SLIDE, FEGLEY, SLIDE — Lion second sacker Larry Fegley slides safely into third base in first game of Saturday's doubleheader which Lions won, 9-0. The Lions also took the second tilt 17-3 to give them a 7-1 season's record.

One of Penn State's biggest problems was solved Saturday when Ron Riese won his first game of the year by hurling a 9-0 shutout of Georgetown in the first game of a Beaver Field twinbill.

In the second game, Tom Durbin notched his second win of the campaign, handing the Hoyas their ninth straight loss, 17-3. The game was called at the end of five innings because of darkness.

The Nittanians now have a 7-1 record and play at home tomorrow against Villanova. They also play Penn at home Saturday afternoon.

Although Durbin was impressive in gaining his second win, Riese's performance pleased the Lion coaches a little more. The little righthander, who was a 6-1 performer last year, had been shelled from the mound in his first two starts this season.

"Riese pitched a good game and I think he'll be alright from now on," Coach Joe Bedenk said.

Assistant coach Chuck Medlar, who handles the pitchers, was also pleased with Riese's performance. "Even though he wasn't as sharp as last year, he still pitched well, and I think he'll come along."

With Riese strong again, and Bedenk's three lefthanders—Ed Kikla, Bill Benton and Durbin—doing so well, the Lions appear to have a solid "big four" for the remainder of the season.

Not only did Durbin win his second game of the year, but he went 3 for 3 again, giving him six hits in as many at bats this season. He shared batting honors with shortstop Bob Hoover who went 3 for 3 in the first game. Hoover had three singles in that one, but went hitless in three trips in the second game.

Larry Fegley, who went into the game hitting .400, also went 3 for 6 and collected four more RBIs. He now leads the team in both batting (.419) and RBIs (14).

The Lions wrapped up the first game early when they scored one run in the second, three in the fourth and four more in the fifth. They tallied another in the sixth just for insurance.

Riese was in control all the way, scattering six hits. He gave up only two walks and struck out 11.

In the second game, things started out little different as Georgetown jumped on Durbin for a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

But the Lions retaliated quickly scoring one in the first and three more in the second as the Hoya defense fell apart. Catcher John Adams, who later boomed a triple, led off the second with a single and went to second on Larry Beighey's sacrifice. Durbin's single scored Adams.

Dick Landis walked and Mike Hader singled, sending Durbin home. Larry Fegley stepped in and smashed a double to left, scoring Hader and Landis, and the Lions were in the lead for good.

But apparently the Lions were not satisfied as they scored six more runs in the third and seven

NEW YORK (AP)—Is this the beginning of the end for Stan Musial?

His performance in his first 14 games this season seems to indicate it. While his St. Louis Cardinals are floundering in the National League race, Musial, 38, is floundering at the plate.

The 7-time batting champion, who has a lifetime major league average of .340 for 16 seasons, has collected only 11 hits in 49 tries for a .224 mark. A year ago, after hitting safely in his first 14 games, Musial was hitting .509 with 29 hits in 57 times at bat.

Musial has had only two extra bases, both doubles, this season and he has batted in five runs. The only distinguishing features of his performance were base hits that thwarted no-hit pitching efforts by Jack Sanford of San Francisco and Glen Hobbie of the Chicago Cubs.

Musial is not the only top-flight player off to a slow start this spring. Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia, the National League's defending batting titleholder, is hitting .196 after 12 games. Ashburn showed a .381 percentage in his first 12 games in 1958. He finished up with .350. Micky Mantle of the New York Yankees has a .255 mark for 13 games.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee is making the most outstanding showing among the big league batsmen. Through Sunday's games, he led the National League with .500 on 26 hits in 52 attempts. Billy Bruton, also of the Braves, was second with .385 followed by Felipe Alou of San Francisco, .377.

IM Tennis Doubles Open; 2 Pairs Take Double Wins

There will be plenty of competition in this year's intramural tennis doubles play, since both the fraternity and independent champs will not be back to defend their titles.

The fraternity duo of George and Dan Gray of Beta Theta Pi has been split up by graduation and the runnerup Art Moyer, who won last year with Conrad Schwartz, has graduated.

Bob Berish and Dave See, the independent champs, will not defend their title either.

Bill Mikese, a runner-up in last year's indie tournament, will be playing in the fraternity league for Alpha Tau Omega.

In action to date, Rich Haber and Tom Brandeis of Beta Sigma Rho got off to a quick start as they defeated Bill Parker and Bob Snyder of Phi Gamma Delta, 8-6; 6-1, and then beat Fuz Tabor and Jim Strothman of Kappa Delta Rho, 6-1, 6-1.

Other pairs that registered wins in flight one action were: Nestel-rode-Lapitsky of Sigma Pi, Erickson-Reid of Lambda Chi Alpha, Mathews-Yost of Kappa Sigma and Tselepis-Hagel of Theta Delta Chi.

Two duos jumped off to fast starts in flight two fraternity action. Gene Grumer and Bob Berenson of Alpha Epsilon Pi beat Dave Stevens and Larry Spencer of Alpha Gamma Rho and then defeated the Johnson-McConnoughy duo from Theta Chi.

Al Freeman and Dave Martinez of Phi Kappa Psi defeated Bill Doak and Ron Novak of Theta Xi, and Rich Hammond and John Chotta of Delta Upsilon. Other winners in flight two were: Fitzpatrick-Richardson of Phi Delta Theta, Savadove-Margolis of Zeta Beta Tau and Greenberg-Kamis of Phi Epsilon Pi.

Combinations that recorded wins in independent league action were: Rivers-Schlegel, Robertson-Bart, Waldo-Truesdale, Zoppetti-Horwath, Johnston-Lewis and Knorr-Manetti.
