

'Snagless' Spring Week Carnival Grosses $8000

By JEFF POLLACK

More than 44,000 tickets were sold for the Spring Week Carnival which went off without a snag Saturday—even the weatherman cooperated.

An estimated crowd of 12,000 which filled the midway from 7 to 12 p.m. bought the tickets for the student shows and the food concessions.

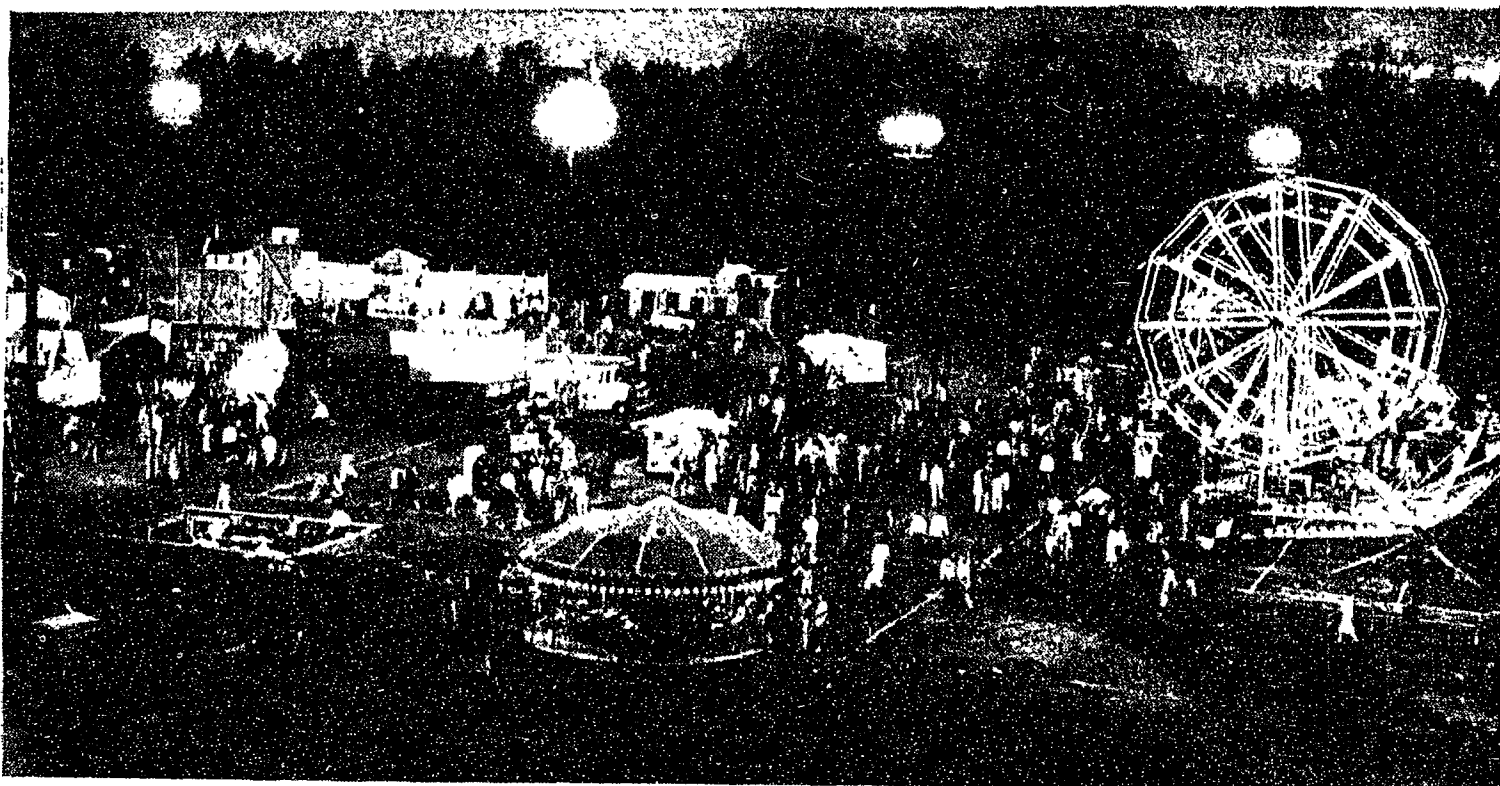

According to Gerald Carlson, business manager of the week, another $1600 was spent in cash for the food and $1800 was spent on the six amusement rides.

Carlson estimated the gross receipts for night would be $8000. He said the committee would receive 25 per cent of the money from the rides and the food. This came to about $875.

David Epstein, carnival chairman, said only one warning was issued all night. Delta Chi and Zeta Tau Alpha were ordered to rewrite their show before it could continue.

He said there was no other trouble with any of the shows. Epstein also said they had been "lucky" with the weather.

It started to drizzle around 11:20 p.m. but no damage to the (Continued on page seven)

Spikers Win 3 Titles At Penn Relays

By JOHN BLACK

The Penn State track and field aggregation returned from the Penn Relays as holders of one record, two relay championships and one individual championship — its best showing in a decade at Franklin Field track carnival.

Not since the Nittany 4-mile relay team captured top honors in 1949 have the Blue and White thinclads won any gold medals in the annual "relay championships of America" extravaganza. But they ended this famine Friday and Saturday when they won two blue ribbons.

The proteges of Coach Chick Werner annexed the distance medley and 4-mile relay crowns — the latter in record time — and field man Jim Schwab grabbed individual laurels in the collegiate javelin throw.

A strategy move which gave the Lions a good chance of capturing four team championships—a feat performed by only two colleges in 65 years—was foiled by a freak accident when Dick Hambright fell on the first leg of the sprint medley and Michigan nipped the Lions by six yards in the 2-mile.

The Lions made a bid for the sprint medley as well as the 2-mile relay title when Werner pulled Moran from the 2-mile crew and placed him in the anchor position on the sprint medley quartet.

This looked like a sound move on paper because the Nittany 2-mile foursome of Don Davies, Bill Schwab, Chick King and Dick Engelbrink had beaten Michigan by 10 yards in the 2-mile indoor relay at the Chicago Daily News Games on March 28.

And the presence of Moran in the sprint lineup forced the Franklin Field Ouija board operators to rework their calculations and install Penn State as a leading contender for this crown.

But Michigan spoiled half of this plan when the Wolverines' Tony Seth outran Engelbrink in a stirring anchor leg duel in the 2-mile race. Seth's time of 1:52.5 for the final half-mile was .9 of a second faster than Engelbrink's clocking (Continued on page ten)

Queens, He-Men To Vie Tonight

Athletics took the Spring Week spotlight Sunday with the preliminaries of the He-Man and Queen of Hearts contests.

Twenty-nine persons have qualified for the finals. Under this year's rules a winner in either contest qualifies his partner in the other contest.

Finals in both will be held at 6 tonight at Beaver Field. No plans have been announced in the event of rain.

First place qualifier in the Queen of Hearts contest was Julie Lloyd, Zeta Tau Alpha, with 40 points.

Miss Lloyd scored six points in the bowling event; 10 in the basketball foul shooting, hitting for 5 out of 12; and placed first in the 25-yard crawl and backstroke events for 24 points. Edward Obrist, Delta Chi, was qualified for the finals as Miss Lloyd's partner.

Other qualifiers in the Queen of Hearts contest, their sororities and partners were:

2. Judy Clancey, Kappa Alpha Theta; John Gander, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; 3. Shirley Pittman, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Richard Hinkel, Alpha Sigma Phi; 4.

Wendy Willett, Alpha Xi Delta; Richard Pae, Beta Theta Pi.

5. Nancy Hilfman, Alpha Epsilon Phi; Thomas Edwards, Delta Upsilon; 6. Ardie Phillips, Alpha Delta Pi; Robert Shaw, Acacia; and in a tie for seventh place, Sheila Fox, Cross Hall; Paul Bohn, Phi Kappa Tau; and Polly McMichael, Gamma Phi Beta; Kenneth Sink, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Norm Neff, Phi Kappa Psi, took first place in the preliminaries for the He-Man contest. No score was available for any of the qualifiers.

Neff qualified his partner Carol Seyschab, Alpha Phi.

Other qualifiers in the He-Man contest and their partners were:

2. Richard Anderson, Sigma Nu; Lois Piercy, Delta Gamma; 3. Richard Lucas, Phi Delta Theta; Sandy Kleeb, Delta Delta Delta; a tie for fourth place between Mark DuMars, Delta Sigma Phi; Shiela Stohl, Kappa Delta; and Richard Bartolazzi, Theta Chi; Marie Busch, MacAllister Hall; 6. Theodore Steinman, Zeta Beta Tau; no partner; 7. Russ Lurch, Theta Xi; Ina Hildebrand, Sigma Sigma Sigma; 8. Thomas Edwards who was also qualified by a partner in the Queen of Hearts finals.

SGA Assembly To Hear Budget

A greatly altered 1959-60 Student Government Association budget, reducing student government compensations by $335, will go before the Assembly for approval tonight.

The 20-year-old All-University Cabinet will relinquish its legislative powers with the installation of 20 newly-elected Assembly members and the Student Government Association officers at 8:30 p.m. in 203 Hetzel Union.

The proposed budget eliminates several positions from the list of compensations. These positions are: the four class presidents; Orientation Week chairman; Tribunal chairman and members; Junior Prom and Senior Ball chairmen and Spring Week publicity chairman. Compensations for these positions total $285.

Several reductions in the compensations remaining are included in next year's budget. The reductions are: Elections Committee chairman from $50 to $25; Public Relations Committee chairman from $25 to $20; and Traffic Court chairman from $70 to $35. Compensation for the editor of the Student Handbook was raised from $10 to $25. The Student Gov- (Continued on page seven)

Tickets For Bridges Talk Available

Distribution of student tickets for the lecture to be given by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.), will begin at 9:30 a.m. today at the Hetzel Union desk.

Bridges, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, will present the third program in the University Lecture Series at 8 p.m. Thursday in Schwab Auditorium.

Non-student tickets, priced at $1.25, also will go on sale today. All tickets will be honored until 10 minutes before the lecture starts, when unoccupied seats will be made available to the general public.

Following his graduation from the University of Maine, Bridges taught agriculture at Sanderson Academy, Ashfield, Mass., then worked with the state agriculture departments of Maine and New Hampshire.

In 1934, at the age of 36, he was elected governor of New Hampshire. He was the youngest governor in the country at the time. Two years later, he was elected to the U.S. Senate and he has been elected to the Senate ever since.

As a freshman Senator, Bridges spoke out against the threat of Fascism in Germany and Japan and later warned that Communism constituted a post-war threat. As a key member of the Senate Appropriations Committee he was responsible for secretly providing the funds required for development of the atomic bomb. At the beginning of the 84th Congress, Bridges was chosen chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Red China Names Shao-chi President

TOKYO (AP)—Liu Shao-chi, 61, a Moscow-trained theorist with a reputation for getting things done, became president of Red China yesterday.

In succeeding to one of Mao Tze-tung's old jobs for a four-year term, the tall, white-haired son of a peasant family strengthened his status as heir apparent to the Chinese Communist party leadership that Mao, 65, retains in the Peiping hierarchy. Peiping radio hailed Liu as "a leader second only to Mao Tze-tung."

Chou En-lai, premier for 10 years, retained his job.

Red China's Parliament, the National People's Congress, elected Liu to the presidency, which Mao relinquishes to concentrate on his duties as party head. There was no other candidate.

The 1157-member Parliament approved Liu's nomination by the party's high command for chairman—or president—of the government of China's 650 million people by a unanimous vote. Peiping radio described Parliament's applause as thunderous.

An indication that the high command itself had not been so singleminded in the nominating session earlier this month came from Peiping radio. Implying there was some opposition to elevation of Mao's coldly efficient aide, it said cryptically that Liu "had the support of a large segment of party members." There long has been speculation in the West that Chou and Liu are rivals for Mao's mantle.

Vice president Marshal Chu Teh, 72, a crony of Mao and former warlord of Yunnan province, who had been considered well in the running, was moved instead into Liu's old job as chairman of the Parliament's standing committee. In this post he will consult with Liu and Mao on matters of government policy.

Two new vice presidents were chosen to handle the work the old marshal had carried on alone.

They are Mme. Sun Yat-sen, 69, widow of the founder of republican China, and Tung Pi-wu, 73, an old friend of Mao who has been president of the Supreme People's Court.

Tung was replaced in the court presidency by Hsieh Chu-tsai, who has been interior minister and an alternate member of the Communist party Central Committee.

Chief prosecutor Chang Ting-cheng was re-elected.
