Crosby, sophomore in chemistry from New Kensington, will run for junior class president on the Campus party ticket.

The electing of candidates for the assembly was done on a preferential ballot with each party member giving the highest number of points to his favorite nominee and the next highest number of points to his second choice.

Those elected to run for the six senior seats on the assembly are: Henry Fallor, 759 points; Carol Plosch, 1134; Bruce Brennerman, 783; Janet Moore, 1125; Jay Hawley, 1131, and Peter Luckie, 1212.

Pamela Alexander and Ellen Burke were defeated. Millie Moyer, 657, Robert Toczak, 593, Jean De Meyer, 644 and Walter Darren 596 were elected to run for the four junior seats.

Abraham Eisenberg was defeated. Katherine Regal, 483, David Reese, 407 and Mary Ann Ellis, 457 will run for the sophomore seats.

In the election of intra-party officers, Alan Rosenberg was elected treasurer and Alan Fair was elected senior class clique president.

There were no nominees for the rest of the clique offices. They will now be appointed by Campus party chairman Charles Steele.

Arthur Miltenberger, junior in business administration from Schellsburg, will run for Student Government Association president on the University party ticket.

Miltenberger was nominated without opposition, as were all the candidates for SGA offices and the candidates for junior and senior class presidents. Frank Pearson, University party chairman, said the SGA office nominations were unopposed because it was important the party did not have factions.

Carl Smith, junior in psychology from Scranton, was nominated for SGA vice president. Nancy Clark, junior in arts and letters from Paoli, was nominated for SGA secretary-treasurer.

Elections will be held April 21, 22 and 23. The elections were moved up a day because of the Spring Week float parade April 24.

Voting booths will be set up in Boucke Building, Hetzel Union Building, Sparks Building, Sackett Building, Home Economics Building and somewhere on Ag Hill.

Samuel Minor, junior in agricultural economics and rural sociology from Carmichaels, will run for senior class president. Arthur Schneider, sophomore in arts and letters from Patterson, N.J., will run for junior class president.

Elections for sophomore and senior assembly seats were almost thrown out because a single transferable preferential ballot was not used, as required in the University party constitution. However, the ballots were recounted in a manner to make them legal. The same persons won the nominations under both counts.

Nominees for senior seats in the assembly are Sherry Kennel, Walter Davis, Lelia Uhler, Mary Ganter and Charles Whiteman.

Nine senior seats are available in the assembly, but each party may run only six candidates. This will insure representation from both parties.

Three juniors were defeated for nominations for senior seats. They are Darlene Anderson, Katherine Davis, and Galen Myers.

Nominees for junior class assembly seats are Barbara Bragdon, David Kiser, Mary Hill and Timothy Nelligan.

There are four junior seats available. These nominations were unopposed.

Nominees for sophomore seats in the assembly are Thomas Hamer, Karyl duChacek and John Witmer.

These nominees were opposed by Carl Moses, Judith Davis, and Robert Harrison.

Lipp Appointed Dean of Women

Dr. Dorothy J. Lipp, presently dean of women at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, N.D., has been named dean of women at the University, effective July 1.

Her appointment was approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees Saturday and announced yesterday by President Eric A. Walker. She will succeed Dr. Pearl O. Weston who will retire July 1 with emerita rank.

Dr. Lipp has served as dean of women at North Dakota for the past five years. From 1952 to 1954 she was dean of women at Wisconsin State College, Beaver Falls, Wis.

She is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania where she received her bachelor of science in education and her master of science degree, also in education. She is a native of Philadelphia.

Awarded a fellowship by Northwestern University, she completed work there for her doctor of philosophy degree, also in education with a major in counseling and guidance and a minor in psychology and educational administration.

Dr. Lipp began her academic career in 1945 as an instructor in physical education at the University of Utah and in 1947 and 1948 was employed by the Elizabeth Arden Corp. in public relations work, which included assignments in Chicago, Maine and Paris, France.

From 1950 to 1952 she was guidance consultant at Evanston Township High School, Evanston, Ill., and from 1952 to 1954 served at Wisconsin State and also taught psychology.

Her duties at the University of North Dakota have included teaching on the graduate faculty, including the conducting of seminars in student personnel work. She has worked with the dean of men in the general administration of the personnel program, has conducted speaking and public relations programs and in the summer of 1956 conducted a North Dakota student tour to Europe.

Dr. Lipp, who served in 1947 as national marshal of her social sorority, Alpha Xi Delta, is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honor society; Pi Lambda Theta, educational honor society; and Mortar Board, leadership honor society.

7 Young Pilots Will Make Up Space Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven superb young Americans will make up the team which will represent the United States in the drive to put a man into orbit around the earth.

This fact came out yesterday. Their names were still kept secret but may be made public soon, possibly later this week.

The seven will be called Mercury Astronauts, just as America's first manned satellite venture is known as Project Mercury. They're the pick from a squad of 110 carefully selected men, all of them military test pilots.

It had been planned to have a team of 12. It was decided to hold the number to seven, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said yesterday, to make sure that each man will have a full part in every phase of the task.

These phases include the engineering and scientific development of the space vehicle, test flights at moderate speeds and altitudes building up toward the full scale missions, and the 18,000 mile-an-hour orbiting itself, 100 miles or more above the earth.

The Mercury Astronauts will report to Langley Research Center, Hampton, Va., within a few days to start orbital flight training. The training program probably will last two years.

Student Assaulted As Others Watch

By JIM MORAN

A student was assaulted and beaten Saturday night before scores of bystanders who failed to aid him.

Sgt. William H. Seckinger said the student, whose name was withheld pending investigation, had parked his car in the 100 block of South Pugh Street, near College Avenue around 5:45 p.m. and was crossing the street when three men in a two-toned pea-green 1956 Chevrolet drove up and began taunting him. One of the men emerged from the car and began swinging at the student who "was holding his own," Seckinger said.

At that point, the two other men approached from the car and joined in the attack, with the student again resisting successfully until being overwhelmed by the three assailants, according to Seckinger. At this point, he said, scores of spectators had gathered to watch the fight and traffic was even interrupted. No one offered assistance, Seckinger said.

The three men then drove away and the student went to the police station where he reported the incident. A patrol car was dispatched to the scene, but little information was gained from the witnesses.

"I'm still burned up about the whole thing," said Seckinger. "We've pursued this thing lock, stock and barrel and we've checked everything, and have even pestered Harrisburg for identification of the car's registration number until they're ready to shoot us, but we are still lacking evidence," he said.

Seckinger said that witnesses may be withholding information for fear of becoming involved in the affair. "Anyone who forwards (Continued on page eight)
