promise the entire student body that I shall work to my utmost to carry out the duties of my office."

Miltenberger said, "I would like to congratulate Len on his victory. I am sure that with the help of the Assembly and the student body he will work to build a better Penn State."

"I am very honored to be elected as SGA vice president for the coming year," Byers said. "I will endeavor to serve in the best interest of the entire student body and I will not violate the trust that the student body has placed in me." Smith made no statement.

Miss Clark said, "Thank you for the confidence you've placed in me. I'll do my very best to fulfill my responsibilities and help the new SGA fulfill all expectations."

"My most sincere congratulations to Nancy as the new SGA secretary-treasurer," Miss Parkin said. "I will certainly do all I can to help her in her new position and I know she'll do a fine job."

"I give my thanks to my supporters and my promise to the senior class that I will do all in my power to represent it as it should be represented," said Haller.

Minor said, "Although I was not elected I do feel that the student have selected someone who is well deserving of the position and will serve the students and the University to its utmost. I do wish to thank the University party for the nomination and the support I received."

Crosby said, "Happy to have emerged victorious after a hard campaign; I shall strive for the enactment of Campus party planks and work for a stronger student voice through a more representative student government."

Schneider said, "I would like to extend my congratulations to Jack. I'm sure that he will do a fine job representing the junior class. If at any time I can be of assistance to him, I will be more than happy to do so. I would also like to thank all those who worked with me in the campaign and ask them to support Jack in every possible way for the benefit of student government."

Neither party chairman made any charges or complaints about the election to All-University Elections Committee.

Art Exhibition in HUB To Continue to Monday

The exhibition entitled "Old Testament in Art" now on view in the Hetzel Union gallery is being held over until April 27.

It is being jointly sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation and the School of the Arts. The exhibition includes works of artists from the 16th century up to our own time, including Rembrandt, Blake, Chagill, Rattner and Shahn.

Cope to Retire From Forestry

H. Norton Cope, acting director of the School of Forestry, will retire on July 1, after 30 years with the University.

Cope, who also serves as acting head of the Department of Forest Management, has been named professor emeritus of forestry.

He joined the University faculty in 1929 when he was named instructor in forestry and resident director of the Pennsylvania State Forestry School at Mont Alto, which had become affiliated with the University in 1929.

He came here in 1943 when the war forced the closing of the Mont Alto school.

Cope is active in many professional, social and community activities.

His professional activities include senior membership in the Society of American Foresters, and membership in the American Forestry Association; Xi Sigma Pi, forestry honor society; and the American Association of University Professors.

Tynan Will Head Scrolls Hat Group

Dorothy Tynan, junior in psychology from Glenolden, has been elected president of Scrolls, senior women's hat society, for the 1959-60 academic year.

Other officers elected were Carol Cin, elementary education major from Allentown, vice president; Catherine Fleck, arts and letters major from Shenandoah, secretary; Margaret Hulse, psychology major from Greenwich, Conn., treasurer; and Patricia Frank, secondary education major from Homestead, historian.

Readers' Festival Will Close Today

Prose and drama readings will conclude the 11th Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Reading Festival today in the Hetzel Union assembly room.

Representatives from 13 colleges and universities are participating in the festival, which opened yesterday afternoon with the reading of poetry selections. Dr. Earl E. Fleischman of the City College of New York is acting as commentator on the reading interpretations.

The prose division will include selections from Ruis, Warner, Quintilian, Fitzgerald, Thurber, James, Joyce, Mansfield, and Morrow. Louis Bufalini, junior in arts and letters from Ambridge will be chairman for this division. John Timmis, senior in arts from Warren, will read "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," by James Thurber.

Selections from Houseman, O'Neil, Shakespeare, Osborn and Tennessee Williams will be featured in the drama session which opens at 1:15 p.m. Marvin Katz, junior in arts from Drexel Hill, is chairman for this division. The University has no participants.

Yesterday's schedule for the participants included the opening poetry section in which Ronald Shiban, sophomore in psychology from Coatesville read "This Is Man" by Thomas Wolfe; a banquet at which Dr. Fleischman spoke on "Love, Language, and Human Beings"; an evening session in which Derek Swire, senior in arts from Philadelphia, read "Long Day's Journey into Night" by Eugene O'Neill; and a coffee hour in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel lounge.

The festival is sponsored by the University Readers and the department of speech. Dr. William W. Hamilton, associate professor of speech, who has worked with Harriett D. Nesbitt in arranging the festival served as chairman of the opening program.

Penelope Snyder, senior in arts and letters from Smethport, was chairman for yesterday's evening session, and Margaret McPherson, sophomore in arts and letters from New Park, was mistress of ceremonies for the banquet. All of today's sessions will be held in the HUB assembly room and will be open to the public.
