

Lions' Davidson to Meet Lion Stickmen, Hold 4-1 Record

Bill Davidson, Lion captain and EIGA champion, will be out to break the mastery Orangeman star Warren Simmons holds over the Nittanies as the two teams square off at the Tecumseh golf course in Syracuse this afternoon.

Golf Coach Joe Boyle plans to start Davidson in the number one position against Simmons. In the last two years, Simmons has beaten his Penn State opponent—Pat Reilly—by a 4 and 2 and 4 and 3 scores. Two years ago, in the 1957 Easterns, playing the semi-final round Simmons beat Davidson by a 6 and 5 score.

However, Boyle seems to think that the two men will be evenly matched today. "Davidson has greatly improved since he and Simmons last met and the match should be the highlight of the day," Boyle said. Boyle will use Dick Burgoon in the number slot. He will probably meet Mike Dritz, second man on the Orange team. According to Boyle, Burgoon has finally reached the level of golf that he should be playing and should give the experienced Dritz a good battle.

The other two top spots in the link lineup will be taken up by Scott Stultz and Roy Altman. Stultz, a senior, has lost only one match in two years of Lion golf competition. This loss was a tough decision in the West Virginia match. Boyle considers Stultz a very fine competitor and a clutch player.

Altman is also considered a top golfer by Boyle. Last year he dropped only one match for a 9-1 record. "Roy is a very fine golf player and has come through very well for us," Boyle said.

Both of these men should face experienced Orangemen and will have a tough fight on their hands, according to Boyle.

The other three positions in the lineup will be taken by Haydn Thomas, John Morton and either Ed Kormos or Bob Rutherford. Thomas and Morton proved themselves last weekend when they won strong decisions over their opponents. Kormos has a 1-1 record for the year and Rutherford hasn't seen action this year.

Packers Trade End to Browns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Howton, veteran Green Bay Packers' end, went to the Cleveland Browns yesterday in a trade for defensive end Bill Quinlan and offensive halfback Lew Carpenter.

Coach Paul E. Brown of Cleveland and General Manager Vince Lombardi of Green Bay worked out the deal here following a 2-day special meeting of the National Football League owners.

The retirement of Pete Brewster after seven seasons with the Browns left the club hurting for an offensive end.

Howton, 28, and a veteran of seven seasons with Green Bay after college football at Rice Institute, has been an outstanding receiver. He has caught 303 passes for 5,581 yards and 43 touchdowns during his time with Green Bay.

Quinlan, who will be 27 in June, has been a regular defensive end for Cleveland for two years. Carpenter, 26, was acquired from the Detroit Lions in a trade two years ago for Roger Zatkoff.

Williams Works Out

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, had his first workout at Fenway Park yesterday since undergoing treatment for a pinched nerve in his shoulder and neck.

Having posted an impressive 4-1 record for the first half of the season, the Penn State lacrosse team will swing into the second half next Saturday afternoon when they meet a rugged Syracuse team on Beaver Field.

The Lions started off strong early in the season when they trounced Loyola, 14-3. John Behne almost tied Bill Hess' 9-goal scoring record for one game when he tallied eight goals in the Loyola tilt.

However, the stickmen's triumph was short lived, when a week later, the Middies of Navy came to Beaver Field and handed the Lions their worst defeat in Penn State lacrosse history, 29-3.

But four days later the Lions showed they hadn't given up when they stopped Penn, 9-4. However, the Lions still looked sloppy and had improved little since the Navy disaster.

Then on April 18 the Nittanies took on Hobart, a team that had beaten them last year, 8-6, in overtime. The Lions downed them, 11-3, but still weren't looking like the team that ripped Loyola.

The turning point finally came at Cornell Wednesday when the Baermen put on an eight goal rally in the second half that caught the Big Red completely off guard. The Lions came from three goals back to record a 10-6 victory over previously undefeated Cornell.

Coach Earnie Baer described the Cornell tilt as the best game all year and in his opinion one of the best games in his three years as lacrosse coach of Penn State.

One thing that pleased Baer in particular was that there was no piling up on plays as there had been in the Navy game.

Baer said that it had been this type of play that spelled the downfall of the Lions in the Navy game as players left their positions to rush after the ball, thus leaving the defense wide open for Navy to come in unopposed.

Three of the stickmen's toughest next few weeks. Syracuse will be the foe on May 2, with Maryland following four days later. The last game of the season with Rutgers should also prove to be a tough one for the Lions as the Scarlet Knights only lost to Navy by a 10-9 score and also topped the Lions in a pre-season box lacrosse game.

IT'S WHAT'S UP FRONT THAT COUNTS

The mystery is solved! Napoleon's famous gesture was just to reassure himself that he had plenty of cigarettes. His army may have traveled on its stomach, but the old boy himself wouldn't have been caught at Waterloo if he hadn't been checking the Belgian bistros for a spare carton of Winstons! There's a rare smoking treat that comes from Winston's famous Filter-Blend—which means a careful selection of fine, mild tobaccos specially processed for filter smoking. Try a pack real soon, and you'll agree that...

Winston tastes good—

like a cigarette should!
