

Cabinet May Alter Freshman Handbook

All-University Cabinet's approval will be sought for a new enlarged student handbook which will be sold to incoming freshmen next fall for 25 cents.

Benjamin Bronstein, handbook editor, will present his reasons for the proposed change at 7 tonight in 203 Hetzel Union.

The proposed handbook will be 6 by 9 inches with 96 pages and will contain 70 pictures and artwork. A total of 6000 copies will be printed.

Reasons given for the proposed change are: 1) increased illustrations will lead to maximum readership and 2) counselors and freshmen both seemed to think that the book used in past years did not serve the purpose of informing new students about the University.

A section on student government will be included for the first time in the new handbook because of the reorganization system which will be in effect next fall. Government previously was included in a section on extracurricular activities.

Bronstein will recommend that the section on religion be deleted and incorporated into a section on general information. This is due to the fact that every religious group sends out its own information to incoming freshmen.

The handbook, together with the freshman dink, will be sold at the Book Exchange for $1.75.

In other business, Cabinet members will be asked to approve the judicial reorganization plan for the third and final time. If approved, the judicial article will be incorporated into the Student Government Association constitution which will go before the student body in a referendum next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Campus to Join State-Planned Defense Alert

The University will take part in a state-wide Civil Defense Alert scheduled for sometime between 9:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. tomorrow.

All University personnel, students and visitors on campus will be asked to follow the following directions upon hearing a series of whistles:

• ALERT: steady blast for 3 to 5 minutes. During this alert, residents should tune their radios to the Conelrad stations—640 or 1240 kilocycles—for emergency instructions.

• TAKE COVER: short blasts for 3 minutes. At this signal, all vehicles on campus will come to a complete stop and all persons will take cover in the nearest building.

• ALL CLEAR: one steady blast which means that normal activities may be resumed.

Immediately upon the signaling of the first alert, all members of the Disaster Planning Council should be present at their designated posts.

All signals will be given on the steam whistle at the power plant.

From Here--

(Continued from page four) pledge at an afternoon work-session"; "souse the rushee"—this usually amounts to a 1-shot affair—or "Douse the driver that passes by in a car." The latter is only possible when the thrower is extremely talented in being able to throw the bag hard enough to reach the street, but gracefully enough to keep the bag intact until it reaches the target.

Two houses last week found a way to have an inter-house battle. They had a real wet time of it too until the police came along. The two houses solved the water supply problem for filling their bags by stretching garden hoses to the windows.

They overcame the distance between the two houses by launching the totes with lacrosse sticks.

We must admit that these water fights from the rooftops put fraternity stunts on a "higher plane."

Career Day--

(Continued from page one) ce of the United States Weather Bureau, Edward Sproles, said he had talked to many students ranging from freshmen to graduates working on their doctorates. Most of the students who came to the display were interested in talking about careers and not "just looking," he said.

Many of the participating companies showed slides and films on careers. Bethlehem Steel brought a movie entitled "Future in Steel" which was shown at various times yesterday in the Hetzel Union assembly room and will be showing it again today.

Kendall said that only one of the displays failed to arrive. The Westinghouse Corporation has representatives here but the display was lost in transit.

Meet a Young Executive on the Champs Elysées

(SHE COULD BE YOU!)

Not long ago this young lady was a college senior. Today, she handles the responsibilities and decisions of an executive in one of the world's largest organizations. Today, she's stationed in Paris... an officer in the Women's Army Corps.

Her professional and social life is busy... exciting... happily balanced.

On duty, this young executive occupies a position requiring education, initiative and intelligence. She commands the high salary and traditional privileges of an Army officer.

Off duty, she enjoys her leisure time. (Free evenings and weekends plus 30-day annual paid vacation.) Perhaps she'll attend evening classes at the Sorbonne. Or make a skiing trip to St. Moritz. Or spend a holiday on the French Riviera. Whatever she does, she'll find a world of fun!

Of course, her assignment didn't have to be Paris. It might have been Heidelberg, Honolulu, Tokyo... even New York or Los Angeles.

But wherever this young lady goes, her uniform will be her passport to a wonderful world of opportunity. Because she began her career as an executive... an officer in the Women's Army Corps.

She could be you... this young executive on the Champs Elysées.
