

Chances of TV Dim for Parade

The fate of a televised Spring Week Float Parade depends on the success the station manager of WFBG-TV, Altoona, meets with in his attempt to convince the sponsor of a half-hour sports program to relinquish his time.

Robert Johnson, chairman of the float committee, said that as things stand now the parade on Friday will not be televised. The sponsor of the sports program, which runs from 5:30 to 6 p.m., has refused to give up his time to televise the first Spring Week event.

However, Juri Niiler, chairman of the week, said there is still a chance the parade will be televised. Niiler said that with the station manager and the University in favor of the telecast it is possible a last minute change in the sponsor's attitude may be made.

The decision on the part of the sponsor not to show the parade came after the Board of Trustees had given permission to have a sponsor for a University function. Johnson said he had hoped to get the parade on the television.

Blocks of tickets for the Spring Week Awards Night April 29 will go on sale at the Hetzel Union desk today. Only seats sold in blocks will be reserved.

Housing Area Closed to Cars

The west entrance to the East View Terrace community and the road from Pollock Circle South Halls area of the campus has been closed as a safety precaution.

Dr. Elwood F. Olver, director of the Department of Security, said construction on East Campus has resulted in bumper-to-bumper traffic through the streets of the area. Parked cars and through traffic have caused a safety hazard to children and adults living in the area.

Before the entrance was closed, attempts were made to control the problem with traffic signs, but they were futile.

Five Fires Give Alphas Busy Friday

Alpha firemen responded to five alarms Friday in one of their busiest days in a long time.

Between 1:30 p.m. Friday and shortly after midnight, the Alphas battled three grass fires and two Lemont house fires. The grass fires were at Circleville, Park Forest Village and at an area north of State College on Rt. 322. No damages resulted from these blazes.

A fire caused by hot grease at the Glenn J. Zong home in Lemont was extinguished at about 8:15 p.m. by the Alphas, who also administered first aid to Mrs. Zong after she suffered grease burns. Damage to the home was slight.

Shortly after midnight, the firemen were called to the Lemont home of George L. Donovan, coordinator of Student Activities, to extinguish a fire of unknown origin in the basement. Donovan cut his leg on broken window glass and was taken to Centre County Hospital and released. Damage to the home also was slight.

At about 5 p.m. Saturday the Alphas were called to Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity where a grease fire was burning. It started in a broiler where kitchen personnel were preparing steaks for supper. The kitchen was slightly damaged by flame and smoke, and the broiler was destroyed. There were no injuries.

Two Seniors Win HomeEc Awards

Elaine Bailey, senior in home economics from Geneva, and Alice Beebe, senior in home economics from Scranton, were presented the Edith Pitt Chase Awards at the annual luncheon of the Penn State Home Economics Alumni Association Saturday.

These $25 awards are given annually to two seniors in the College of Home Economics who have displayed outstanding qualities of citizenship and a strong professional interest in home economics.

The association presents the awards in honor of Edith Pitt Chase, now Mrs. William Flint, who was director of the Department of Home Economics from 1919 to 1937.

The scholarship committee of the College of Home Economics selects the students who receive the awards.

ADS Initiates 14 Members

Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity, initiated two professional advertising men and 12 undergraduates Sunday night.

Harris D. McKinney, head of an industrial advertising agency in Philadelphia, and Karl Hoffman, advertising manager of the Shamokin News-Dispatch, were initiated as professional members of the fraternity.

Speeches were given by Harry G. Chapman, of Harris D. McKinney, Inc., and Robert Leyburn, district representative for McGraw-Hill publications. Both are 1952 graduates of the University.

The 12 undergraduates initiated are: Warren Armstrong, James Joseph, Joseph DeVivo, Leonard Julius, Thomas Kloess, David Palmer, William Wassell, Harvey Witten, George McTurk, John Grosch, Gary Kosinski and Eugene Christ.

Cool Temperatures To Continue Today

Mostly cloudy and cool weather will continue today with temperatures rising to the 52 degree mark.

Tonight will be partly cloudy and cold with temperatures falling to rather chilly levels. The low will range from the middle 20's to 34 degrees.

Although tomorrow will see a continuation of the partly cloudy skies, the afternoon will be somewhat warmer as afternoon temperatures climb to 66 degrees.

Walker requested $43.9 million for the University's 1959-61 biennium operation but Lawrence cut the budget request to $34.2 million in his budget proposal. Last week Walker testified at the Senate Budget committee hearing and presented the University's case for additional money.

In 1957 Walker requested $34 million from Gov. George M. Leader but Leader cut the request to $27.2. The University received $29.7 from the legislature.

Summer Artists' Series Scheduled

For the first time, students attending Summer Sessions will be able to enjoy two Artists' Series performances as well as a full program of musical events.

The Artists' Series committee has scheduled the Robert Joffrey Theatre Ballet for June 17 and the Philadelphia Brass Ensemble for July 26.

Joffrey formed the dance company of 16 in the fall of 1956. Since then it has toured the country and received many enthusiastic reviews.

He has created ballets for the Jacobs Pillow Dance Festival, the American Ballet Theatre and Ballet Lambert, England's oldest company.

The brass ensemble is composed of the six first chairs of the Philadelphia Orchestra. Performing with the group are Mason Jones, horn; Seymour Rosenfeld, Samuel Krauss and Gilbert Johnson, trumpet; Henry Smith III, trombone and Abe Torchinsky, tuba.

If weather permits they will perform on the Hetzel Union lawn; if not, in the ballroom.

The Department of Music will sponsor 23 music events during July and August. Five concerts by the Claremont String Quartet, which will be spending six weeks in residency, will be given. The group will also give four lecture-recitals.

The ensemble's concerts are scheduled for July 7, 14, 19, 28 and Aug. 6. The lecture-recitals will be given on July 10, 17, 21 and 31.

Four student sings, led by Frank Gullo, associate professor of music, will be held on July 6, 13, 20 and 27. Gullo will also conduct the summer chorus in a concert on Aug. 3.

George E. Ceiga, associate professor of music, will present organ recitals on July 5 and Aug. 2. There will also be two band concerts under the direction of James W. Dunlop, professor of music education, on July 12 and 26.

Two more orchestra concerts,
